Accounts of the Stewards of the Talbot

Household at Blakemere 1392-1425 Barbara Ross,2003 Blakemere is located about a mile from the town of Whitchurch in north Shropshire Barges & Bargemen Barrie Stuart Trinder,2005 Focuses on the River Severn between the Worcestershire ports of Bewdley and Stourport and the medieval weir near Welshpool that marks the uppermost limit of boating a stretch where the river remained in a state of nature This book traces the history of river trade from 1660 through its heyday during the Industrial Revolution Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Middle Iron Age Warfare of the Hillfort Dominated Zone C. 400 BC to C. 150 BC. Jon Bryant Finney,2006 Oxbow says This study re evaluates many of the misconceptions about the war crazed Iron Age warrior hero and questions anew the role of hillforts as truly or primarily defensive structures Taking a regional approach to Middle Iron Age warfare Finney examines hillforts and weaponry from lowland Britain The Local Studies Librarian ,1993 The Bronze Age Landscape of the Northern English Midlands David Mullin,2003 Wet wooded and largely unattractive is how some have characterised the northern Midlands in the Bronze Age In this thesis David Mullin undertakes an archaeological investigation of the ill studied regions of Cheshire northern Shropshire and northern Staffordshire The Invention of the English Landscape Peter Borsay,Rosemary Sweet,2023-07-27 Since at least the Reformation English men and women have been engaged in visiting exploring and portraying in words and images the landscape of their nation The Invention of the English Landscape examines these journeys and investigations to explore how the natural and historic English landscape was reconfigured to become a widely enjoyed cultural and leisure resource Peter Borsay considers the manifold forces behind this transformation such as the rise of consumer culture the media industrial and transport revolutions the Enlightenment Romanticism and the Gothic revival In doing so he reveals the development of a powerful bond between landscape and natural identity against the backdrop of social and political change from the early modern period to the start of the Second World War Borsay s interdisciplinary approach demonstrates how human understandings of the natural world shaped the geography of England and uncovers a wealth of valuable material from novels and poems to paintings that expose historical understandings of the landscape This innovative approach illuminates how the English countryside and historic buildings became cultural icons behind which the nation was rallied during war time and explores the emergence of a post war heritage industry that is now a definitive part of British cultural life Encyclopedia of British Writers Christine L. Krueger,2014-07 This concise encyclopedic reference profiles more than 800 British poets The Edge of Cymru Julie Brominicks,2023-03-06 In the course of a year Julie Brominicks walked around the edge of Wales having left her job in environmental education at the Centre for Alternative Technology in Machynlleth As an English incomer and a Welsh learner with a long association with the country she was interested in what Wales meant and how she did or didn t fit in to it The result is a fascinating alternative travelogue which merges topography history environmentalism and observation of nature to produce the long view of Wales discovering the roots of the present in the past sometimes the distant past Brominicks observations of the places and people she discovers around Wales are lively and well written although this is her journey in many senses of that word the narrative is at least as interested in who she meets and what she sees especially of ordinary life She brings the everyday to life in thought provoking ways her book a new way of looking at the place where we live and the people with whom we live our lives knowingly and unknowingly Her writing is lyrical studded with engaging and striking coinages and images which take the reader along the journey with her both entertained and informed The Edge of Cymru is a refreshingly new way of looking at place identity memory and belonging especially through an environmental lens It rewards the reader whether they are interested in Wales specifically or the world generally Bursts with beautiful descriptive prose which picks up the minutia of each moment Brominicks skilfully examines broad social environmental political economic and even geological changes without the book feeling dry as accessible as a novel and would make a great holiday read as much as a bedside book Countryfile Magazine

Morris Telford's Salopian Odyssey (Hc) Russell Payne, 2010-03-07 It started out as an online diary on the BBC Shropshire website A thirty three year old man obsessed with Bingo stationary and Countdown living with his Mother in a small village He decides to quite his job take his life savings and embark on a worldwide quest to convince everybody outside Shropshire that if they lived life like the people in his village do they would be much happier It sounds naive but he managed to get quite a following and now a big chunk of China a little bit of Amsterdam an all girl Australian Beatles tribute band and a Dutch chapter of the Hells Angels all see Morris Telford as the man with the answers Handbook of Landscape Archaeology

Bruno David, Julian Thomas, 2016-06-03 Over 80 archaeologists from four continents create a benchmark volume of the ideas and practices of landscape archaeology covering the theoretical and the practical the research and conservation and encasing the term in a global framework The use of airspace Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Transport Committee, 2009-07-10 The Government's Future of Air Transport strategy aims to significantly increase UK airport capacity over the next two decades to accommodate the predicted growth in demand for air travel New runways at Heathrow and Stansted airports are two of the key airport development proposals If all the White Paper supported airport development proposals came to fruition current Government forecasts predict that the number of passengers passing through UK airports will increase from 241 million passengers a year in 2007 to 455 million passengers a year in 2030 This UK growth matches air traffic predictions for the whole continent Eurocontrol the European Organisation for the Safety of Air Navigation predicts that European air traffic will double by 2020 If rising demand for air travel is to be met effectively through additional airport capacity a corresponding increase in airspace capacity must be realised However a country's airspace the portion of atmosphere above its territory and territorial waters controlled by that country is a finite resource UK airspace particularly in the South East of England is already some of the busiest and most complex to manage in the world This will almost certainly require improvements in the efficiency of the UK air traffic management system The Committee's inquiry aims to look at how to meet these challenges Its findings are aimed at those organisations responsible for airspace related decisions in the UK the CAA NATS and the Department for Transport Passenger numbers and freight demand globally have declined in 2008 and in the first months of 2009 In its conclusions and recommendations the Committee covered the management of airspace strategy change and co ordination in airspace management environmental impacts of airspace changes and European developments
