The History of Ghana Roger S. Gocking, 2005-06-30 Gocking provides a historical overview of Ghana from the emergence of precolonial states through increasing contact with Europeans that led to the establishment of formal colonial rule by Great Britain at the end of the 19th century. Colonial rule transformed what was known as the Gold Coast economically, socially, and politically, but it contained the seeds of its own demise. After World War II, an increasingly more effective nationalist movement challenged British rule, and in 1957 Ghana became independent. Independence brought its own challenges, the most important of which was the inability to maintain political stability. Within the space of 24 years, there were four military coups, and the collapse of three republics. Ghana's Fourth Republic, established in 1993, has dealt with the legacy of instability inherited from the past as it moves towards a more stable future. A timeline, photographs, maps, and an appendix of biographies of notable figures in the history of Ghana are included. Students and adults alike will find this book to be highly effective in describing the often turbulent and tumultuous history of this country.

Kant and Colonialism Katrin Flikschuh, Lea Ypi, 2014. This is the first book dedicated to a systematic exploration of Kant's position on colonialism. Bringing together a team of leading scholars in both the history of political thought and normative theory, the chapters in the volume seek to place Kant's thoughts on colonialism in historical context, examine the tensions that the assessment of colonialism produces in Kant's work, and evaluate the relevance of these reflections for current debates on global justice and the relation of Western political thinking to other parts of the world. Global Garveyism Ronald J. Stephens, Adam Ewing, 2024-10-15. Illuminating the global impact of Marcus Garvey's Black nationalist philosophy. Arguing that the accomplishments of Jamaican activist Marcus Garvey and his followers have been marginalized in narratives of the Black freedom struggle, this volume builds on decades of overlooked research to reveal the profound impact of Garvey's post-World War I Black nationalist philosophy around the globe and across the twentieth century. These essays point to the breadth of Garveyism's spread and its reception in communities across the African diaspora, examining the influence of Garvey's Universal Negro Improvement Association (UNIA) in Africa, Australia, North America, and the Caribbean. They highlight the underrecognized work of many Garveyite women and show how the UNIA played a key role in shaping labor unions, political organizations, churches, and schools. In addition, contributors describe the importance of grassroots efforts for expanding the global movement; the UNIA trained leaders to organize local centers of power, whose political activism outside the movement helped Garvey's message escape its organizational bounds during the 1920s. They trace the imprint of the movement on long-term developments such as decolonization in Africa and the Caribbean, the pan-Aboriginal fight for land rights in Australia, the civil rights and Black Power movements in the United States, and the radical pan-African movement. Rejecting the idea that Garveyism was a brief and misguided phenomenon, this volume exposes its scope, significance, and endurance. Together, contributors assert that Garvey initiated the most important mass movement in the history of the African diaspora, and they urge readers to rethink the emergence of modern Black politics with Garveyism at the center. Contributors: Ronald J. Stephens, Adam Ewing, Keisha N. Blain, Nicole Bourbonnais, Jos Andr s Fern ndez Montes de Oca, John Maynard, Erik S.

Philosophical Foundations of the African Humanities through Postcolonial Perspectives, 2019-03-19 Philosophical Foundations of the African Humanities through Postcolonial Perspectives critiques recent claims that the humanities especially in public universities in poor countries have lost their significance defining missions methods and standards due to the pressure to justify their existence The predominant responses to these claims have been that the humanities are relevant for creating a world culture to address the world s problems This book argues that behind such arguments lies a false neutrality constructed to deny the values intrinsic to marginalized cultures and peoples and to justify their perceived inferiority These essays by scholars in postcolonial studies critique these false claims about the humanities through critical analyses of alterity difference and how the Other is perceived defined and subdued Contributors Gordon S K Adika Kofi N Awoonor E John Collins Kari Dako Mary Esther Kropp Dakubu James Gibbs Helen Lauer Bernth Lindfors J H Kwabena Nketia Abena Oduro Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Ol f mi T w Alexis B Tengan Kwasi Wiredu Francis Nii Yartey

States and Power in Africa Jeffrey Herbst, 2014-12-21 Theories of international relations assumed to be universally applicable have failed to explain the creation of states in Africa There the interaction of power and space is dramatically different from what occurred in Europe In States and Power in Africa Jeffrey Herbst places the African state building process in a truly comparative perspective Herbst s bold contention that the conditions now facing African state builders existed long before European penetration of the continent is sure to provoke controversy for it runs counter to the prevailing assumption that colonialism changed everything This revised edition includes a new preface in which the author links the enormous changes that have taken place in Africa over the past fifteen years to long term state consolidation The final chapter on policy prescriptions has also been revised to reflect the evolution of African and international responses to state failure
