Race Relations In South Africa:

What Racists Believe Gerhard Schutte, 1995 In many democratic societies racial inequality persists despite its legal abolition At the point of entering a democratic era South Africa is dismantling its legally structured system of inequality However the structures of consciousness that gave rise to and nurtured a system of white privilege and predominance are tenacious and enduring In What Racists Believe Gerhard Schutte examines a wide spectrum of evidence showing how the in group consciousness of whites is reproduced and illustrating the processes under which it is maintained He explains how and why people believe in racial inequality and how they transmit these beliefs to others The ideology of white solidarity its perpetuation and its breakdown is also analyzed In the author s analysis he separates different strands of racism rural from urban and moderate from militant A final chapter compares racial attitudes in contemporary America and South America Students scholars and anyone interested in race relations sociology anthropology political science and African studies will surely appreciate the fascinating study found in What Racists Believe A Survey of Race Relations in South Africa South African Institute of Race Relations, 1973 A Survey of Race Relations in South Africa 1972 Muriel Horrell, Dudley Horner, John Kane-Berman, Robin Margo, 2023-11-10 This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1973 Race Relations in South Africa, 1929-1979 Ellen Hellmann, 1979-01-01 The Problems of Race Relations in South Africa John Edward Holloway, 1959 A Survey of Race Relations in South Africa , 1984 A Survey of Race Relations in South Africa, 1951-1952 Muriel Horrell, 1959 U.S. Relations With South Africa Y. G-m. Lulat, 2019-05-30 Relations between the United States and South Africa or the parts of the world these nations now occupy go nearly as far back as the very beginning of their inception as permanent European colonial intrusions This book is a critical overview of these relations from the late seventeenth century to the present Unprecedented in its scope and s Black Consciousness in South Africa Robert Fatton, 1986-01-15 Black Consciousness in South Africa provides a new perspective on black politics in South Africa It demonstrates and assesses critically the radical character and aspirations of African resistance to white minority rule Robert Fatton analyzes the development and radicalization of South Africa s Black Consciousness Movement from its inception in the late 1960s to its banning in 1977 He rejects the widely accepted interpretation of the Black Consciousness Movement as an exclusively cultural and racial expression of African resistance to racism Instead Fatton argues that over the course of its existence the Movement developed a revolutionary ideology capable of challenging the cultural and political hegemony of apartheid The Black Consciousness Movement came to be a synthesis of class awareness and black cultural assertiveness It represented the ethico political weapon of an oppressed class struggling to reaffirm its humanity through active participation

Bones and Bodies Alan G Morris, 2022-01-15 Alan G Morris critically examines the history of evolutionary anthropology in South Africa uncovering the often racist philosophical motivations of these physical anthropology researchers and the discipline itself South Africa is famed for its contribution to the study of human evolution In Bones and Bodies Alan G Morris takes us back over the past century of anthropological discovery in South Africa and uncovers the stories of the individual scientists and how they contributed to our knowledge of the peoples of southern Africa both ancient and modern Not all of this history is one which we should feel comfortable with as much of the earlier anthropological studies have been tainted with the tarred brush of race science Morris critically examines the work of Raymond Dart Thomas Dreyer Matthew Drennan and Robert Broom who all described their fossil discoveries with the mirror of racist interpretation as well as the life and times in which they worked Morris also considers how modern anthropology tried to rid itself of the stigma of these early racist accounts In the 1960s and 1970s Ronald Singer and Phillip Tobias introduced modern methods into the discipline that jettisoned much of what the public wished to believe about race and human evolution Modern methods in physical anthropology rely on sophisticated mathematics and molecular genetics but are difficult to translate and sometimes fail to challenge preconceived assumptions In an age where the authority of the expert and empirical science is questioned this book shows the battle facing modern anthropology in how to explain science in a context that seems to be at odds with life experience In this highly accessible insider account Morris examines the philosophical motivations of these researchers and the discipline itself Much of the material draws on old correspondence and interviews as well as from published resources

The New Black Middle Class in South Africa Roger Southall, 2016 Provides the most comprehensive account since the early 1960s of South Africa's black middle class 2016 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title The rise of the black middle class is one of the most visible aspects of post apartheid society in South Africa Yet while it has been a major actor in the country's democratic reshaping analysis of its role has been all but lacking Rather the image presented by the media has been of black diamonds consumers of the products of advanced industrial economies and of corrupt tenderpreneurs who use their political connections to obtain contracts This book seeks to complicate that picture with a much needed analysis that recounts its historical development in colonial society prior to 1994 before examining the size shape and structure of the new black middle class in contemporary South Africa and its relation to its counterparts in the Global South Roger Southall is Professor Emeritus in Sociology University of the Witwatersrand Southern Africa South Africa Namibia Botswana Lesotho Zimbabwe and Swaziland Jacana
