Love And Politics Women Politicians And The Ethics Of Care:

Love and Politics Fiona Mackay, 2014 Love and Politics Fiona Mackay, 2001-08-02 This volume is the first to use insights from recent feminist theory on the ethic of care to study the slow progress women have made toward political equality Using empirical case study materials including her own interviews with female politicians Mackay examines care as both a political practice and a political idea using it to explain the current situation with regard to women's representation and to offer a prescription and resource for change Care in Everyday Life Barnes, Marian, 2012-06-27 Care has been struggled for, resisted and celebrated The failure to care in care services has been seen as a human rights problem and evidence of malaise in contemporary society But care has also been implicated in the oppression of disabled people and demoted in favour of choice in health and social care services In this bold wide ranging book Marian Barnes argues for care as an essential value in private lives and public policies She considers the importance of care to well being and social justice and applies insights from feminist care ethics to care work and care within personal relationships She also looks at stranger relationships how we relate to the places in which we live and the way in which public deliberation about social policy takes place This book will be vital reading for all those wanting to apply relational understandings of humanity to social policy and practice Ethics of Care Marian Barnes, Tula Brannelly, Lizzie Ward, Nicki Ward, 2015-10-28 Over the last 20 years there has been a flourishing of work on feminist care ethics This collection makes a unique contribution to this body of work The international contributors demonstrate the significance of care ethics as a transformative way of thinking across diverse geographical policy and interpersonal contexts From Tronto's analysis of global responsibilities to Fudge Schormans reimagining of care from the perspective of people with learning disabilities chapters highlight the necessity of thinking about the ethics of care to achieve justice and well being within policies and practice This book will be essential reading for all those seeking such outcomes University of Chicago Law Review: Volume 81, Number 2 - Spring 2014 University of Chicago Law Review, 2014-06-27 The second issue of 2014 features articles and essays from recognized scholars Contents include these Articles Group to Individual G2i Inference in Scientific Expert Testimony David L Faigman John Monahan Christopher Slobogin Game Theory and the Structure of Administrative Law Yehonatan Givati Habeas and the Roberts Court Aziz Z Huq Cost Benefit Analysis and Agency Independence Michael A Livermore Accommodating Every Body Michael Ashley Stein Anita Silvers Bradley A Areheart Leslie Pickering Francis In addition the issue includes a Review Essay by Sharon R Krause entitled The Liberalism of Love and these student Comments Toward a Uniform Rule The Collapse of the Civil Criminal Divide in Appellate Review of Multitheory General Verdicts Nathan H Jack All out of Chewing Gum A Case for a More Coherent Limitations Period for ERISA Breach of Fiduciary Duty Claims Raphael Janove Quality ebook formatting includes active TOC linked notes active URLs in notes and all the charts tables and formulae found in the original print version Connected Lives Ruth E. Groenhout, 2004-03-27 Connected Lives examines the account of human nature that is implicit in an ethics of care a picture of human lives that emphasizes interdependency embodiment and social connectedness The book makes important connections to the picture of human life found in theorists of love such as St Augustine and Emmanuel Levinas and shows that when care theory is articulated clearly it provides resources for thinking through some of the difficult moral issues we face in the contemporary world issues such as assisted reproduction and the new genetic technologies

Mothers and Others Melanee Thomas, Amanda Bittner, 2017-09-22 When women in politics interact with reporters opponents and constituents they are forced to confront their parental status If they have children they are questioned about their competence in both their public and private lives If they don't they face criticism for not understanding or relating to key policy domains This damned if you do damned if you don't conundrum raises difficult questions about the intersection of gender parental status and politics Mothers and Others examines key areas of citizen engagement with the political system political careers the media and political behaviour to argue that being a parent is a gendered political identity that influences how why and to what extent women and men engage with politics The first major comparative analysis of the role of parenthood in politics Mothers and Others makes important observations about what we know and what we still need to find out

Quebec Women and Legislative Representation Manon Tremblay, 2010-07-01 Quebec women have had the right to vote and run for office in provincial and federal forums for at least six decades yet they continue to occupy a minority of seats in Quebec's National Assembly and in Canada's House of Commons and Senate To explain this situation Women and Parliamentary Representation in Quebec examines women's engagement in politics from 1791 to the present It begins by tracing the path that led to women achieving the right to vote and run for office and then draws on statistics and interviews with women senators and members of Parliament to complete an in depth portrait of Quebec women s under representation and its main causes political parties and the voting system This innovative account not only documents the significant democratic deficit in Canada s parliamentary systems it also outlines strategies to improve women s access to legislative representation in Canada and elsewhere The Changing Politics of Gender Equality E. Breitenbach,A. Brown,F. Mackay,J. Webb,2016-01-28 This comprehensive collection brings together key academics activists and practitioners to review the changing politics of the project of gender equality It gives account of the evolution of gender equality policies and practice at different levels of governance in Britain over the past three decades Thinking and work around equal opportunities have been fundamentally shaped by changing political conditions The contributors review past policies and practices before moving on to explore the opportunities and challenges for the future Gender, Politics and Institutions M. Krook,F. Mackay,2010-12-07 Political institutions profoundly shape political life and are also gendered This groundbreaking collection synthesises new institutionalism and gendered analysis using a new approach feminist institutionalism in order to answer crucial questions about power inequalities mechanisms of continuity and the gendered limits of change Love Anna G. Jónasdóttir,Ann Ferguson,2013-11-12 This unique timely book of original essays sets the stage for a new materialist feminist debate on the analysis ethics and politics of love The contributors raise questions about social power and domination situating their research in a materialist feminist perspective that investigates love historically in order to understand changing ideologies representations and practices The essays range from studies of particular representations and examples of love feminist translation mass media images and internet love blogs to feminist theories of love and marriage to ethical and political theories describing critiquing or advocating the use of love in groups as a radical force They break new ground in bringing together questions of gendered interests in love temporal dimensions of loving practices and the politics of love in radical transformations of society Making Connections Heather Devere,2024-10-27 This book is a historical review of literature and ideas that make the connections between friendship and politics Using pertinent quotations from a wide variety of sources the book is divided into three main parts Firstly it explores interpretations of the concept of friendship tracing its use from the Ancient Greek and Roman philosophical works through to modern and postmodern perspectives touching on different cultural religious and ethical connections Secondly the concept of the political is identified according to different aspects and ideological emphases looking at influences in different time periods and demonstrating the importance of relational politics as viewed through feminism identity culture globalism and the ethics of care The third part draws together the political and friendship highlighting the importance of relational politics and civic friendship as a topic relevant for academic consideration of politics Citizenship: Feminist Perspectives Ruth Lister,2017-03-14 The second edition of this classic text substantially revises and extends the original so as to take account of theoretical and policy developments and to enhance its international scope Drawing on a range of disciplines and literatures the book provides an unusually broad account of citizenship It recasts traditional thinking about the concept so as to pinpoint important theoretical issues and their political and policy implications for women in their diversity Themes of inclusion and exclusion at national and international level rights and participation inequality and difference are thus all brought to the fore in the development of a woman friendly gender inclusive theory and praxis of citizenship Women's Movements Sandra Grey, Marian Sawer, 2008-04-24 This comparative book brings together scholars to examine the changing patterns of feminist activism and the new local global and cyber spaces in which it is to be found It addresses the question where have women s movements gone

Researching with Care Tula Brannelly, Marian Barnes, 2022-10-24 What are the implications of caring about the things we research How does that affect how we research who we research with and what we do with our results Proposing what Joan C Tronto has called a paradigm shift in research thinking this book invites researchers across disciplines and fields of study to do research that thinks and acts with care The authors draw on their own and others experiences of researching the troubles they encounter and the opportunities generated when research is approached as a caring practice Care ethics provides a guide from starting out designing and conducting projects to thinking about research legacies It offers a way in which research can help repair harms and promote justice Constellations of Reading Carlo Salzani, 2009 How to read Walter Benjamin today This book argues that the proper way is through an approach which recognizes and respects his own peculiar theorization of the act of reading and the politics of interpretation that this entails The approach must be figural that is focused on images and driven by the notion of actualization Figural reading in the very sui generis Benjaminian way understands figures as constellations whereby an image of the past juxtaposes them with an image of the present and is thus actualized To apply this method to Benjamin s own work means first to identify some figures The book singles out the Fl neur the Detective the Prostitute and the Ragpicker and then sets them alongside a contemporary account of the same figure the Fl neur in Juan Goytisolo s Landscapes after the Battle 1982 the Detective in Paul Auster s New York Trilogy 1987 the Prostitute in Dacia Maraini s Dialogue between a Prostitute and her Client 1973 and the Ragpicker in Mudrooroo s The Mudrooroo M ller Project 1993 The book thereby on the one hand analyses the politics of reading Benjamin today and on the other sets his work against a variety of contemporary aesthetics and politics of interpretation Gender and the politics of time Valerie Bryson, 2007-11-21 Women s increased role in the labour market has combined with concerns about the damaging effects of long working hours to push time related issues up the policy agenda in many Western nations This wide ranging and accessible book assesses policy alternatives in the light of feminist theory and factual evidence The book introduces mainstream ideas on the nature and political significance of time and re frames them from a feminist perspective to provide a critical overview of policies in Western welfare states Themes covered include gender differences in time use and the impact of time poverty on women s citizenship the need to value time spent giving and receiving care the social meanings of time and whether we can talk about women's time and men's time and the role of the past in framing policy options today The book is essential reading for all those interested in gender inequality time use or work rest of life balance It will be an invaluable resource for students and academics throughout the social sciences Intervening in Northern Ireland Marysia Zalewski, John Barry, 2014-02-04 The articles in this special issue drawn from a workshop hosted by the Institute of Governance Queen's University Belfast explicitly engage with and challenge conventional academic analyses in order to confront the ways in which the conflict on Northern Ireland has traditionally been represented and understood Part of the reason for adopting this approach is because it is suggested that to a certain extent academic analyses have defined the parameters of the conflict which has necessarily had implications for the shape of ensuing solutions A further claim is that the persistent historical and political search for causes and solutions may be constitutive of the problems that conventional analysts seek to resolve The articles in the first part introduce and problematize traditional analyses of the conflict Additionally these essays explain alternative approaches offering other ways of thinking about how the problem of Northern Ireland has been constituted The second part comprises empirically focused essays each either engaging with or confronting the issue of the liberal hegemony that defines most analyses of the conflict The final essay returns to more explicitly re-consider how the problem of Northern Ireland has been theorized represented and understood This book was previously published as a special issue of Critical Review of International Social and Political Philosophy
