Bilingualism and Multiculturalism in Greek Education Nikos Gogonas, 2010-04-16 Bilingualism and Multiculturalism in Greek Education investigates the factors affecting language maintenance shift among second generation Albanian and Egyptian migrant pupils in Athens Using a combined quantitative and qualitative methodology it explores the influence of three sets of variables on language maintenance These are a ethnolinguistic vitality defined by the demography status and institutional support of each group in Greece as well as migrant and Greek pupils perceptions regarding these factors b migrant parents attitudes to language maintenance and their role in language transmission in the home and c the attitudes of teachers and the institutional approaches of mainstream Greek education to linguistic and cultural diversity Results indicate that knowledge of Greek is common among today s children of Albanian and Egyptian immigrants and preference for that language is dominant bilingualism varies slightly between Albanian and Egyptian second generation pupils with Egyptians being more dominant in the parental language due to their higher degree of identification with their ethnic group in comparison to the Albanian pupils the school context plays a significant role in the ability of second generation youths to achieve and maintain bilingual fluency 'Sleepwalking to segregation'? Nissa Finney, Ludi Simpson, 2009-01-21 In the context of renewed debates about diversity and cohesion this book interrogates contemporary claims about race and migration It demonstrates that many of the claims are myths presenting evidence in support of and in opposition to them in an accessible yet academically rigorous manner The book combines an easy to read overview of the subject with innovative new research It tackles head on questions about levels of immigration the contribution of immigrants minority self segregation ghettoisation and the future diversity of the population The authors argue that the myths of race and migration are the real threat to an integrated society and recommend that focus should return to problems of inequality and prejudice

Crimmigrant Nations Robert Koulsh, Maartje van der Woude, 2020-03-03 As the distinction between domestic and international is increasingly blurred along with the line between internal and external borders migrants particularly people of color have become emblematic of the hybrid threat both to national security and sovereignty and to safety and order inside the state From building walls and fences overcrowding detention facilities and beefing up border policing and border controls a new narrative has arrived that has migrants assume the risk for government sponsored degradation misery and death Crimmigrant Nations examines the parallel rise of anti immigrant sentiment and right wing populism in both the United States and Europe to offer an unprecedented look at this issue on an international level Beginning with the fears and concerns of immigration that predate the election of Trump the Brexit vote and the signing and implementation of the Schengen Agreement Crimmigrant Nations critically analyzes nationalist state policies in countries that have criminalized migrants and categorized them as threats to national security Highlighting a pressing and perplexing problem facing the Western world in 2020 and beyond this collection of essays illustrates not only how anti immigrant sentiments and nationalist discourse are on the rise in various Western liberal democracies but also how these sentiments are being translated into punitive and cruel policies and practices that contribute to a merger of crime control and migration control with devastating effects for those falling under its reach Mapping out how these measures are taken the rationale behind these policies and who is subjected to exclusion as a result of these measures Crimmigrant Nations looks beyond the level of the local or the national to the relational dynamics between different actors on different levels and among different institutions
