Identification and Evaluation of Learning Disabilities Evelyn S. Johnson, Anne B. Clohessy, 2014-06-19 Get your students the support they need One size does not fit all for helping students with learning disabilities and it doesn't work for identifying learning disabilities either This practical easy to use handbook offers a comprehensive plan guiding general educators special educators administrators and school psychologists through the eligibility and evaluation stages that ensure students get the best services and support they need to be successful You'll find Guidance on what data to collect and how to collect it Strategies for combining RTI with a comprehensive evaluation to diagnose SLD Detailed case studies with graphs figures and test scores at the school classroom and individual student level Organic Chemistry Education Research into Practice Jay Wackerly, Sarah Zingales, Michael Wentzel, Gautam Bhattacharyya, Brett McCollum, 2025-03-25 This Research Topic has three main goals 1 provide a platform for instructors of organic chemistry to showcase evidence based methods and educational theories they have utilized in their classrooms 2 build new and strengthen existing connections between educational researchers and practitioners and 3 highlight how people have used chemical education based research in their teaching practice There are places in the literature dedicated for chemical education research CER however there is not a clear avenue for those that have changed their teaching methods based on published CER and report their experiences Creating this article collection will foster collaboration between chemical education researchers and teachers of organic chemistry This opportunity allows these instructors to share evidence based practices experiences challenges and innovative approaches from CER literature and beyond This Research Topic bridges discipline based education research and the scholarship of teaching and learning which will help advance organic chemistry education and improve student outcomes

Student and Teacher Writing Motivational Beliefs Steve Graham, Gary A. Troia, Gustaf Bernhard Uno Skar, 2024-06-21 The study of students motivational beliefs about writing and how such beliefs influence writing has increased since the publication of John Hays 1996 model of writing This model emphasized that writers motivational beliefs influence how and what they write Likewise increased attention has been devoted in recent years to how teachers motivational beliefs about writing especially their efficacy to teach writing impact how writing is taught and how students progress as writers As a result there is a need to bring together in a Research Topic studies that examine the role and influence of writing beliefs Historically the psychological study of writing has focused on what students write or the processes they apply when writing Equally important but investigated less often are studies examining how writing is taught and how teachers efforts contribute to students writing What has been less prominent in the psychological study of writing are the underlying motivational beliefs that drive or inhibit students writing or serve as catalysts for teachers actions in the classroom when teaching writing This Research Topic will bring together studies that examine both students and teachers motivational beliefs about teaching writing This will include studies examining the operation of such beliefs how they develop cognitive and affective correlates how writing motivational beliefs can be fostered and how they are related to students writing achievement By focusing on both students and teachers beliefs the Research Topic will provide a more nuanced and broader picture of the role of motivation beliefs in writing and writing instruction This Research Topic includes papers that address students motivational beliefs about writing teachers motivational beliefs about writing or teaching writing Students motivational beliefs about writing include beliefs about the value and utility of writing writing competence attitudes toward writing goal orientation motives for writing identity epistemological underpinnings writing and attributions for success failure as examples Teacher motivational include these same judgements as well as beliefs about their preparation and their students competence and progress as writers to provide additional examples This Research Topic is interested in papers that examine how such beliefs operate develop are related to other cognitive and affective variables how they are impacted by instruction and how they are related to students writing performance Submitted studies can include original research both quantitative qualitative or mixed methods meta analysis and reviews of the literature Research in Education ,1970-12 Humanities ,1983
