Rethinking Race Michael O. Hardimon,2017-06-12 Many scholars and activists seek to eliminate race the word and the concept from our vocabulary Their claim is clear because science has shown that racial essentialism is false and because the idea of race has proved virulent we should do away with the concept entirely Michael O Hardimon criticizes this line of thinking arguing that we must recognize the real ways in which race exists in order to revise our understanding of its significance Rethinking Race provides a novel answer to the question What is race Pernicious traditional racialism maintains that people can be judged and ranked according to innate racial features Hardimon points out that those who would eliminate race make the mistake of associating the word only with this view He agrees that this concept should be jettisoned but draws a distinction with three alternative ideas first a stripped down version of the ordinary concept of race that recognizes minimal physical differences between races but does not consider them significant second a scientific understanding of populations with shared lines of descent and third an acknowledgment of social race as a separate construction Hardimon provides a language for understanding the ways in which races do and do not exist His account is realistic in recognizing the physical features of races as well as the existence of races in our social world But it is deflationary in rejecting the concept of hierarchical or defining racial characteristics Ultimately Rethinking Race offers a philosophical basis for repudiating racism without blinding ourselves to reality Motorcycle Illustrated ,1921 Race and Racialization Tania Das Gupta,2007 This provocative volume will influence the way people think of race and racialization It provides a thorough examination of these complex and intriguing subjects with historical comparative and international contributions Edited as a theoretically strong cohesive whole this book unites a remarkable ensemble of academic thinkers and writers from a diversity of backgrounds Themes of ethnocentrism cultural genocide conquest and colonization disease and pandemics slavery and the social construction of racism run throughout Race, Gender, And Supremacy William Sweet,Mark Spencer,2003-06-15 No Marketing Blurb Arguing about Science Alexander Bird,James Ladyman,2013 Arguing About Science is an outstanding engaging introduction to the essential topics in philosophy of science edited by two leading experts in the field This exciting and innovative anthology contains a selection of classic and contemporary readings that examine a broad range of issues from classic problems such as scientific reasoning causation and scientific realism to more recent topics such as science and race forensic science and the scientific status of medicine The editors bring together some of the most influential contributions of famous philosophers in the field including John Stuart Mill and Karl Popper as well as more recent extracts from philosophers and scientists such as Ian Hacking Stephen Jay Gould Bas van Fraassen Nancy Cartwright and John Worrall The anthology is organised into nine clear sections science non science and pseudo science race gender and science scientific reasoning scientific explanation laws and causation science and medicine probability and forensic science risk uncertainty and science policy scientific realism and anti realism The articles chosen are clear interesting and free from unnecessary jargon The editors provide lucid introductions to each section in which they provide an overview of the debate as well as suggestions for further reading The Racing Calendar ,1885 How Real Is Race? Carol C. Mukhopadhyay,Rosemary Henze,Yolanda T. Moses,2013-12-11 How real is race What is biological fact what is fiction and where does culture enter What do we mean by a colorblind or postracial society or when we say that race is a social construction If race is an invention can we eliminate it This book now in its second edition employs an activity oriented approach to address these questions and engage readers in unraveling and rethinking the contradictory messages we so often hear about race The authors systematically cover the myth of race as biology and the reality of race as a cultural invention drawing on biocultural and cross cultural perspectives They then extend the discussion to hot button issues that arise in tandem with the concept of race such as educational inequalities slurs and racialized labels and interracial relationships In so doing they shed light on the intricate dynamic interplay among race culture and biology For an online supplement to How Real Is Race Second Edition click here
