Race In The College Classroom Pedagogy And Politics:

Race in the College Classroom Maureen T. Reddy, Bonnie TuSmith, 2002 Winner of the 2003 American Educational Studies Association Critics Choice Awards Winner of the 2003 Gustavus Myers Outstanding Book Award Did affirmative action programs solve the problem of race on American college campuses as several recent books would have us believe If so why does talking about race in anything more than a superficial way make so many students uncomfortable Written by college instructors from many disciplines this volume of essays takes a bold first step toward a nationwide conversation Each of the twenty nine contributors addresses one central question what are the challenges facing a college professor who believes that teaching responsibly requires an honest and searching examination of race Professors from the humanities social sciences sciences and education consider topics such as how the classroom environment is structured by race the temptation to retreat from challenging students when faced with possible reprisals in the form of complaints or negative evaluations the implications of using standardized evaluations in faculty tenure and promotion when the course subject is intimately connected with race and the varying ways in which white faculty and faculty of color are impacted by teaching about race

Race and Higher Education Annie Howell, Frank Tuitt, 2003-01-01 The contributors to Race and Higher Education guide educators toward an understanding of how changes in the student population call for new approaches to classroom instruction and address the need for new pedagogical practices in increasingly diverse college classrooms Over the last few decades U S colleges and universities have witnessed increasing diversity in their student bodies Yet faculty members operating on the notion that one pedagogy fits all students continue to employ traditional modes of instruction This adherence to outdated pedagogies has created potentially harmful learning environments for all students and particularly for students of color Race and Higher Education addresses this persistent problem guiding educators toward a better understanding of how changes in the student population have resulted in the need for new approaches to classroom instruction By including voices from inside classrooms along with analyses from scholarly researchers this volume provides college and university teachers administrators students and scholars with a critical instrument for improving higher education

Ed.D. Programs as Incubators for Social Justice Leadership Antonio L. Ellis, 2016-02-10 This book shares the thoughts of mostly North American scholars on many interrelated topics that have not previously been linked in academic research The focus of the book is the belief that the Ed D can prepare highly competent justice oriented scholars who will be engaged with communities Among these future leaders the contributors envision educators who not only lead public schools but also private foundations not for profit organizations and community centers An outstanding feature of this volume is that each chapter highlights existing and emerging issues such as but not limited to candidate recruitment and admission policies program funding fees and student expenses academic support services faculty recruitment compensation evaluation and promotion models on site on line instruction internship policy opportunities for graduate student employment publishing and conference engagement student supervision protocols and dissertation and capstone project parameters In addition the book explores cultural and socio political contexts public private sector relationships and the kinds of legislation that frame Ed D theory policy and practice from a social justice perspective At its best higher education is an indispensable space for spotlighting challenging and addressing injustice This important volume offers us the conceptual methodological empirical and pedagogical tools necessary for understanding the relationship between doctoral education and social justice work Antonio Ellis has assembled an impressive array of scholars who help us understand the promise and possibility of Ed D programs Marc Lamont Hill Host for the Black Entertainment Network Contributor for CNN and Distinguished Professor of African American Studies at Morehouse College This volume helps to clarify what is meant by social justice in school leadership settings and provides both philosophical and theoretical perspectives as well as strategies and curricular content that can assist in developing a common sense understanding of social justice The development of a mental frame of reference is critical to being able to transfer that understanding and curricular content into beliefs and practices As a professor of educational leadership and a college administrator I am most pleased to find a volume that provides perspectives and strategies which can be employed by academicians teaching in leadership programs and practitioners as they lead and prepare others to become leaders Zollie Stevenson Jr Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and Associate Professor Philander Smith College      Experiences of Racialization in Predominantly White Institutions Rachel Endo,2020-09-02 Centered on the narratives from ethnically and racially diverse scholars of color with experience studying and working in predominantly White institutions in the United States this volume offers critical reflection on common assumptions policies and practices which limit or preclude racial diversity and inclusion in various types of educational contexts and settings Scholars at different stages of their careers and from varied sociocultural backgrounds offer powerful critiques of contemporary experiences of disproportionality mis labelling and exploitation among others Exploring both personal and professional repercussions of these lived inequalities the candid insights of racialized challenges and imbalances are linked to the schooling experiences of minoritized K 12 learners and their families This book proposes solutions to promote equitable and inclusive environments for faculty and scholars from racialized backgrounds in higher education with a specific focus on universities with education programs Students scholars and researchers across a broad number of fields including Educational Leadership Ethnic Studies Teacher Education Higher Education may benefit from the discussions provided in this work      Affirmative Action A. M. Babkina,2004 This guide to the literature presents 451 descriptions of books reports and articles dealing with all aspects of affirmative action including Race relations Economic aspects Reverse discrimination Preferences Affirmative Action programs Public opinion Court decisions Education and many more Complete author and subject indexes are provided      Black Male Outsider Gary L. Lemons,2008-01-10 This fascinating book traces the development of the author s consciousness as a black male pro feminist professor Gary L Lemons explores the meaning of black male feminism by examining his experiences at the New York City college where he taught for more than a decade a small private liberal arts college where the majority of the students were white and female Through a series of classroom case studies he presents the transformative power of memoir writing as a strategic tool for enabling students to understand the critical relationship between the personal and the political From the insightful inclusion of his own personal narratives about his childhood experience of domestic violence to stories about being a student and teacher in majority white classrooms for most of his life Lemons takes the reader on a provocative journey about what it means to be black male and pro feminist

Guyana Diaries Kimberly D Nettles, 2016-07 The author an African American researcher explores the impact of work family politics and local culture on the lives of members of a women s work collective in the Caribbean and in the process discovers how differences in class and nation can overshadow the gender and race she shares with her subjects

Autobiographical Writing Across the Disciplines Diane P. Freedman, Olivia Frey, 2004-01-23 An anthology of the personal autobiographical essays of scholars who have made the life story an important part of their disciplinary research

Transforming the Ivory Tower Brett C. Stockdill, Mary Yu Danico, 2012-03-15 People outside and within colleges and universities often view these institutions as fair and reasonable far removed from the inequalities that afflict society in general Despite greater numbers of women working class people and people of color as well as increased visibility for LGBTQ students and staff over the past fifty years universities remain ivory towers that perpetuate institutionalized forms of sexism classism racism and homophobia Transforming the Ivory Tower builds on the rich legacy of historical struggles to open universities to dissenting voices and oppressed groups Each chapter is guided by a commitment to praxis the idea that theoretical understandings of inequality must be applied to concrete strategies for change The common misconception that racism sexism and homophobia no longer plague university life heightens the difficulty to dismantle the interlocking forms of oppression that undergird the ivory tower Contributors demonstrate that women LGBTQ people and people of color continue to face systemic forms of bias and discrimination on campuses throughout the U S Curriculum and pedagogy evaluation of scholarship and the processes of tenure and promotion are all laden with inequities both blatant and covert The contributors to this volume defy the pressure to assimilate by critically examining personal and collective struggles Speaking from different social spaces and backgrounds they analyze antiracist feminist and queer approaches to teaching and mentoring research and writing academic culture and practices growth and development of disciplines campus activism university community partnerships and confronting privilege Transforming the Ivory Tower will be required reading for all students faculty and administrators seeking to understand bias and discrimination in higher education and to engage in social justice work on and off college campuses It offers a proactive approach encompassing institutional and cultural changes that foster respect inclusion and transformation Contributors Michael Armato Rick Bonus Jose Guillermo Zapata Calderon Mary Yu

In the second volume of a series that will ultimately include four the authors consider Irish diasporic memory and memory practices While the Irish diaspora has become the subject of a wide range of scholarship there has been little work focused on its relationship to memory The first half of the volume asks how diasporic memory functions in different places and times and what forms it takes on As an island nation with a history of emigration Ireland has developed a rich diasporic cultural memory one that draws on multiple traditions and historiographies of both home and away Native traditions are not imported wholesale but instead develop their own curious hybridity reflecting the nature of emigrant memory that absorbs new ways of thinking about home How do immigrants remember their homeland How do descendants of immigrants remember a land they rarely visit How does diasporic memory pass through families and how is it represented in cultural forms such as literature festivals and souvenirs In its second half this volume shifts its attention to the concept of memory practices ways of cultural remembering that result from and are shaped by particular cultural forms Many of these cultural forms embody memory materially through language music and photography and because of their distinctive expressions of culture give rise to distinctive memory practices Gathering the leading voices in Irish studies this volume opens new pathways into the body of Irish cultural memory demonstrating time and again the ways in which memory is supported by the negotiations of individuals within wider cultural contexts Contributors include Aidan Arrowsmith Hasia Diner Joep Leerssen Paul Muldoon Nuala N Dhomhnaill      Teaching for a Culturally Diverse and Racially Just World Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2014-02-25

Cultural and ethnic diversity is the reality of our world and much more so in this age of heightened globalization Yet do our ways of doing theological education match with our current reality and hopes for a colorful and just tomorrow How shall we do theological formation so it helps give birth to a culturally diverse racially just and hospitable world This edited volume gathers the voices of minoritized scholars and their white allies in the profession in response to the above questions More particularly this volume gathers the responses of these scholars to the questions What is the plight of theological education Who are the teachers Who are our students What shall we teach How shall we teach How shall we form and lead theological institutions It is the hope of this volume to contribute to the making of theological education that is hospitably just to difference s and welcoming of our diverse population which is our only viable future When we embody this vision in our daily educational practices particularly in the training of our future religious leaders we may help usher in a new colorful and just world      Diversity's Promise for Higher Education Daryl G. Smith, 2024-08-06 Building sustainable diversity in higher education isn't just the right thing to do it is an imperative for institutional excellence and for a pluralistic society that works In Diversity's Promise for Higher Education author Daryl G Smith proposes clear and realistic practices to help institutions identify diversity as a strategic imperative for excellence and pursue diversity efforts that are inclusive of the varied issues on campuses without losing focus on the critical unfinished business of the past To become more relevant while remaining true to their core missions colleges and universities must continue to frame diversity as central to institutional excellence Smith suggests that seeing diversity as an imperative for an institution's mission and not just as a value is the necessary lever for real institutional change Furthermore achieving excellence in a diverse society requires increasing institutional capacity for diversity working to understand how diversity is tied to better leadership positive change research in virtually every field student success accountability and more equitable hiring practices In this edition Smith emphasizes a transdisciplinary approach to the topic of diversity Drawing on fifty years of diversity studies this fourth edition engages with how the environment has transformed for diversity work since the third edition appeared in 2020 It addresses the changed landscape in which DEI work has been politicized both on and off campus provides examples and language to suggest ways to articulate the centrality of diversity to mission and excellence emphasizes the link between healthy democracies and higher education's mission in light of the current global and domestic challenges to democracy highlights the need to focus on the conditions for developing healthy communities where dialogue difference and learning can take place examines the current climate of campus protests and the implications for free speech and academic freedom and reemphasizes the complexity of identity and explains how to attend to the growing kinds of identities relevant to diversity equity and inclusion while not overshadowing the unfinished business of race class and gender

Racial Battle Fatigue in Higher Education Kenneth J.

Fasching-Varner, Katrice A. Albert, Roland W. Mitchell, Chaunda Allen, 2014-12-23 Racial Battle Fatigue is described as the physical and psychological toll taken due to constant and unceasing discrimination microaggressions and stereotype threat The literature notes that individuals who work in environments with chronic exposure to discrimination and microaggressions are more likely to suffer from forms of generalized anxiety manifested by both physical and emotional symptoms This edited volume looks at RBF from the perspectives of graduate students middle level academics and chief diversity officers at major institutions of learning RBF takes up William A Smith's idea and extends it as a means of understanding how the academy or higher education operates Through microaggressions stereotype threat underfunding and defunding of initiatives offices expansive commitments to diversity related strategic plans with restrictive power and action and departmental climates of exclusivity and inequity diversity workers faculty staff and administration of color along with white allies in like positions find themselves in a badlands where identity difference is used to promote institutional values while at the same time creating unimaginable work spaces for these workers

Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice Maurianne Adams, Lee Anne Bell, 2016-01-22

Lloyd-Jones,2011-08-18 Focuses on African American Hispanic American Native American and Asian Pacific American women whose increased presence in senior level administrative and academic positions in higher education is transforming the political climate to be more inclusive of women of color The Rowman & Littlefield Handbook on Workplace

Diversity and Stratification Tsedale M. Melaku,Angie Beeman,Christoph Winkler,2023-11-01 Organizations and institutions use diversity and inclusion mantras to signal opportunity and access for all However the real world results are often underwhelming and people are demanding that organizations recognize the value that diversity brings to a workplace and be held accountable to the diversity and inclusion mission statements on their websites The Rowman Littlefield Handbook on Workplace Diversity and Stratification provides a comprehensive yet concise overview of important issues themes and research regarding workplace diversity and stratification The book analyzes present day and future implications of diversity in the workplace and offers concrete ways of developing policies and practices that will make diversity an intrinsic part of any organizational culture Taking an interdisciplinary approach the book covers topics including racism sexism socio economic status LGBTQ workers education intersectionality neurodiversity religion and allyship Practical contemporary and relevant this is an excellent resource for anyone interested in understanding what workplace diversity and stratification mean for everyday people institutions and society as a whole Handbook of Research on Diversity and Social Justice in Higher Education Keengwe, Jared, 2020-05-22 There is growing pressure on teachers and faculty to understand and adopt best practices to work with diverse races cultures and languages in modern classrooms Establishing sound pedagogy is also critical given that racial cultural and linguistic integration has the potential to increase academic success for all learners To that end there is also a need for educators to prepare graduates who will better meet the needs of culturally diverse learners and help their learners to become successful global citizens The Handbook of Research on Diversity and Social Justice in Higher Education is a cutting edge research book that examines cross cultural perspectives challenges and opportunities pertaining to advancing diversity and social justice in higher education Furthermore the book explores multiple concepts of building a bridge from a monocultural pedagogical framework to cross cultural knowledge through appropriate diversity education models as well as effective social justice practices Highlighting a range of topics such as cultural taxation intercultural engagement and teacher preparation this book is essential for teachers faculty academicians researchers administrators policymakers and students

Assessing the Teaching of Writing Amy E. Dayton, 2015-03-15 Although fraught with politics and other perils teacher evaluation can contribute in important positive ways to faculty development at both the individual and the departmental levels Yet the logistics of creating a valid assessment are complicated Inconsistent methods rater bias and overreliance on student evaluation forms have proven problematic The essays in Assessing the Teaching of Writing demonstrate constructive ways of evaluating teacher performance taking into consideration the immense number of variables involved Contributors to the volume examine a range of fundamental issues including the political context of declining state funds in education growing public critique of the professoriate and demands for accountability resulting from federal policy initiatives like No Child Left Behind the increasing sophistication of assessment methods and technologies and the continuing interest in the scholarship of teaching The first section addresses concerns and advances in assessment methodologies and the second takes a closer look at unique individual sites and models of assessment Chapters collectively argue for viewing teacher assessment as a rhetorical practice Fostering new ways of thinking about teacher evaluation Assessing the Teaching of Writing will be of great interest not only to writing program administrators but also to those concerned with faculty development and teacher assessment outside the writing program
