Selfimages 100 Women:

Self-images André Rival, Klaus Honnert, 1995 André Rival at home in both Paris and Berlin has created a fascinating project out of a relatively simple idea 100 women taking photographs of themselves The outcome is both startling and impressive It is an expression of contemporary female identity self aware distinctive and thoroughly positive in a series of nude photographs that inexorably capture and hold our attention revealing at the same time the artist's highly creative approach to the medium of photography and to the individual selves of the women portrayed The author describes his project in this way We are inundated with pictures of women in the media Ordinarily the pictures we see seek to achieve a kind of sameness based on unwritten ideals of beauty physical perfection total fitness become the determining factors These images of women provoked as they are by the media industry awakened in me the urge to confront both that industry and myself with something else I chose to set aside my own ways of thinking and do a series of 100 women in which it was not I who would put together the photographs but the women themselves For this purpose I gave them each a shutter switch and left the room That represented the beginning of the attempt to enable the women to become photographic subjects rather than objects they were left to decide on their own which personal image of themselves they wanted to convey The conditions were the same for all of the women the same lighting the same white background and the same unchanged camera position It was essential to fix the location of the camera so that the women did not perceive themselves as being pursued by an observer instead they were able to establish distance and camera angle themselves with the aid of a video screen that showed them each camera exposure as a still photo Korean Women, Self-Esteem, and Practical Theology Jaeyeon Lucy

Chung, 2017-11-07 This book offers a critical constructive study of Korean women's self esteem from a feminist practical theological perspective Jaeyeon Lucy Chung recognizes two different and yet related problems the absence of scholarly work on women's self esteem from non white non Western groups in the field of practical theology and the lack of attention to the low self esteem prevalent in Korean women's sociocultural and religious context Chung employs in depth interview studies while drawing on theoretical resources of psychology theology and cultural studies to develop a relational communal theory of self esteem and a systematic communal understanding of pastoral care practice The project offers insights into the life experience of Korean women especially self esteem and it reveals some of the ways self esteem can be fostered The Advocate, 1995-04-18 The Advocate is a lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT monthly newsmagazine Established in 1967 it is the oldest continuing LGBT publication in the United States Extending Self-Esteem Theory and Research

Timothy J. Owens, Sheldon Stryker, Norman Goodman, 2006-11-02 Self esteem is an academic and popular phenomenon vigorously researched and debated sometimes imbued with magical qualities other times vilified as the bane of the West's preoccupation with self Though thousands of articles have been devoted to the topic and bookshops work to feed the public's appetite for advice on revealing enhancing and maintaining self esteem conflicting claims and findings have placed the field in disarray In a very real sense self esteem is a victim of its own popularity This book seeks to add clarity to a concept earlier examined by such notable self theorists as Morris Rosenberg but eminently worthy of re examination and extension We do this by asking some leading thinkers on self esteem theory measurement and application to assess what we know about self esteem and link it to important aspects of society and the human experience Fetishes Grand Street,1995 Self-Esteem Ian Miller,2024-02-07 By the end of the twentieth century the idea of self esteem had become enormously influential A staggering amount of psychological research and self help literature was being published and before long devoured by readers Self esteem initiatives permeated American schools Self esteem became the way of understanding ourselves our personalities our interactions with others Nowadays however few people think much about the concept of self esteem but perhaps we should Self Esteem An American History is the first historical study to explore the emotional politics of self esteem in modern America Written with verve and insight Ian Miller s expert analysis looks at the critiques of self help that accuse it of propping up conservative agendas by encouraging us to look solely inside ourselves to resolve life s problems At the same time he reveals how African American LGBTQ and feminist activists have endeavored to build positive collective identities based on self esteem pride and self respect This revelatory book will be essential reading for anyone with an interest in the history of mental health and well being and in how the politics of self esteem is played out in today s US society and culture Images and Self-images Daisy Hilse Dwyer,1978 Daisy Dwyer s principal theme is that belief systems concerning sexuality and male female relations are systematically linked with the distribution of power and authority between the sexes in different cultural situations The relations between belief systems and authority varies according to whether men and women share essentially the same ideology concerning sex roles and sexuality e g dominant males subordinate females as they do in some settings or whether their ideologies significantly contrast p 165 169 Because of the potential for ideological variation between the sexes in a given culture Dwyer argues that belief systems concerning sexuality are often more complicated than they have often been assumed to be by theorists who presume that sexual ideologies can be reduced to simplistic formulae such as woman is to man as nature is to culture p 5 Dwyer s study is based upon Taroudannt a southern Moroccan town in which she conducted field research around 1970 the exact period of research is unspecified but textual references are made to 1970 events She argues that the Taroudannt ideology provides an instance of men and women sharing a belief in female inferiority and subordination although both acknowledge that the dominant characteristics of the two sexes significantly overlap p 51 Dwyer provides normative descriptions of how sex roles are inculcated and come to be accepted and also of the shared normative expectations of men and women at different stages in their life cycles She rightly insists upon dispensing with Western stereotypes concerning Arab Muslim sexuality and upon emphasizing the temporal and historical dimension of sexual ideologies From <https://www.jstor.org> Sep 15 2015 Body Work Sylvia K. Female Spectacle Susan A. Glenn, 2009-07-01 When the French actress Sarah Bernhardt made her first American tour in 1880 the term feminism had not yet entered our national vocabulary But over the course of the next half century a rising generation of daring actresses and comics brought a new kind of woman to center stage Exploring and exploiting modern fantasies and fears about female roles and gender identity these performers eschewed theatrical convention and traditional notions of womanly modesty They created powerful images of themselves as ambitious independent and sexually expressive New Women Female Spectacle reveals the theater to have been a powerful new source of cultural authority and visibility for women Ironically theater also provided an arena in which producers and audiences projected the uncertainties and hostilities that accompanied changing gender relations From Bernhardt's modern methods of self promotion to Emma Goldman's political theatrics from the female mimics and Salome dancers to the upwardly striving chorus girl Glenn shows us how and why theater mattered to women and argues for its pivotal role in the emergence of modern feminism

The Advocate ,1995      Why They Kill Richard Rhodes,2015-10-21 Why do some men women and even children assault batter rape mutilate and murder In his stunning new book the Pulitzer Prize winner Richard Rhodes provides a startling and persuasive answer Why They Kill explores the discoveries of a maverick American criminologist Dr Lonnie Athens himself the child of a violent family which challenge conventional theories about violent behavior By interviewing violent criminals in prison Dr Athens has identified a pattern of social development common to all seriously violent people a four stage process he calls violentization First brutalization A young person is forced by violence or the threat of violence to submit to an aggressive authority figure he witnesses the violent subjugation of intimates and the authority figure coaches him to use violence to settle disputes Second belligerency The dispirited subject determined to prevent his further violent subjugation heeds his coach and resolves to resort to violence Third violent performances His violent response to provocation succeeds and he reads respect and fear in the eyes of others Fourth virulency Exultant he determines from now on to utilize serious violence as a means of dealing with people and he bonds with others who believe as he does Since all four stages must be fully experienced in sequence and completed to produce a violent individual we see how intervening to interrupt the process can prevent a tragic outcome Rhodes supports Athens s theory with historical evidence and shows how it explains such violent careers as those of Perry Smith the killer central to Truman Capote s narrative In Cold Blood Mike Tyson preppy rapist Alex Kelly and Lee Harvey Oswald Why They Kill challenges with devastating evidence the theory that violent behavior is impulsive unconsciously motivated and predetermined It offers compelling insights into the terrible ongoing dilemma of criminal violence that plagues families neighborhoods cities and schools
