engrossing deep dive into one of the world's most prolific art looters Publishers Weekly Bruno Lohse 1911-2007 was one of the most notorious art plunderers in history Appointed by Hermann Göring to Hitler's art looting agency in Paris he went on to help supervise the systematic theft and distribution of more than thirty thousand artworks taken largely from French Jews and to assist Göring in amassing an enormous private art collection By the 1950s Lohse was officially denazified but was back in the art dealing world offering masterpieces of dubious origin to American museums After his death dozens of paintings by Renoir Monet and Pissarro among others were found in his Zurich bank vault and adorning the walls of his Munich home Jonathan Petropoulos spent nearly a decade interviewing Lohse and continues to serve as an expert witness for Holocaust restitution cases Here he tells the story of Lohse's life offering a critical examination of the postwar art world Potential History Ariella Aïsha Azoulay, 2019-11-19 In this theoretical tour de force renowned scholar Ariella Aïsha Azoulay calls on us to recognize the imperial foundations of knowledge and to refuse its strictures and its many violences Azoulay argues that the institutions that make our world from archives and museums to ideas of sovereignty and human rights to history itself are all dependent on imperial modes of thinking Imperialism has segmented populations into differentially governed groups continually emphasised the possibility of progress while trying to destroy what came before and voraciously sought out the new by sealing the past away in dusty archival boxes and the glass vitrines of museums By practising what she calls potential history Azoulay argues that we can still refuse the imperial violence that shattered communities lives and worlds from native peoples in the Americas to the Congo ruled by Belgium's brutal King Leopold II from dispossessed Palestinians in 1948 to displaced refugees in our own day In Potential History Azoulay travels alongside historical companions an old Palestinian man who refused to leave his village in 1948 an anonymous woman in war ravaged Berlin looted objects and documents torn from their worlds and now housed in archives and museums to chart the ways imperialism has sought to order time space and politics Rather than looking for a new future Azoulay calls upon us to rewind history and unlearn our imperial rights to continue to refuse imperial violence by making present what was invented as past and making the repair of torn worlds the substance of politics Absence / Presence Stephen C. Feinstein, 2005-08-11 Since the liberation of the Nazi concentration camps and recognition of the Holocaust as a watershed event of the twentieth century if not in Western Civilization itself the capacity of art to represent this event adequately has been questioned As it analyzes a cross section of Holocaust art within the context of art history Absence / Presence addresses the discussion head on and explores the interchange between media and horror The book's contributors include case studies from a broad spectrum of artists in North America Europe and Israel to examine some of the more dominant themes in these artists' work In addition to standard readings of Holocaust art the essays help illuminate the issues of eugenics the importance of art for Hitler and the Nazis the immense pilfering of art that occurred during World War II and the length and degree of the destruction of European Jewry which forced artists to reinvent their work through their own fate This selection of essays also provides alternative views to more typical readings
