stabilisation and state building particularly of the country s security and justice institutions Securing Sierra Leone 1997 2013 examines how the process of state building through security sector reform developed in Sierra Leone and the impact of this experience on international conceptualisations of such reform as well as on international interventions more broadly The study is the most detailed of its kind based on a comprehensive analysis of UK engagement in Sierra Leone between 1997 and 2013 including a host of first hand accounts from key local and international actors This monograph shows why the UK intervention in Sierra Leone has been a relative success However it also questions the sustainability of state building efforts that are driven by concepts of the liberal state In Sierra Leone critical challenges remain not least in the combination of a particular vision of what a state should look like and the unrealistic expectations of progress on the part of the international community Sierra Leone David John Harris,2014 A new political history of the former British colony in West Africa best known for its diamonds and recent violent civil war this covers 225 years of history and fills a gap in African studies
