Hauser, 2010-11-01
Fiction and Truth in Transition Oscar Hemer, 2012 What can fiction tell us about the world that journalism and science cannot This simple yet vast question is the starting point for an interrogation of the relationship between literary fiction and society s dramatic transformation in South Africa and Argentina over the past several decades The resulting discursive text borders on both journalism and literature incorporating reportage essay and memoir Series Freiburg Studies in Social Anthropology Vol 34 Prophetic Remembrance Erica Still, 2014-12-17 Using the term prophetic remembrance to articulate the expression of a constituent faith in the performative capacity of language Erica Still shows how black subjectivity is born of and interprets cultural trauma She brings together African American neo slave narratives and Black South African postapartheid narratives to reveal the processes by which black subjectivity accounts for its traumatic origins names the therapeutic work of the present and inscribes the possibility of the future The author draws on trauma studies black theology and literary criticism as she considers how writers such as Toni Morrison Charles Johnson John Edgar Wideman David

Bradley Sindiwe Magona K Sello Duiker and Zakes Mda explore the possibilities for rehearsing a traumatic past without being overcome by it. Although both African American and South African literary studies have addressed questions of memory narrative and trauma little comparative work has been done. Prophetic Remembrance offers this comparative focus in reading these literatures together to address the question of what it means to remember and to recover from racial oppression.

Engaging with Literature of Commitment. Volume 1, 2012-01-01 This collection ranges far and wide as befits the personality and accomplishments of the dedicatee Geoffrey V Davis. German studies and exile literature scholar, postcolonialist, if there are specialties then Australia, Canada, India, South Africa, Black Britain, journal and book series editor. Themes covered include publishing in Africa, charisma in African drama, the rediscovery of apartheid era South African literature, Truth and Reconciliation commissions, South African cinema, children's theatre in England and Eritrea, and the Third Chimurenga in literary anthologies. Surveyed are texts from Botswana, Nigeria, South Africa, Tanzania, and Zimbabwe. Writers discussed or interviewed: Angela Makholwa, include Ayi Kwei Armah, Seydou Badian J. M. Coetzee, Chielo Zona Eze, Ruth First, Abdulrazak Gurnah, Bessie Head, Ian Holding, Kavevangua Kahengua, Njabulo Ndebele, Lara Foot Newton, Ng'gwa Thiong'o, Micere Githae Mugo, Sol Plaatje, Ken Saro Wiwa, Mongane Wally Serote, Wole Soyinka, and Edgar Wallace, together with essays on the artist Sokari Douglas Camp and the filmmaker Rayda Jacobs. Because Geoff's commitment to literature has always been hands on, the book closes with a selection of poems and an entertaining travelogue memoir. Leading for Change Jonathan Jansen, 2015-08-14 This book offers new theoretical ground for thinking about and transforming leadership and higher education worldwide. Through an examination of the construct of intimacy and nearness including emotional, spiritual, psychic, intellectual, and physical closeness, Jonathan Jansen demonstrates its power to influence positive leadership in young people. He argues that sensory leadership, which includes but extends beyond the power of touch, represents a fresh and effective approach to progressive transformation of long-divided institutions. Considering richly textured narratives, chapters explore complex intimacies among Black and White university students in South Africa post-apartheid and in the aftermath of a major racial atrocity. The stories reveal the students' transformation in the process of leadership for change, interweaving concepts of racism, human relationships, and intimacy, and in turn expanding the knowledge base of social and institutional improvement. This book explores how, when different kinds of nearness come together in leadership change, young people respond in ways that would not be possible through conventional instruments such as policy, legislation, and the appeal to moral sensibilities alone. Leading for Change will be critical reading for academics, researchers, and postgraduate students in the fields of education, educational justice, higher education, educational leadership, and change, social and/or racial justice. This book will also be of interest to those working in the fields of anthropology, social psychology, and South African contemporary politics, policy, and institutional practices. Word & Image in Colonial and Postcolonial Literatures and Cultures Michael Meyer, 2009 Verbal imagery and visual images as well as the intricate relationships between verbal and

Salek, 2012 Before 9 11 films addressing torture outside of the horror slasher genre depicted the practice in a variety of forms In most cases torture was cast as the act of a desperate and depraved individual and the viewer was more likely to identify with the victim rather than the torturer Since the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 scenes of brutality and torture in mainstream comedies dramatic narratives and action films appear for little other reason than to titillate and delight In these films torture is devoid of any redeeming qualities represented as an exercise in brutal senselessness carried out by authoritarian regimes and institutions This volume follows the shift in the representation of torture over the past decade specifically in documentary action and political films It traces and compares the development of this trend in films from the United States Europe China Latin America South Africa and the Middle East Featuring essays by sociologists psychologists historians journalists and specialists in film and cultural studies the collection approaches the representation of torture in film and television from multiple angles and disciplines connecting its aesthetics and practices to the dynamic of state terror and political domination When Governments Break the Law Austin Sarat, Nasser Hussain, 2010-10-20 Recent controversies surrounding the war on terror and American intervention in Iraq and Afghanistan have brought rule of law rhetoric to a fevered pitch While President Obama has repeatedly emphasized his Administration s commitment to transparency and the rule of law nowhere has this resolve been so quickly and severely tested than with the issue of the possible prosecution of Bush Administration officials While some worry that without legal consequences there will be no effective deterrence for the repetition of future transgressions of justice committed at the highest levels of government others echo Obama's seemingly reluctant stance on launching an investigation into allegations of criminal wrongdoing by former President Bush Vice President Cheney Secretary Rumsfeld and members of the Office of Legal Counsel Indeed even some of the Bush Administration's harshest critics suggest that we should avoid such confrontations that the price of political division is too high Measured or partisan scholarly or journalistic clearly the debate about accountability for the alleged crimes of the Bush Administration will continue for some time Using this debate as its jumping off point When Governments Break the Law takes an interdisciplinary approach to the legal challenges posed by the criminal wrongdoing of governments But this book is not an indictment of the Bush Administration rather the contributors take distinct positions for and against the proposition offering revealing reasons and illuminating alternatives The contributors do not ask the substantive question of whether any Bush Administration officials in fact violated the law but rather the procedural legal political and cultural questions of what it would mean either to pursue criminal prosecutions or to refuse to do so By presuming that officials could be prosecuted these essays address whether they should When Governments Break the Law provides a valuable and timely commentary on what is likely to be an ongoing process of understanding the relationship between politics and the rule of law in times of crisis Contributors Claire Finkelstein Lisa Hajjar Daniel Herwitz Stephen Holmes Paul Horwitz Nasser Hussain Austin Sarat and Stephen I Vladeck The Politics of Selfhood Richard Harvey Brown, 2003 Printbegrnsninger Der kan printes 10 sider ad gangen og max 40 sider pr session

The Magic of Truth Farah Dally, 2014-11-10 Questions of truth have occupied philosophers scientists and theologians throughout human history What is truth Does it exist How do we define truth Who determines what is true and what is not The Magic of Truth defends the relativity of truth by examining its role in literature the arts and science as well as in our own lives and traditions The product of intensive research on the idea of truth and the secret meaning it holds Farah Dally argues that no field of study can progress without calling into question the traditional view of truth as a clear objective image

Electronic Elsewheres Chris Berry, So-yöng Kim, Lynn Spigel, 2010 Some chapters were previously published Black Opera Naomi Andre, 2018-05-04 From classic films like Carmen Jones to contemporary works like The Diary of Sally Hemings and U Carmen eKhayelitsa American and South African artists and composers have used opera to reclaim black people's place in history Naomi Andr draws on the experiences of performers and audiences to explore this music's resonance with today's listeners Interacting with creators and performers as well as with the works themselves Andr reveals how black opera unearths suppressed truths These truths provoke complex if uncomfortable reconsideration of racial gender sexual and other oppressive ideologies Opera in turn operates as a cultural and political force that employs an immense transformative power to represent or even liberate Viewing opera as a fertile site for critical inquiry political activism and social change Black Opera lays the foundation for innovative new approaches to applied scholarship Knowledge in the Blood Jonathan D. Jansen, 2009-04-07 This book tells the story of white South African students how they remember and enact an Apartheid past they were never part of How is it that young Afrikaners born at the time of Mandela's release from prison hold firm views about a past they never lived rigid ideas about black people and fatalistic thoughts about the future Jonathan Jansen the first black dean of education at the historically white University of Pretoria was dogged by this question during his tenure and Knowledge in the Blood seeks to answer it Jansen offers an intimate look at the effects of social and political change after Apartheid as white students first experience learning and living alongside black students He reveals the novel role pedagogical interventions played in confronting the past as well as critical theory's limits in dealing with conflict in a world where formerly clear cut notions of victims and perpetrators are blurred While Jansen originally set out simply to convey a story of how white students changed under the leadership of a diverse group of senior academics Knowledge in the Blood ultimately became an unexpected account of how these students in turn changed him The impact of this book's unique wide ranging insights in dealing with racial and ethnic divisions will be felt far beyond the borders of South Africa Postscripts

on Independence Vineet Thakur, 2018-04-19 India and South Africa two states that bookended the process of twentieth century decolonization punched above their weight in global politics in their initial years of liberation Postscripts on Independence analyses and compares the making of foreign policy ideas identities and institutions of postcolonial India and South Africa It shows how both countries have responded to the contradictory demands of their freedom struggles against colonialism and pragmatic challenges of international politics Vineet Thakur argues that the countries geopolitical positioning in South Asia and southern Africa make them regional powers with similar sets of problems and prospects as both continue to grapple with the idea of maintaining regional and or continental hegemony By undertaking a comparative analysis Thakur explores a framework to understand the foreign policymaking fears aspirations and international behaviour of these two nation states
