'Race', Ethnicity and Adoption Derek Kirton, 2000 This important study provides a unique and comprehensive analysis of research into the development of adoption policy and practice regarding black and minority ethnic children in the care of local authorities I found this book intellectually stimulating and often provocative it does not make comfortable reading but in the final analysis the case for retaining a commitment to placing children in families which reflect their ethnicity is strongly made Felicity Collier the Director of British Agencies for Adoption and Fostering What are the needs of adopted minority ethnic children To what extent can white families meet these needs Should the emphasis on ethnic matching of children and families in adoption be relaxed This book reviews the long running and often fierce controversy surrounding the adoption of black and minority ethnic children either transracially into white families or into matched same race placements Through analysis of research and the writings of protagonists the core concepts namely the nature and salience of racial ethnic identity cultural heritage and dealing with racism are explored and located within broader debates on race and the family The history of the controversy is set out in terms of the competing paradigms offered by liberalism and black radicalism and more recent post structuralist influences The author argues the need to see adoption and especially that of black children as inherently political and contested While broadly supporting the case for same race adoption it is suggested that this must rest on acknowledgement of and engagement with social and psychological complexities rather than their suppression beneath doctrinaire formulae Race Ethnicity and Adoption sets the issues in the wider context of a multiracial society and its politics and will be of particular interest to social workers and child care professionals but will also appeal more widely to students of sociology and social and public policy Case Incidents in Counseling for International Transitions Nancy Arthur,Paul Pedersen,2008 International Work Transitions International Student Transitions Immigrant and Refugee Transitions Military and Peacekeeping Transitions Culture and Health Malcolm MacLachlan,1997 Physical and mental symptoms often point beyond the individuals who experience them to the communities and cultures to which they belong In his exploration of the interplay between culture and health MacLachlan emphasises the practical implications
