Racial Impact At The Crossroads:

Racial Impact. . . at the Crossroads George J. Foxx, George J Foxx, Dr, 2003-04 Racial Impact at the Crossroads George J. Foxx, 2008-11 Have you ever been raped or robbed How about cheated out of something special and expensive What about discriminated against threaten and violated until you were helpless and hopeless and when you went for lawful help the Justice Department which is supposed to protect people instead protects the culprits It s like living a nightmare day after day year after year for 12 1 2 years never to wake up The horrors of disbelief and hurt anger to forgiveness deceit and obstruction and justice being delayed and denied Well I hope you never find yourself in this situation because you may not survive In this nightmare nothing or no one seems to come to your aid even after fighting in federal judicial system before 161 judges in 28 venues even the U S Supreme Court eight times just to be ignored What a horrible feeling The feelings only become more horrible when you know who the Evil Demon in the nightmare is the United States Navy Yes the Navy at the Crossroad Radicalism at the Crossroads Dayo F. Gore, 2012-10-01 With the exception of a few iconic moments such as Rosa Parks s 1955 refusal to move to the back of a Montgomery bus we hear little about what black women activists did prior to 1960 Perhaps this gap is due to the severe repression that radicals of any color in America faced as early as the 1930s and into the Red Scare of the 1950s To be radical and black and a woman was to be forced to the margins and consequently these women s stories have been deeply buried and all but forgotten by the general public and historians alike In this exciting work of historical recovery Dayo F Gore unearths and examines a dynamic extended network of black radical women during the early Cold War including established Communist Party activists such as Claudia Jones artists and writers such as Beulah Richardson and lesser known organizers such as Vicki Garvin and Thelma Dale These women were part of a black left that laid much of the groundwork for both the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s and later strains of black radicalism Radicalism at the Crossroads offers a sustained and in depth analysis of the political thought and activism of black women radicals during the Cold War period and adds a new dimension to our understanding of this tumultuous time in United States history

Collisions at the Crossroads Genevieve Carpio, 2019-04-16 There are few places where mobility has shaped identity as widely as the American West but some locations and populations sit at its major crossroads maintaining control over place and mobility labor and race In Collisions at the Crossroads Genevieve Carpio argues that mobility both permission to move freely and prohibitions on movement helped shape racial formation in the eastern suburbs of Los Angeles and the Inland Empire throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries By examining policies and forces as different as historical societies Indian boarding schools bicycle ordinances immigration policy incarceration traffic checkpoints and Route 66 heritage she shows how local authorities constructed a racial hierarchy by allowing some people to move freely while placing limits on the mobility of others Highlighting the ways people of color have negotiated their place within these systems Carpio reveals a compelling and perceptive analysis of spatial mobility through physical movement and residence Implications
