The Shorter Dictionary of English Furniture Ralph Edwards, 1987-01-01 The shorter dictionary of English furniture from the middle ages to the late Georgian period R. Edwards, 1987 The Making of the English Middle Class Peter Earle, 1989-01-01 This is the first major study of a neglected yet extremely significant subject the London middle classes in the period between 1660 and 1730 a period in which they created a society and economy that can be seen with hindsight to have ushered in the modern world Using a wealth of material from contemporary sources including wills business papers inventories marriage contracts divorce hearings and the writings of Daniel Defoe and Samuel Pepys Peter Earle presents a fully rounded picture of the middling sort of people getting to the hearts of their lives as men and women struggling for success in the biggest richest and most middle class city in contemporary Europe He examines in fascinating and convincing detail the business life of Londoners from apprenticeship through the problems and potential rewards of different occupational groups going on to look at middle class family social political and material life from relationships with spouses children servants and neighbors to food and clothes and furniture to sickness death and burial Stimulating scholarly and constantly illuminating this book is an important and impressive contribution to English social history Late Georgian and Regency England, 1760-1837 Robert A. Smith, 2004-07-08 A guide to historical literature on England between 1760 and 1837 emphasising more recent work Of Books and Botany in Early Modern England Leah Knight, 2016-12-05 Contemplating the textual gardens poetic garlands and epigrammatic groves which dot the landscape of early modern English print Leah Knight exposes and analyzes the close configuration of plants and writing in the period She argues that the early modern cultures and cultivation of plants and books depended on each other in historically specific and novel ways that yielded a profusion of linguistic conceptual metaphorical and material intersections Examining both poetic and botanical texts as well as the poetics of botanical texts this study focuses on the two outstanding English botanical writers of the sixteenth century William Turner and John Gerard to suggest the unexpected historical relationship between literature and science in the early modern genre of the herbal In depth readings of their work are situated amid chapters that establish the broader context for the interpenetration of plants and writing in the period s cultural practices in order to illuminate a complex interplay between materials and discourses rarely considered in tandem today European Furniture in The Metropolitan Museum of Art Daniëlle O. Kisluk-Grosheide,, Wolfram Koeppe, William Rieder, 2006-05-30 This beautifully produced volume is the first to survey the Metropolitan Museum s world renowned collection of European furniture One hundred and three superb examples from the Museum s vast holdings are featured They originated in workshops in England France Germany Italy the Netherlands Austria Russia or Spain and date from the Renaissance to the late nineteenth century A number of them belonged to such important historical figures as Pope Urban VIII Louis XIV Madame de Pompadour and Napoleon The selection includes chairs tables beds cabinets commodes settees and sofas bookcases and standing shelves desks fire screens ath niennes coffers chests mirrors and frames showcases and lighting equipment There is also one purely decorative piece a superb vase made for a Russian noble family who according to one awestruck viewer owned all the malachite mines in the world The makers of some of the objects are unknown but most of the pieces can be identified by label documentation or style as the work of an outstanding European designer craftsman such as Andr Charles Boulle Thomas Chippendale David Roentgen or Karl Friedrich Schinkel A History of Seating, 3000 BC to 2000 AD Jenny Pynt,Joy Higgs,2010 The focus of this book is on functional seating and the key argument presented is that functional seating needs to assist the person using it for the performance of seated tasks enhance rather than detract from the person s posture and health and it needs to provide aesthetic features that do not limit task or health The book spans the period 3000BC to 2000AD and presents largely Western seating This book is unique in its approach to seating because it draws together evidence that relates to seating that facilitates health and task while also addressing aesthetic factors This evidence creates an understanding of how seats may be designed to not only promote bodily health but also allow functional optimisation of sitting and seating This book is important to furniture and industrial designers interior decorators architects those teaching seat design health professionals attending and educating those who relax or work in the seated position furniture historians and members of the general public interested in the history of seating

Heckscher, 1985 This publication documents The Metropolitan Museum of Art's collection of early colonial furniture and presents a broad spectrum of furniture forms made in America during the 17th and early 18th centuries including chairs and other seating tables boxes various types of chests and cupboards dressing tables and desks The volume also includes prime examples of the different modes of ornamentation in fashion during that period Over 140 objects are thoroughly described with detailed information given on each one's construction condition dimensions materials and inscriptions and other marks as well as provenance and exhibition history Every object is explained in terms of the styles and craftsmanship of the period and evaluated in light of comparative pieces in public and private collections throughout the country Also included is one appendix containing photographic details of construction and decorative elements and another with line drawings explaining furniture terms and showing various types of joints and moldings This is the first volume in a series of two that is dedicated to American furniture in the Museum Metropolitan Museum of Art website     English Furniture 1500-1840 Geoffrey Beard, Judith Goodison, 1987     Turning Houses into Homes Clive Edwards, 2017-05-15 From the earliest times people have striven to turn their houses into homes through the use of decoration and furnishings stimulating in turn a major commercial sector dedicated to offering the products and services essential to feed the ever changing dictates of domestic fashion Whilst there is plentiful evidence to show that these phenomena can be traced to medieval times it is arguable that the eighteenth century witnessed the birth of a widespread and sophisticated consumer society With a comparatively wealthy and socially mobile society eighteenth century Britain proved to be a fertile ground for ideas of home improvement and beautification which were to persist to the present day Turning Houses into Homes not only maps the history changes development and structure of the retail furnishing industry in Britain over three centuries but also examines the relationships between the retailer and the consumer looking at how retailers helped stimulate and shape the demand of their customers Whilst work has been done on specific aspects of the home very little has been written on the interaction between the retailer and consumer and the pressures brought to bear on them by issues such as gender education status symbolism taste decoration hygiene comfort and entertainment As such this book offers a valuable conjunction of retail history and consumption practices which are examined through a multi disciplinary approach to explore both their intimate connections and their wider roles in society     "Material Cultures, 1740-1920" Alla Myzelev, 2017-07-05 Interweaving notions of identity and subjectivity spatial contexts materiality and meaning this collection makes a significant contribution to debates around the status and interpretation of visual and material culture Material Cultures 1740-1920 has four primary theoretical and historiographic lines of inquiry The first is how concepts of otherness and difference inform imbricate and impose themselves on identity and the modes of acquisition as well as the objects themselves The second concern explores the intricacies of how objects and their subjects negotiate and represent spatial narratives The third thread attempts to unravel the ideological underpinnings of collections of individuals which inevitably and invariably rub up against the social the institutional and the political Finally at the heart of Material Cultures 1740 1920 is an intervention moving beyond the disciplinary ethos of material culture to argue more firmly for the aesthetic visual and semiotic potency inseparable from any understanding of material objects integral to the lives of their collecting subjects The collection argues that objects are semiotic conduits or signs of meanings pleasures and desires that are deeply subjective more often than not they reveal racial gendered and sexual identities As the volume demonstrates through its various case studies material and visual cultures are not as separate as our current disciplinary ethos would lead us to believe     Booklist ,1926     The Burlington Magazine for Connoisseurs ,1924     The Burlington Magazine
