Race A Christian Symposium:

Race, 1986 Race, a Christian symposium Clifford Stanley Hill, 1968 Rescripting Religion in the City Alana Harris, 2016-04-22 Rescripting Religion in the City explores the role of faith and religious practices as strategies for understanding and negotiating the migratory experience Leading international scholars draw on case studies of urban settings in the global north and south Presenting a nuanced understanding of the religious identities of migrants within the modern metropolis this book makes a significant contribution to fields as diverse as twentieth century immigration history the sociology of religion and migration studies as well as historical and urban geography and practical theology

Reluctant Race Men Joan L. Bryant, 2024-02-13 Activists in the earliest Black antebellum reform endeavors contested and deprecated the concept of race Attacks on the logic and ethics of dividing grouping and ranking humans into races became commonplace facets of activism in anti colonization and emigration campaigns suffrage and civil rights initiatives moral reform projects abolitionist struggles independent church development and confrontations with scientific thought on human origins Denunciations persisted even as later generations of reformers felt compelled by theories of progress and American custom to promote race as a basis of a Black collective consciousness Reluctant Race Men traces a history of the disparate challenges Black American reformers lodged against race across the long nineteenth century It factors their opposition into the nation s history of race and reconstructs a reform tradition largely ignored in accounts of Black activism Black controlled newspapers societies churches and conventions provided the principal loci and resources for questioning race In these contexts people of African descent generated a lexicon for refuting race debated its logic and ultimately reinterpreted it Reformers challenges call into question the notion that race is a self evident site of identity among Black people Their ideas instead spotlight legal political religious social and scientific practices that configured human difference sameness hierarchy and consciousness They show how a diverse set of actions constituted multi faceted American phenomena dubbed race

Christianity and the African Imagination David Maxwell, Ingrid Lawrie, 2022-08-08 During the twentieth century Christendom shifted its centre of gravity to the Southern Hemisphere Africa becoming the most significant area of church growth This volume explores Christianity s advance across the continent and its capturing of the African imagination From the medieval Catholic Kingdom of Kongo to a transnational Pentecostal movement in post colonial Zimbabwe the chapters explore how African agents priests and prophets martyrs and missionaries evangelists and catechists have seized Christianity and made it theirs Emphasizing popular religion the book shows how the Christian ideas and texts practices and symbols which have been adapted by Africans help them accept existential passions and empower them through faith to deal with material concerns for health and wealth and to overcome evil The Background of Immigrant Children Ivor Morrish, 2021-11-29 First published in 1971 The Background of Immigrant Children offers a deeper understanding of the diversity and richness of the customs cultures and religious convictions of the minority groups in a multiracial society Ivor Morrish argues that in order to go beyond the mere tolerance of the other groups it is becoming one of the important functions of the teacher to assist in the development of social awareness in his pupils and this must include a sympathetic involvement in the cultural ideas and outlook of groups from all over the world This book is an attempt to introduce the teacher in training to three of the main coloured immigrant groups in Britain West Indians Indians and Pakistanis and to some of the problems that culture contact poses This book will be a useful resource for scholars and researchers of education multiculturalism sociology and social anthropology

The Making of the Black Working Class in Britain Ron Ramdin, 2017-08-22 A classic history of the role of Black working class struggles throughout the twentieth century In this pioneering history Ron Ramdin traces the roots of Britain's disadvantaged black working class From the development of a small black presence in the sixteenth century through the colonial labour institutions of slavery indentureship and trade unionism Ramdin expertly guides us through the stages of creation for a UK minority whose origins are often overlooked He examines the emergence of a black radical ideology underpinning twentieth century struggles against unemployment racial attacks and workplace inequality and delves into the murky realms of employer and trade union racism First published in 1987 this revised edition includes a new introduction reflecting on events over the past four decades

Evangelicalism and Dissent in Modern England and Wales David Bebbington, David Ceri Jones, 2020-09-07 This book treads new ground by bringing the Evangelical and Dissenting movements within Christianity into close engagement with one another While Evangelicalism and Dissent both have well established historiographies there are few books that specifically explore the relationship between the two Thus this complex relationship is often overlooked and underemphasised The volume is organised chronologically covering the period from the late seventeenth century to the closing decades of the twentieth century Some chapters deal with specific centuries but others chart developments across the whole period covered by the book Chapters are balanced between those that concentrate on an individual such as George Whitefield or John Stott and those that focus on particular denominational groups like Wesleyan Methodism Congregationalism or the Black Majority Churches The result is a new insight into the cross pollination of these movements that will help the reader to understand modern Christianity in England and Wales more fully Offering a fresh look at the development of Evangelicalism and Dissent this volume will be of keen interest to any scholar of Religious Studies Church History Theology or modern Britain

Wadsworth, 2012 Drawing on scholarship from an array of disciplines this volume provides a deep and timely look at the intertwining of race and religion in American politics The contributors apply the methods of intersectionality but where this approach has typically considered race class and gender the essays collected here focus on religion too to offer a theoretically robust conceptualization of how these elements intersect and how they are actively impacting the political process Contributors Antony W Alumkal Iliff School of Theology Carlos Figueroa University of Texas at Brownsville Robert D Francis Lutheran Services in America Susan M Gordon independent scholar Edwin I Hernandez DeVos Family Foundations Robin Dale Jacobson University of Puget Sound Robert P Jones Public Religion Research Institute Jonathan I Leib Old Dominion University Jessica Hamar Martinez University of Arizona Eric Michael Mazur Virginia Wesleyan College Sangay Mishra University of Southern California Catherine Paden Simmons College Milagros Peña University of Florida Tobin Miller Shearer University of Montana Nancy D Wadsworth University of Denver Gerald R Webster University of Wyoming

Mission, Science, and Race in South Africa Keith Snedegar, 2015-09-17 This is a biographical study of Alexander William Roberts a Free Church of Scotland missionary educator who in 1883 was posted to the Lovedale Institution at Alice South Africa Inspired by the night sky of the southern hemisphere Roberts became a leading observer of variable stars and an early contributor to the theory of close interacting binary stars He actively promoted the development of colonial scientific culture and was elected president of the South African Association for the Advancement of Science in 1913 His teaching career at Lovedale fostered a commitment to the interests of his African students and their communities In 1920 Roberts was appointed to the South African senate to represent native Africans he also served as senior member of the Native Affairs Commission Despite his liberal instincts he acquiesced to the movement toward racial segregation as advanced in the Natives Urban Areas and Native Administration Acts Roberts nonetheless militated against the erosion of the Cape non racial franchise rights he resigned from the Native Affairs Commission just as the all white parliament was poised to remove Africans from the common voters roll His engagement with the politics of race interfered with Roberts's astronomical research Although he published nearly one hundred papers in scientific journals most of his observational data remained unknown until the Boyden Observatory's Roberts archive was digitized in 2006 His influence as a mission educator also has been little known although among his pupils were journalist and academic D D T Jabavu the physician James Moroka and Swazi king Sobhuza II Race and Displacement Maha Marouan, Merinda Simmons, 2013-09-30 Race and Displacement captures a timely set of discussions about the roles of race in displacement forced migrations nation and nationhood and the way continuous movements of people challenge fixed racial definitions The multifaceted approach of the essays in Race and

Displacement allows for nuanced discussions of race and displacement in expansive ways exploring those issues in transnational and global terms. The contributors not only raise questions about race and displacement as signifying tropes and lived experiences; they also offer compelling approaches to conversations about race, displacement, and migration both inside and outside the academy. Taken together, these essays become a case study in dialogues across disciplines, providing insight from scholars in diaspora studies, postcolonial studies, literary theory, race theory, gender studies, and migration studies. The contributors to this volume use a variety of analytical and disciplinary methodologies to track multiple articulations of how race is encountered and defined. The book is divided by editors Maha Marouan and Merinda Simmons into four sections. Race and Nation considers the relationships between race and corporality in transnational histories of migration using literary and oral narratives. Essays in Race and Place explore the ways spatial mobility in the twentieth century influences and transforms notions of racial and cultural identity. Essays in Race and Nationality address race and its configuration in national policy, such as racial labeling, federal regulations, and immigration law. In the last section, Race and the Imagination, contributors explore the role imaginative projections play in shaping understandings of race. Together, these essays tackle the question of how we might productively engage race and place in new sociopolitical contexts. Tracing the roles of race from the corporeal and material to the imaginative, the essays chart new ways that concepts of origin, region, migration, displacement, and diasporic memory create understandings of race in literature, social performance, and national policy.
