then rewrote it as The Bending of the Bough Here the plays are published together for the first time This volume also includes Moore's The Strike at Arlingford The Passing of the Essenes and The Coming of Gabrielle This last is based on his correspondence with an Austrian countess he never met and much of the dialogue in the play is taken directly from her letters Martyn's Maeve written for the Irish Literary Theatre and An Enchanted Sea a short lyrical play first produced in 1904 are also found here The plays in this volume were selected by David B Eakin and Michael Case who have contributed a critical introduction Helpful bibliographical checklists of Moore's and Martyn's works both published and unpublished are also included

Masculinities and Manhood in Contemporary Irish Drama Cormac O'Brien, 2021-12-10 This book charts the journey in terms of both stasis and change that masculinities and manhood have made in Irish drama and by extension in the broader culture and society from the 1960s to the present Examining a diverse corpus of drama and theatre events both mainstream and on the fringe this study critically elaborates a seismic shift in Irish masculinities This book argues then that Irish manhood has shifted from embodying and enacting post colonial concerns of nationalism and national identity to performing models of masculinity that are driven and moulded by the political and cultural practices of neoliberal capitalism Masculinities and Manhood in Contemporary Irish Drama charts this shift through chapters on performing masculinity in plays set in both the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland and through several chapters that focus on Women's and Queer drama It thus takes its readers on a journey a journey that begins with an overtly patriarchal nationalist manhood that often made direct comment on the state of the nation and ultimately arrives at several arguably regressive forms of globalised masculinity which are couched in misaligned notions of individualism and free choice and that frequently perceive themselves as being in crisis
