Keywords: R&D; Technology transfer; ADF unit root test; Co-integration analysis; Granger causality test

Abstract. Based on the data of large and medium-sized industrial enterprises put forward by National Bureau of Statistics of China, over the period 1991-2007, this paper empirically investigates the dynamic econometrical relationship among R&D, technology transfer, including imports of technology and purchase of domestic technology and innovation performance which is denoted by new product sales, using ADF unit root test, co-integration analysis and granger causality test. The empirical research results indicate that innovation performance is granger causing R&D and technology transfer, while R&D and technology transfer are not granger causing innovation performance. Neither the feedback effect between R&D and innovation performance nor that between technology transfer and innovation performance is occurring.

Introduction

Ample theories and practices provide the evidence that R&D is notable positive factor during the innovation activities (Rosenberg, 1990)[1]. With the establishment of formal R&D operations, many enterprise are making the transition from imitation to innovation, including the creation of patentable knowledge (Kim, 1997)[2]. With the rapid development of economic globalization, as far as enterprises be concerned, technology transfer has promoted the productivity as well (Katrak, 1990)[3]. It is essential for the enterprises to accomplish advanced technology transfer, some countries, such as Japan, Korea, fulfilled technology transition through the successful technology transfer and technology learning, and they have set up the excellent examples for China. In addition, it is noted that in the course of technology transfer, governments and enterprises will not lose independent knowledge property and core technology information until they pay enough attentions to strengthening the technology learning and R&D capability. Based on the current comprehensive economic strength and industrial technology foundation, China has made an important development strategy whose essence is strengthening the innovation capacity for indigenous enterprises and striving to be an innovation-oriented country. At present, as for the practice for technology strategy in China, does R&D take the first place for promoting the innovation performance? Does technology transfer take the second place for increasing the innovation performance? Do the relationships among R&D, technology transfer and innovation performance come into being the feedback effect? It is essential for Chinese governments and enterprises to answer these questions above in order to understand the meanings of the current Chinese economic policy and select the appropriate innovation paths.

In the studies abroad related technology transfer, according to the differences of technology channel sources, technology transfer is divided into two components, the first of which is imports of technology, and the second of which is purchase of domestic technology. A large number of empirical research results confirms that technology transfer has positively effects on the innovation performance. In recent years, some scholars put forward some issues that the developing countries and the indigenous enterprises will decrease the demand of independent innovation and weaken the incentives for independent innovation if they only pay attention to technology transfer, and the typical phenomenon is that imports of technology piles out R&D input. Instead of simply analyzing whether technology transfer spillovers exist, this paper goes a step further by examining empirically the

Innovation Wen Xiao, Jiadong Pan, Gaobang Lin, 2020-09-17 China has attracted a huge amount of investment in R D internationalization of multi national corporations MNCs which is playing an important role in its economy Constrained by natural resources China has to attach more importance to technological progress and indigenous innovation in order to move beyond the old economic growth model Technology seems inaccessible to outsiders which prevents others from doing research in a comprehensive and systematic manner In this book technology is regarded as a factor of production that is allocated by MNCs across the world to maximize profits Such rational economic behavior serves as our entry point to enhance existing theoretical achievements on R D internationalization

Multinational Corporate Evolution and Subsidiary Development Julian Birkinshaw, 2016-07-27 This book is one of the first to specifically address the subsidiary development process a phenomenon by which multinational company subsidiaries enhance their resources and capabilities It shows how this process is integral to multinational corporate evolution which is largely driven by changes in subsidiaries and their development It also illustrates how the recent trend towards greater international dispersal of value adding activities has impacted on this process and on multinational evolution as a whole

The Role of Multinational Companies in the Middle East Mamarinta P. Mababaya, 2002 This study investigated whether known economic and international business theories available in the literature are meaningful enough to explain the nature existence and role of multinational companies MNCs in the Middle East particularly Saudi Arabia Two sets of questionnaires were distributed in major cities of Saudi Arabia one set for 100 multinational managers and another for 280 multinational customers 234 questionnaires were collected 45 from multinational managers and 189 from customers This represents a total response rate of 62 percent which is adequate for this study The empirical results supported with comprehensive secondary data confirmed virtually all of the research hypotheses The study found that joint ventures are the dominant form of multinational business in Saudi Arabia both in manufacturing and service industries The core roles of MNCs in the Saudi foreign ventures are evident in the cross border value adding activities of marketing trading manufacturing consulting contracting project management insurance hotel operation and banking Likewise MNCs provide licensing franchising financing services and various auxiliary roles in the Kingdom Therefore the multinationality of a firm or a group of firms operating across national boundaries is not necessarily synonymous with international production the main subject of contemporary multinational theories The respondents generally perceived the competitiveness of MNCs operating in Saudi Arabia as a function of a number of economic management marketing technological and other variables They also perceived the contributions of MNCs to the Kingdom s socio economic developments as significant and positive The study also found that understanding Islamic values and ethics is important for MNCs In this regard the researcher looked at some objective indicators of business success and related them to selected measures of MNCs local cultural awareness and responsiveness The results indicate that the business success of multinationals operating in Saudi Arabia is positively related to their local cultural awareness and responsiveness Along this line this study covers some vital elements of Islamic culture which will help MNCs understand further the cultural needs values and sensitivities of the Saudi people and Muslims in general

Sagafi-Nejad, Richard W. Moxon, Howard V. Perlmutter, 2013-10-22 Controlling International Technology Transfer Issues Perspectives and Policy Implications discusses topics that concern technology transfer control. The book assesses related issues and perspectives as well as examines alternative policy imperatives from different perspectives. The text is comprised of 15 chapters which are organized into three parts. The first part contains Chapters 1 to 8 that tackle the underlying issues of technology transfer control such as alternative channel and modes, the impact of new control systems, pricing, taxation and business practices. The second part contains Chapters 9 to 14 which cover topics concerning policy perspectives and implication such as control incentives, technology importing, exporting and control systems. The last part contains Chapter 15 which provides a closing discussion regarding actors, issues and alternatives. This book will be of great interest to readers who are concerned with the technology transfer systems.

Handbook of Research on Decision-Making Techniques in Financial Marketing Dinçer, Hasan, Yüksel, Serhat, 2019-12-27 Consumer needs and demands are constantly changing. Because of this, marketing science and finance have their own concepts and theoretical backgrounds for evaluating consumer related challenges. However, examining the function of finance with a marketing discipline can help to better understand internal management processes and compete in today's market. The Handbook of Research on Decision Making Techniques in Financial Marketing is a collection of innovative research that integrates financial and marketing functions to make better sense of the workplace environment and business related challenges. Different financial challenges are taken into consideration while many of them are based on marketing theories such as agency theory, product life cycle and optimal consumer experience. While highlighting topics including behavioral financing, corporate ethics and Islamic banking, this book is ideally designed for financiers, marketers, financial analysts, marketing strategists, researchers, policymakers, government officials, academicians, students and industry professionals.

Multinational Enterprises and the Global Economy John H. Dunning, Sarianna M. Lundan, 2008-01-01 For many years to come, this volume is surely going to be the ultimate reference work on international business thanks to Dunning and Lundan. They have at their disposal a wealth of relevant data as well as theoretical and empirical analyses which will enable them to assess the capabilities, contributions and challenges posed by the multinational enterprises to the global economy. Seev Hirsch, International Business Review. Multinational Enterprises and the Global Economy has become a classic in international business. Yet the book's second edition is even better than the first in part because of Professor Dunning's wise decision to choose Dr. Lundan as his co-author and to draw upon her deep knowledge of various strands of research on business government relations and the societal effects of firm behaviour. In addition to being a remarkably useful reference book, Multinational Enterprises and the Global Economy is the first book any IB doctoral student should read to understand the significance and richness of IB scholarship as it has developed over the past 50 years. Alain Verbeke, Journal of International

Business Studies The second edition of Multinational Enterprises and the Global Economy provides unparalleled coverage not only of the literature relevant to IB research but also of the evolution of IB in the world economy Dunning and Lundan offer powerful insights into the societal effects of MNEs and the role of business government relations in the IB context

Journal of International Business Studies This wonderful book offers the definitive synthesis of the modern literature on the economic aspects of international business It is encyclopedic yet full of incisive insights It is a creative masterpiece which unbundles the DNA of the multinational enterprise and shows how it is the cornerstone of the field of international business

Alan M Rugman University of Reading UK The rise of the multinational enterprise and the consequent globalisation of the world economy was arguably the single most important phenomenon of the second half of the twentieth century This magisterial book written by two leading authorities examines this phenomenon in depth It explains how foreign investment by multinationals diffused advanced technologies and novel management methods driving productivity growth in Europe Asia and North America however economic inequalities were reinforced as rich countries attracted more foreign investment than poor ones This new edition of a classic work is not only an authoritative guide to contemporary multinational business but a major historical resource for the future

Mark Casson University of Reading UK This thoroughly updated and revised edition of a widely acclaimed classic text will be required reading for academics policymakers and advanced students of international business worldwide Employing a distinctive and unified framework this book draws together research across a range of academic fields to offer a synthesis of the determinants of MNE activity and its effects on the economic and social well being of developed and developing countries Unique to the new edition is its focus on the institutional underpinnings of the resources and capabilities of MNEs and the role of MNE activity in transmitting and facilitating institutional change

Since the initial publication of this book more than a decade ago the economic managerial and social implications of globalisation and technological advancement have become even more varied and prominent Accompanying these developments there has been a rise in scholarly interest in interdisciplinary research addressing the important challenges of an ever changing physical and human environment Drawing on articles and books from international business and economics as well as economic geography political economy and strategic management a systematic overview of the developments in scholarly thinking is prese
