

A large, diverse crowd of people is gathered for a protest or demonstration. In the center, a white sign is held high, reading "CANADA IS NOT IMMUNE TO RACISM". The word "NOT" is underlined with two red lines, and "RACISM" is written in large, bold, red capital letters. The crowd consists of people of various ages and ethnicities, many wearing face masks. The background is slightly blurred, emphasizing the sign and the people in the foreground.

Racial Oppression In Canada:

Racial Oppression in Canada B. Singh Bolaria, Peter S. Li, 1988 Comprises essays Discusses race relations beginning in the mid 18th century and continuing to the mid 1980s Asserts that racial discrimination is part of Canadian history and part of the capitalist economic system Includes case studies of indigenous people Chinese and Japanese immigrants and blacks

Encyclopedia of Canadian Social Work Francis J. Turner, 2005-09-07 Annotation Covers over 500 topics important to Canadian social work Written by a highly diverse group of experts and covering all aspects of the field nation wide Racial Discrimination in Canada James W. St. G. Walker, 1985 Racism and Anti-Racism in Canada David

Este, 2020-07-10T00:00:00Z Multiculturalism is regarded as a key feature of Canada's national identity Yet despite an increasingly diverse population racialized Canadians are systematically excluded from full participation in society through personal and structural forms of racism and discrimination Race and Anti Racism in Canada provides readers with a critical examination of how racism permeates Canadian society and articulates the complex ways to bring about equity and inclusion both individual and systemically

The History of Immigration and Racism in Canada Barrington Walker, 2008 This outstanding collection examines the complex and disturbing history of immigration and racism in Canada Major themes include Native non Native contact migration and settlement in the nineteenth century immigrant workers and radicalism human rights internment during WWII and racism of the present day The readings are divided into five cohesive sections Natives and Newcomers in Early Canada Space and Racialized Communities Dangerous Others Non Citizens and the State Gate keeping Enemies Without and Within The Post War Era New Rights and New Racisms This book is destined to make its mark in History departments across the country and will also be of interest to students and researchers in Canadian Studies Sociology Demography Political Science and Geography

Race, Racialization and Antiracism in Canada and Beyond Genevieve Fuji Johnson, Randy Enomoto, 2007-06-23 This multidisciplinary volume brings together scholars and activists to examine expressions of racism in contemporary policy areas including education labour immigration media and urban planning While anti racist struggles during the twentieth century were largely pitched against overt forms of racism e g pogroms genocide segregation apartheid and ethnic cleansing it has become increasingly apparent that there are other less visible forms of racism These subtler incarnations are of special interest to the contributors The intent of Race Racialization and Antiracism in Canada and Beyond is to probe systemic forms of racism as well as to suggest strategies for addressing them The collection is organized by themes pertinent to political and social expressions of racism in Canada and the wider world such as the state and its mediation of race education and the perpetuation of racist marginalization and the role of the media The contributors argue that in order to effectively combat racism various methodological approaches are required approaches that are reflective of the diversity of the world we seek to understand

The African Diaspora in the United States and Canada at the Dawn of the 21st Century John W. Frazier, Joe T. Darden, Norah F. Henry, 2010-09-01 Drawing on the work of social scientists from geographic historical sociological and political science perspectives this volume offers new perspectives on the African Diaspora in the United States and Canada It has been approximately four centuries since the first Africans set foot in North America and although it is impossible for any text to capture the complete Black experience on the continent the persistent legacy of Black inequality and the winds of dramatic change are inseparable parts of the current African Diaspora experience In addition to comparing and contrasting the experiences and geographic patterns of the African Diaspora in the United States and Canada the book also explores important distinctions between the experiences of African Americans and those of more recent African and Afro Caribbean immigrants Understanding Canada Wallace multicultural world To the contrary racisms persist by transforming into different forms whose intent or effects remain the same to deny and disallow as well as to exclude and exploit Racisms in a Multicultural Canada is organized around the assumption that race is not simply a set of categories and that racism is not just a collection of individuals with bad attitudes Rather racism is as much a matter of interests as of attitudes of property as of prejudice of structural advantage as of personal failing of whiteness as of the other of discourse as of discrimination and of unequal power relations as of bigotry This multi dimensionality of racism complicates the challenge of formulating anti racism and anti colonialist strategies capable of addressing it Employing a critical framework that puts politics and power at the centre of analysis this book focuses on why racisms proliferate how they work in contemporary societies and how the way we think and talk about racism changes over time Specifically it examines the working of contemporary racisms in a multicultural Canada that claims to abide by principles of multiculturalism and a commitment to a post racial society Encyclopedia of Race, Ethnicity, and Society Richard T. Schaefer, 2008-03-20 This encyclopedia offers a comprehensive look at the roles race and ethnicity play in society and in our daily lives Over 100 racial and ethnic groups are described with additional thematic essays offering insight into broad topics that cut across group boundaries and which impact on society The History of Blacks in Canada George H. Junne, 2003-03-30 This fascinating bibliography of source materials clearly demonstrates the significant roles blacks have played in the history and culture of Canada from its beginnings as well as their 400 year fight for equity and justice Organized by area of endeavor and by province the source materials detailed here reveal that blacks in Canada have created a rich diverse and complex legacy This volume lists resources that point to blacks history as soldiers prospectors educators cowboys homesteaders entertainers legislators athletes artists servants and writers The most comprehensive bibliography about blacks in Canada that has been published it is well organized to facilitate locating specific topics or people spanning black history Also included are newspapers and videos that add their own unique contribution Academicians researchers students and interested lay people will find an organized compilation of a vast number of primary and secondary sources about blacks in Canada Exalted Subjects Sunera Thobani, 2007-05-19 Questions of national identity indigenous rights citizenship and migration have acquired unprecedented relevance in this age of globalization In Exalted Subjects noted feminist scholar Sunera Thobani examines the meanings and complexities of these questions in a Canadian context Based in the theoretical traditions of political economy and cultural post colonial studies this book examines how the national subject has been conceptualized in Canada at particular historical junctures and how state policies and popular practices have exalted certain subjects over others Foregrounding the concept of race as a critical relation of power Thobani examines how processes of racialization contribute to sustaining and replenishing the politics of nation formation and national subjectivity She challenges the popular notion that the significance of racialized practices in Canada has declined in the post Second World War period and traces key continuities and discontinuities in these practices from Confederation into the present

Drawing on historical sociology and discursive analyses Thobani examines how the state seeks to fix and stabilize its subjects in relation to the nation's others. A controversial ground-breaking study Exalted Subjects makes a major contribution to our understanding of the racialized and gendered underpinnings of both nation and subject formation. Contemporary Inequalities and Social Justice in Canada Janine Brodie, 2018-04-17 Contemporary Inequalities and Social Justice in Canada examines the changing contours of inequality and social justice in contemporary Canada. Approaching questions of social justice from the perspectives of race, youth, precarious workers, Indigenous peoples and the LGBTQ community, the contributors emphasize different ways of thinking about and addressing contemporary social inequalities and insecurities.

Identifying as Arab in Canada Houda Asal, 2020-10-11T00:00:00Z While Arabs now attract considerable attention from media, the state and sociological studies, their history in Canada remains little known. Identifying as Arab in Canada begins to rectify this invisibilization by exploring the migration from Makkah, the Middle East to Canada from the late 19th century through the 1970s. Houda Asal breathes life into this migratory history and the people who made the journey and examines the public collective existence they created in Canada in order to understand both the identity Arabs have constructed for themselves here and the identity that has been constructed for them by the Canadian state. Using archival research, media analysis, laws and statistics and a series of interviews, Asal offers a thorough examination of the institutions these migrants and their descendants built and the various ways they expressed their identity and organized their religious, social and political lives. Identifying as Arab in Canada offers an impressively researched but accessibly written, much-needed glimpse into the long history of the Arab population in Canada.

Defining Rights and Wrongs Rosanna L. Langer, 2011-11-01 Human rights complaints attract a great deal of public interest but what is going on below the surface? When people contact a human rights lawyer, how do they think about and use human rights discourse? How are complaints turned into cases? Can administrative systems be both effective and fair? Defining Rights and Wrongs investigates the day-to-day practices of low-level officials and intermediaries as they construct domestic human rights complaints. It identifies the values that a human rights system should uphold if it is to promote mutual respect and foster the personal dignity and equal rights of citizens.
