The King Country: Explorations in New Zealand A Narrative of 600 Miles of Travel Through Maoriland James Henry Kerry-Nicholls, 2020-09-28 IN publishing this record of travel I have deemed it advisable to arrange my narrative under four principal divisions In the introductory portion I refer to the leading physical features of that part of the North Island of New Zealand known as the King Country relate the leading incidents connected with its history describe the condition of the native race and explain the object with which my journey was undertaken The succeeding chapters deal with my visit to the Maori King when presenting my credentials from Sir George Grey at the tribal gathering held at Whatiwhatihoe in October 1882 The description of the Lake Country includes my route from Tauranga on the East Coast to Wairakei and which led me through the marvellously interesting region familiarly termed the Wonderland of New Zealand while in the pages embracing my explorations in the King Country I record events as they occurred from day to day over a lengthy journey which was delightful on account of its novelty and variety and exciting by reason of the difficulties both as regards natural obstacles inseparable from the exploration of an unknown region under the unfavourable conditions by which I was constrained to carry it out and the deep rooted jealousy of the native race against the intrusion of Europeans into a portion of the island which is considered by them to be exclusively Maori territory When it is considered that in company only with my interpreter and with but three horses ultimately reduced to two and with what scant provisions we could carry I accomplished considerably over 600 miles of travel discovered many new rivers and streams penetrated almost inaccessible regions of mountainous forest found extensive areas of open plains suitable for European settlement traced the sources of three of the principal rivers of the colony examined the unknown shores of its largest lake ascended one of the highest mountains of the southern hemisphere experienced degrees of temperature varying from 80 in the shade to 12 below freezing point and successfully traversed from South to North through its entire length a territory with an area of 10 000 square miles and which had been from the early history of the colony rigorously closed to Europeans by the hostility of the native tribes it may be readily seen that the explorations by their varied nature disclose many important facts hitherto unknown concerning a vast and beautiful portion of New Zealand and while they cannot fail to prove of practical utility to the colony they will I venture to think be a welcome addition to geographical science The map appended to this work may be said to form the most complete chart of the interior of the North Island as yet published Up to the present time the extensive territory embraced by the King Country has owing to the obstruction of the natives never been surveyed and consequently many of its remarkable physical features have remained unknown the existing maps of this part of the colony being mere outlines As therefore considerably more than half of the country traversed was through a region which was to all intents and purposes a terra incognita from the commencement of my journey I adopted a system of barometrical measurements and topographical observations and thus secured a supply of valuable material which I mapped out from day to day while the names of mountains rivers valleys and lakes were obtained from the natives by the skilful assistance of my interpreter who was at all times unceasing in his endeavours to carry out this part of the work with accuracy

Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand Angela McCarthy, 2022-08-31 This book explores the question of whether the conceptualisation of New Zealand as a welcoming nation is accurate Examining historical and contemporary narratives of migrant and refugee discrimination it considers the economic social political cultural and historical contexts from which discrimination emerges and its repercussions Alert to race and ethnicity gender age class religion and inter ethnic migrant conflict this volume traverses an array of discriminatory practices including xenophobia racism and sectarianism and responses to them With rich evidence fascinating new insights and engagement comparatively and transnationally with global themes of exploitation exclusion and inequalities Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand will appeal to scholars across the humanities and social sciences with interests in migration and diaspora studies race and ethnicity and refugee studies

Showdown at the Red Lion Charles Van Onselen, 2014-12-01 Johannesburg South Africa was and is the Frontier of Money Within months of its founding the mining camp was host to organised crime the African Regiment of the Hills and Irish Brigade bandits Bars brothels boarding houses and hotels oozed testosterone and violence and the use of fists and guns was commonplace Beyond the chaos were clear signs of another struggle one to maintain control honour and order within the emerging male and mining dominated culture In the underworld the dictum of honour among thieves as well as a hatred of informers testified to attempts at self regulation A real man did not take advantage of an opponent by employing underhand tactics It had to be a fair fight if a man was to be respected This was the world that One armed Jack McLoughlin brigand soldier sailor mercenary burglar highwayman and safe cracker entered in the early 1890s to become Johannesburg s most infamous Irish anti hero and social bandit McLoughlin s infatuation with George Stevenson prompted him to recruit the young Englishman into his gang of safe crackers but Stevo was a man with a past and primed for personal and professional betrayal It was a deadly mixture Honour could only be retrieved through a Showdown at the Red Lion

Periodicals of Queen Victoria's Empire Rosemary VanArsdel, Jerry Don Vann, Rosemary T. VanArsdel, 1996-01-01 Contemporary research in periodical literature has demonstrated conclusively that the nineteenth century in Britain was the age of the periodical It also has shown that in Victorian society the circulation of periodicals and newspapers was both larger and more influential than that of books The six essays in this volume investigate the extent to which this was equally true of Britain s colonies during the period up to 1900 In chapters devoted to periodical publishing in Australia Canada India New Zealand Southern Africa and the outposts of the Empire Ceylon Cyprus Hong Kong Malaya and Singapore Malta and the West Indies the contributors also consider the function and importance of periodicals in colonial life They identify and describe all locally produced publications that appeared at weekly or longer intervals and that contained for example local news poetry fiction criticism commentary on the arts news from home shipping information and commodities reports Each chapter presents an evaluation of the quantity and quality of guides available to periodical literature in each region from basic bibliographies of periodicals directories and finding aids to microfilm records and databases on the Internet Periodicals of Queen Victoria's Empire is an initial step towards understanding and analyzing what its editors regard as the unseen power of the periodical press in the British Empire of the nineteenth century Scientific American ,1884 Westminster and Foreign Quarterly Review ,1862
