Everyday Revolutions Michelle Arrow, Angela Woollacott, 2019-08-30 The 1970s was a decade when matters previously considered private and personal became public and political These shifts not only transformed Australian politics they engendered far reaching cultural and social changes Feminists challenged man made norms and sought to recover lost histories of female achievement and cultural endeavour They made films picked up spanners and established printing presses The notion that the personal was political began to transform long held ideas about masculinity and femininity both in public and private life In the spaces between official discourses and everyday experience many sought to revolutionise the lives of Australian men and women Everyday Revolutions brings together new research on the cultural and social impact of the feminist and sexual revolutions of the 1970s in Australia Gay Liberation and Women s Liberation movements erupted challenging almost every aspect of Australian life The pill became widely available and sexuality was both celebrated and flaunted Campaigns to decriminalise abortion and homosexuality emerged across the country Activists set up women s refuges rape crisis centres and counselling services Governments responded to new demands for representation and rights appointing women s advisors and funding new services Everyday Revolutions is unique in its focus not on the activist or legislative achievements of the women s and gay and lesbian movements but on their cultural and social dimensions It is a diverse and rich collection of essays that reminds us that women s and gay liberation were revolutionary movements

Revolution Richard Haese, 2012-02-01 In 1961 the 22 year old Mike Brown joined the New Zealand artist Ross Crothall in an old terrace house in inner Sydney's Annandale. Over the following two years the artists filled the house with a remarkable body of work. Launched with an equally extraordinary exhibition the movement they called Imitation Realism introduced collage assemblage and installation to Australian art for the first time. Laying the groundwork for a distinctive Australian postmodernism Imitation Realism was also the first Australian art movement to respond in a profound way to Aboriginal art and to the tribal art of New Guinea and the Pacific region. By the mid 1960s Brown was already the most controversial figure in Australian art. In 1963 a key work was thrown out of a major travelling exhibition for being overtly sexual a year later he publicly attacked Sydney artists and critics for having failed the test of integrity. Finally in 1966/67 Brown became the only Australian artist to have been successfully prosecuted for obscenity. Brown spent the last 28 years of his life in Melbourne where his reputation for radicalism and nonconformity was cemented with his multiplicity of styles exploration of themes of sexuality and transgressive commitment to the ideal of street art and graffiti. Against a background of the counter culture and the social and political upheavals of the 1960s and 1970s Brown's art and remarkable life of personal and creative struggle is without parallel in Australian art. Australian Book Review, 1994 Global Feminisms Maura Reilly, Linda Nochlin, 2007 This publication brings together works by over eighty contemporary women artists from over fifty countries among them Catherine Opie Miwa Yanagi Pilar Albarracín Shahzia Sikander and Yin Xiuzhen. Fall Geeta Kapur Michiko Kasahara Joan Kee Virginia Perez Ratton Elisabeth Lebovici Charlotta Kotik. Published on occasion of the exhibition Global Feminisms organized by the Brooklyn Museum March 23 July 1 2007.

Feminist Periodicals, 1996 Women Artists News Book Review, 1996 New Visions, New Perspectives Anna Voigt, 1996 Volume based on interviews with 34 women artists Australian and New Zealand Journal of Art, 2001

Woman's Art Journal, 1994 Wendy Stavrianos Laura Murray Cree, 1996 During a life characterised by change Wendy Stavrianos has developed a complex iconography relating to particular sites of meaning within her physical and psychological landscape. Her ability to tap into the archaic dreaming soul of earth has given her work a mythic potency that is consistent with Aboriginal art yet also reveals her Celtic Spanish background and the influence of the European old masters.

Between Literature and Painting Roberta Buffi, 2002 Janine Burke Beverley Farmer and Drusilla Modjeska have made a significant contribution to Australian women's writing at the end of the twentieth century. Their original bold narratives convey a sense of plurality and the unfixed nature of femininity in representation. By investigating the aesthetic theoretical and literary perspectives that ground modernism and postmodernism and by analyzing the effects that distinguish certain aspects of contemporary European paintings as well as some modernist women's visual configurations and self constructions Roberta Buffi explores how the fictions produced by these three Australian women writers are informed by particular linguistic and visual notions Buffi argues how the visual both as a subject matter and as a conspicuous quality of their prose styles constitutes an underlying narrative strategy in their work which adds new perspectives to available literary and theoretical frameworks in which preoccupations of feminine subjectivity are at stake
