A Companion to Victorian Poetry Ciaran Cronin, 2008-04-15 This Companion brings together specially commissioned essays by distinguished international scholars that reflect both the diversity of Victorian poetry and the variety of critical approaches that illuminate it Approaches Victorian poetry by way of genre production and cultural context rather than through individual poets or poems Demonstrates how a particular poet or poem emerges from a number of overlapping cultural contexts Explores the relationships between work by different poets Recalls attention to a considerable body of poetry that has fallen into neglect Essays are informed by recent developments in textual and cultural theory Considers Victorian women poets in every chapter Notes and Queries, 1907 Notes and Queries and Historic Magazine, 1902 Recessional, and Other Poems [microform] Rudyard Kipling, 1900* Famous Poems Explained Waitman Barbe, 1909 Illustrated Catalogue of Books, Standard and Holiday McClurg, Firm, Booksellers, Chicago, 1900

Rundle, 1999-08-17 The Broadview Anthology of Victorian Poetry and Poetic Theory is the most comprehensive collection of poetry from the period ever published Included are generous selections from the work of all major poets and a representation of the work of virtually every poet of significance from Thomas Ashe at the beginning of the era to Charlotte Mew at its end The work of Victorian women poets features very prominently with extensive selections not only from canonical poets such as Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Christina Rossetti but also from poets such as Augusta Webster for which high claims have recently been made by critics The anthology reflects and will contribute to the ongoing reassessment of the canon that is central to English Studies today in all sixty six poets are represented The editors have included complete works wherever feasible including the complete texts of Tennyson's In Memoriam and of a number of other long poems A headnote by the editors introduces the work of each poet and each selection has been newly annotated The inclusion of twenty five selections of the poetic theory from the period is an important feature rounding out the anthology This anthology is also available in a concise edition Roots of War David G. Winter, 2017-09-01 Ever since Thucydides pondered reasons for the outbreak of the Peloponnesian War writers philosophers and social scientists have tried to identify factors that promote conflict escalation for example history tomorrow's wars are often rooted in yesterday's conflicts changing balance of power among nations or domestic political forces In the end however these causes are constructed by human beings and involve the memories emotions and motives of both the leaders and the led In July 1914 the long standing peace of Europe was shattered when the Sarajevo assassinations quickly escalated to World War I In contrast at the height of the Cold War the Cuban Missile Crisis could have easily plunged the world into a thermonuclear world war but was ultimately peacefully resolved Why the different outcomes In Roots of War Wanting Power Seeing Threat Justifying Force David G Winter identifies three psychological factors that contributed to the differences in these historical outcomes the desire for power exaggerated perception of the opponent's threat and justification for using military force Several lines of research establish how these factors lead to escalation and war comparative archival studies of war and peace crises laboratory experiments on threat perception and surveys of factors leading people to believe that a particular war is just The research findings in Roots of War also demonstrate the importance of power in preserving peace through diplomatic interventions past and present

Twentieth-Century War Poetry Philippa Lyon, 2004-10-28 Poets have written about wars throughout the 20th century questioning protesting and sometimes celebrating the nature and purpose of conflict Attracting an enthusiastic popular readership war poetry has often been seen as a way of remembering and reimagining wars Today war poems are not only part of our memorial culture on epitaphs and in Remembrance Day services but have inspired books and films and become studied widely around the world This Guide examines the genesis and development of the important genre of war poetry in the twentieth century focusing in particular on the role of the two world wars in the literary and cultural construction of a war poetry category Philippa Lyon draws upon a range of key historical and contemporary critical responses from poetic memoir and journalism to sophisticated academic criticism to demonstrate the rich diversity of expectations and evaluations elicited by the developing genre

Early Cinema and the "National" Richard Abel, Giorgio Bertellini, Rob King, 2008-12-17 Essays on how motion pictures in the first two decades of the 20th century constructed communities of nationality recommended Choice While many studies have been written on national cinemas Early Cinema and the National is the first anthology to focus on the concept of national film culture from a wide methodological spectrum of interests including not only visual and narrative forms but also international geopolitics exhibition and marketing practices and pressing linkages to national imageries The essays in this richly illustrated landmark anthology are devoted to reconsidering the nation as a framing category for writing cinema history Many of the 34 contributors show that concepts of a national identity played a role in establishing the parameters of cinema's early development from technological change to discourses of stardom from emerging genres to intertitling practices Yet as others attest national meanings could often become knotty in other contexts when concepts of nationhood were contested in relation to colonial imperial histories and regional configurations Early Cinema and the National takes stock of a formative moment in cinema history tracing the beginnings of the process whereby nations learned to imagine themselves through moving images
