Semantics Of Ancient Hebrew:

Studies in Ancient Hebrew Semantics T. Muraoka, 1995 This publication is a collection of studies devoted to various aspects of the semantics and lexicography of Ancient Hebrew All contributions except the last two were originally delivered as papers to a symposium held in July 1994 at Leiden University The symposium rounded off a three year long international network funded by the European Science Foundation under the leadership of Prof Dr J Hoftijzer from whose contribution to the present volume one may gain an insight into the conception and philosophy of the research project and its history so far This volume will in addition to some earlier publications which have appeared in the Zeitschrift fur Althebraistik give the reader some idea of the general thinking which has assisted the authors in the formulation of their approach to the task lying before them It ought to be emphasised however that all the studies appearing in this volume ought to be of interest to any Hebraist and Old Testament scholar for they are hardly in house publications but address some important aspects of the Ancient Hebrew semantics and lexicography

The Semantics of Ancient Hebrew Colour Lexemes John E. Hartley, 2010 Colours play a vital role in the daily lives of all peoples Truly remarkable is the human ability to see such a vast array of colours Just as intriguing is the way languages develop lexemes to reference the colours that the eye sees In recent years there have been many investigations into the way that languages add colour lexemes This research has shown that languages as a rule follow similar definable steps in the addition of basic colour lexemes Anthropologists have discovered that in languages of primitive cultures lexemes for colour play different roles than they do in languages of industrialised societies Consequently studies of colour lexemes of such languages need to employ different methods of inquiry into such a language s colour vocabulary Additional insights have been gained through the study of colour lexemes in ancient languages This study makes a contribution to the field of the semantics of colour by investigating ancient Hebrew colour lexemes as found in the Hebrew Scriptures ancient inscriptions Ben Sira and Qumran In part 1 there is a consideration of the physical phenomenon of colour and a review of recent research on languages acquisition of colour terms Part 2 presents the detailed analysis of each Hebrew colour lexeme according to the format of the Semantics in Ancient Hebrew Database included is the position of each lexeme with its semantic field and the scholarly literature This volume is produced as part of the international project the Semantics of Ancient Hebrew Database

Semantics of Ancient Hebrew T. Muraoka, 1998 This volume publishes the results of research on select lexemes covering the fields of cosmos cursing way and royal appurtenance

Semantics of Ancient Hebrew Database David James Reimer, 1995

The Semantics of Blessing and Cursing in Ancient Hebrew James K. Aitken, 2007 Blessings and curses represent complex social and theological phenomena and challenge our linguistic and conceptual understandings of the society in which they are used This volume gathers together the semantic information for the words used in ancient Hebrew including inscriptions Ben Sira and Qumran for the field of blessing and cursing Since semantics must take into account the context in which the words are used Part 1 surveys different approaches to the understanding of blessing and cursing in Israelite religion and society and the anthropological and linguistic approaches taken in interpreting them The relevance of these approaches to a semantic study is noted and a summary of the second part of the volume is given Part 2 is a detailed presentation of the data for each word including discussion of the root morphology translations in the ancient versions position within the semantic field and scholarly literature The aim is to provide as full a treatment as possible for a semantic interpretation of the field The volume has been produced as part of the international project the Semantics of Ancient Hebrew Database

The Semantic Field of Cutting Tools in Biblical Hebrew Aaron Koller, 2023-09-29 This volume is concerned with field of cutting tools in Biblical Hebrew texts and deals with the interface of philological semantic and archeological evidence

Biblical Lexicology: Hebrew and Greek Eberhard Bons, Jan Joosten, Regine Hunziker-Rodewald, 2015-07-01 Lexicography together with grammatical studies and textual criticism forms the basis of biblical exegesis Recent decades have seen much progress in this field yet increasing specialization also tends to have the paradoxical effect of turning exegesis into an independent discipline while leaving lexicography to the experts The present volume seeks to renew and intensify the exchange between the study of words and the study of texts This is done in reference to both the Hebrew source text and the earliest Greek translation the Septuagint Questions addressed in the contributions to this volume are how linguistic meaning is effected how it relates to words and how words may be translated into another language in Antiquity and today Etymology semantic fields syntagmatic relations word history neologisms and other subthemes are discussed The main current and prospective projects of biblical lexicology or lexicography are presented thus giving an idea of the state of the art Some of the papers also open up wider perspectives of interpretation

A Linguistic-Theological Exegesis of Ezekiel as Môphêṯ Stefano Salemi, 2024-03-25 Delve into Ezekiel's tumultuous world discovering his role as YHWH's unique sign among many others and a divine communicator Does the Exile's trauma find an ameliorating perspective through Ezekiel's symbolic actions and identity From temple absence to YHWH's glory departure from loss and prohibited grief to intermittent mutism is Ezekiel a response to a communication crisis between YHWH and Israel Uncover how his elusive meaning sheds light on Ezekiel's role as an embodiment of YHWH's presence a bridge in YHWH's intricate relationship with Israel Through meticulous exegesis and linguistic theological analysis you will experience afresh Ezekiel's narrative and theology

Oracular Law and Priestly Historiography in the Torah Simeon Chavel, 2014-11-19 Simeon Chavel identifies a distinct story type in the Torah the oracular novella its contours and poetics historical background and use A very short story of human quandary resolved by divine law the oracular novella depicts an incident or set of circumstances in Israel oracular inquiry by Moses and instruction by Yahweh The Torah has four such stories all in the Priestly source about cursing Yahweh Lev 24 10 23 Pesa deferral Num 9 1 14 woodgathering on the Sabbath Num 15 32 36 and inheritance by daughters Num 27 1 11 All four dramatize themes in the divine speeches and divinely directed activities preceding them But each utilizes the legal climax distinctly has a separate compositional history and affected other biblical texts differently Ancient sources show the oracular novellas to adapt a form of priestly activity for historiography Together they illuminate the Priestly History deeply troping divine will as law and highlight Judean priests cherishing oracular inquiry as the nexus of divine and human society James Barr Assessed, 2021-08-16 James Barr is a widely recognized name in biblical studies even if he is still best known for his The Semantics of Biblical Language Barr's Semantics although first published in 1961 still generates animated discussion of its claims However over his lengthy career Barr published significant scholarship on a wide variety of topics within Old Testament studies and beyond This volume provides an assessment of Barr's contribution to biblical studies sixty years after the publication of his first and still memorable volume on biblical semantics As a result this volume includes essays on major topics such as the Hebrew language lexical semantics lexicography the Septuagint and biblical theology Advances in the Study of Biblical Hebrew and Aramaic Benjamin J. Noonan, 2020-02-18 Advances in the Study of Biblical Hebrew and Aramaic by Benjamin J Noonan examines issues of interest in the current world of Biblical Hebrew and Aramaic scholarship and their impact on understanding the Old Testament it provides an accessible introduction for students pastors professors and commentators to understand these important issues The Genre of Biblical Commentary Timothy D. Finlay, William Yarchin, 2015-10-16 The genre of biblical commentary is as old as the Bible itself and remains very much alive as a point of illuminating contact between the ancient text and its modern readers In this volume fourteen international Old Testament experts reflect upon multiple challenges of contemporary biblical commentary as a scholarly endeavor How does a commentator strike a balance between engagement with the biblical text and the commentary tradition that the text has generated over the centuries How does academically rigorous commentary writing remain relevant for pastoral and lay readers of the Bible Ancient biblical writers are notoriously diverse in their theological and literary nuances Modern readers approach the Bible from an equally wide spectrum of interests How does today's commentator act responsibly for all the text's stakeholders John E Hartley is widely respected for the multiple volumes he has produced with these questions in mind This collection of essays appears in celebration of his accomplishments in the genre of Old Testament biblical commentary The Verb in Archaic Biblical Poetry Tania Notarius, 2013-07-04 The Verb in Archaic Biblical Poetry A Discursive Typological and Historical Investigation of the Tense System offers a comprehensive analysis of the syntactic semantic pragmatic and discursive properties of the verb in the corpus of archaic biblical poetry The Song of Moses Song of the Sea Song of Deborah Song of David Blessing of Jacob Oracles of Balaam Blessing of Moses and Song of Hannah The approach integrates modern research on tense aspect and modality while also addressing the complicated philological issues in these texts The study presents discursive analysis of biblical poetic texts systemic description of each text's tense system and reconstruction of the archaic verbal tenses as attested in part of the corpus The Influence of Post-Biblical Hebrew and Aramaic on the Translator of Septuagint Isaiah Seulgi L. Byun, 2017-01-12 For many years scholars have noted that post biblical Hebrew and Aramaic may have influenced some of the renderings in the ancient Greek versions of the Hebrew Bible but examination of this has usually been done only in passing with little or no discussion and scant evidence Seulgi L Byun examines the ancient Greek version of Isaiah commonly referred to as LXX Septuagint Isaiah and examines a number of possible cases in depth in order to determine the degree to which semantic change within Hebrew as well as the spread of Aramaic already in the Second Temple period may have influenced the translator The book begins with an overview of key issues semantic change the development or non development of the Hebrew language previous scholarship issues in the study of LXX Isaiah and methodological considerations This is followed by four larger sections representing various categories of examples where post biblical Hebrew or Aramaic may have influenced renderings in the text each offering specific examples The first section contains examples where post biblical Hebrew may have influenced LXX Isaiah the second section offers examples of Aramaic influence the third section addresses examples where the influence is not clear possibly both post biblical Hebrew and Aramaic and the fourth section discusses the possibility of word manipulation cases where the translator of LXX Isaiah manipulated the Hebrew with a post biblical Hebrew or Aramaic meaning word in mind

Relational Semantics and the Anatomy of Abstraction Tamar Sovran, 2013-09-05 This book presents a study of meaning relations linking the philosophical tradition of conceptual analysis with recent theories and methodologies in cognitive semantics Its main concern is the extent to which analyzing meaning relations between cognate words reveal the infrastructure of the actual and mental lexicon assuming that language mirrors thought Sovran aims to elucidate their infrastructure and the metaphorical and perceptual models that constitute abstract concepts dealing finally with the role of abstraction in poetic metaphors Overall this volume addresses major contemporary issues in the philosophy of language and theoretical semantics

Religious and Philosophical Conversion in the Ancient Mediterranean Traditions, 2022-03-07 The interest in interdisciplinary research on the experience of religious conversion or spiritual transformation grows progressively In light of this burgeoning area of study this volume explores conversion or converting experience in the ancient Mediterranean with attention to early Judaism early Christianity and philosophy in the Roman empire The contributions include both historical and philological reconstructions relying on source material and utilizing interdisciplinary approaches Similarly the authors analyze the literary use of the motif of conversion the topic of philosophical conversion as well as ritual social and embodied aspects of spiritual transformation

The Language of Colour in the Bible Lourdes García Ureña, Emanuela Valeriani, Anna Angelini, Carlos Santos Carretero, Marina Salvador Gimeno, 2022-04-19 The Bible is one of the books that has aroused the most interest throughout history to the present day However there is one topic that has mostly been neglected and which today constitutes one of the most emblematic elements of the visual culture in which we live immersed the language of colour Colour is present in the biblical text from its beginning to its end but it has hardly been studied and we appear to have forgotten that the detailed study of the colour terms in the Bible is essential to understanding the use and symbolism that the language of colour has acquired in the literature that has forged European culture and art The objective of the present study is to provide the modern reader with the meaning of colour terms of the lexical families related to the green tonality in order to determine whether they denote only color and if so what is the coloration expressed or whether together with the chromatic denotation another reality inseparable from colour underlies along with the chromatic denotation there is another underlying reality that is inseparable from colour We will study the symbolism that which underpins some of these colour terms and which European culture has inherited This lexicographical study requires a methodology that allows us to approach colour not in accordance with our modern and abstract concept of colour but with the concept of the ancient civilizations This is why the concept of colour that emerges from each of the versions of the Bible is studied and compared with that found in theoretical reflection in both Greek and Latin Colour thus emerges as a concrete reality visible on the surface of objects reflecting in many cases not an intrinsic quality but their state This concept has a reflection in the biblical languages since the terms of colour always describe an entity in this sense one can say that they are embodied and include within them a wide chromatic spectrum that is they are mostly polysemic Structuralism through the componential analysis although providing interesting contributions had at the same time serious shortcomings when it came to the study of colour These were addressed through the theoretical framework provided by cognitive linguistics and some of its tools such as cognitive domains metonymy and metaphor Our study then is one of the first to apply some of the contributions of cognitive linguistics to lexicography in general and particularly with reference to the Hebrew Greek and Latin versions of the Bible A further novel contribution of this research is that the meaning is expressed through a definition and not through a list of possible colour terms as happens in dictionaries or in studies referring to colour in antiquity The definition allows us to delve deeper and discover new nuances that enrich the understanding of colour in the three great civilizations involved in our study Israel Greece and Rome

Semantics and Poetics of the Righteous and the Wicked in the Psalms Kevin Foth,2024-12-15 In Semantics and Poetics of the Righteous and the Wicked in the Psalms Kevin Foth delves into the nuanced roles of the righteous and the wicked and explores their significance beyond conventional moral prototypes The study argues that the figures of the righteous and the wicked should be considered as part of the conventions of Hebrew psalmody By leveraging insights from lexical semantics of the terms and throughout the Hebrew Bible the study broadens the understanding of these terms in their multifaceted uses within poetic contexts The analysis further employs narratological theories about character and characterization to elucidate how the contrast between the righteous and wicked functions within 18 individual psalms By focusing on the specific contexts within psalms and embracing poetic diversity this study enriches the understanding of how these figures contribute to the literary features and theological messages woven throughout the Book of Psalms

The Days of Our Years Milton Eng,2013-06-20 The present study is a significant revision and updating of my 1998 dissertation at Drew University

The Pragmatics of Perception and Cognition in MT Jeremiah 1:1-6:30 Elizabeth

Hayes, 2008-12-10 Recent advances in cognitive linguistics provide new avenues for reading and interpreting Biblical Hebrew prophetic text This volume utilises a multi layered cognitive linguistics approach to explore Jeremiah 1 1 6 30 incorporating insights from cognitive grammar cognitive science and conceptual blending theory While the modern reader is separated from the originators of these texts by time space and culture this analysis rests on the theory that both the originators and the modern reader share common features of embodied experience This opens the way for utilising cognitive models conceptual metaphor and mental spaces theory when reading and interpreting ancient texts This volume provides an introduction to cognitive theory and method Initially short examples from Jeremiah 1 1 6 30 are used to introduce the theory and method This is followed by a detailed comparison of traditional and cognitive approaches to Biblical Hebrew grammar These insights are then applied to further examples taken from Jeremiah 1 1 6 30 in order to test and refine the approach These findings show that Jeremiah 1 1 1 3 establishes perspective for the text as a whole and that subsequent shifts in perspective may be tracked using aspects of mental spaces theory Much of the textual content yields to concepts derived from conceptual metaphor studies and from conceptual blending theory which are introduced and explained using examples taken from Jeremiah 1 1 6 30 The entire analysis demonstrates some of the strengths and weaknesses of using recent cognitive theories and methods for analysing and interpreting ancient texts While such theories and methods do not obviate the need for traditional interpretive methods they do provide a more nuanced understanding of the ancient text
