Love and Poetry in the Middle East Atef Alshaer, 2021-12-30 Love has been an important trope in the literature of the region we now call the Middle East from ancient times to modern This book analyses love poetry in various ancient and contemporary languages of the Middle East including Akkadian ancient Egyptian Classical and Modern Standard Arabic Persian Hebrew Turkish and Kurdish including literary materials that have been discovered and highlighted for the first time Together the chapters reflect and explore the discursive evolution of the theme of love and the sensibilities styles and techniques used to convey it They chart the way in which poems in ancient poetry give way to complex and varied reflections of human sentiments in the medieval languages and on to the modern period which in turn reflects the complexities and nuances of present times Offering a snapshot of the diverse literary languages and their relationship to the theme of love the book will be of interest to scholars of Near and Middle Eastern Literature and Culture

Sexuality in the Arab World Samir Khalaf, John Gagnon, 2014-05-13 Arab cultural discourse has been slow to respond to changing sexual behaviour The contributors to this collection pick up the slack ranging across such disciplines as literature history sociology and psychology Is Damascus the chastity capital of the Middle East where perceptions of wealth and class fuel female rivalries How do gay men cruise in Beirut How do young women in Tunis cope with both social pressures to become thin and family pressures to gain weight What do Lebanese creative writing students write about sexual practices versus public behaviour The fresh compelling research topics covered include masculinity and migration colonialism and sexual health fantasy and violence and domestic workers and sexual tensions Other people's sex lives have always been a source of fascination and nowhere more so than in the Middle East Ground breaking New Statesman

Modern Palestinian Literature and Culture Ami Elad-Bouskila, 2014-02-04 Studies of Palestinian society economy and politics are appearing with increasing frequency but works in English about Palestinian literature particularly that written in Israel are still scarce This book looks at this literature within the political and social context of Palestinian society with a special focus on literature written during the Intifada uprising period 1987-93

Essays in Arabic Literary Biography: 1850-1950 Roger Allen, Terri DeYoung, Joseph Edmund Lowry, Devin J. Stewart, 2009 The essays which discuss authors in a variety of literary genres and across the spectrum of the region concerned from Iraq in the East to Tunisia in the West provide clear evidence of the gradually changing roles of the indigenous and the imported which are an intrinsic feature of the movement known in Arabic as al nahda cultural revival and the way in which Arab litterateurs chose to respond to the inspiration that such changes inevitably engendered

The Undergraduate's Companion to Arab Writers and Their Web Sites Dona S. Straley, 2004-08-30 This companion provides information on the lives and works of about 150 authors who write primarily in Arabic covering the first known works of Arabic literature in the 5th and 6th centuries A D to the present day While concentrating on literary authors writers from the fields of history geography and philosophy are also represented The individuals represented were chosen primarily from the Encyclopedia of Arabic Literature Among the major authors are Najib Mahfuz the 1988 Nobel laureate Nawal Saadawi the Egyptian physician who is the leading female literary author in the Arab world and the most frequently translated into English Abu al Ala al Ma'arri the 11th century poet whose verses are taught to every Arab schoolchild and Avicenna the great physician and philosopher transmitter and interpreter of Aristotle whose work on medicine was long the standard not only in the Middle East but also in Latin translation in Europe In addition entries will be included for the anonymous romances so common in Arabic literature such as The Arabian Nights a cycle of stories perhaps even better known in the West than in the Arab world Interest in the history and culture of the Arab world at U S universities has taken a quantum leap since the events of September 11 2001 In this book the author demonstrates that at least three major distinct literary and cultural traditions are included within the fields of Middle Eastern and Islamic studies Arabic Persian and Turkic The Arabic tradition is the oldest largest and most widely dispersed Undergraduate courses in Arabic literature and culture are now being taught at both lower and upper levels at many universities Such courses are often used by undergraduates to fulfill basic educational requirements for their degrees Students in such courses often have difficulty finding information on Arab writers and this volume fills the void

Sonallah Ibrahim Starkey Paul Starkey, 2016-06-02 This volume is designed as an introduction to the contemporary Egyptian author Sonallah Ibrahim one of the most important Arabic novelists of the modern era with an unrivalled reputation for independence and integrity among contemporary Egyptian writers The first study in any language devoted exclusively to Sonallah Ibrahim the volume discusses each of the author's novels individually beginning with the seminal Tilka al ra iha That Smell 1966 and ending with al Jalid Ice 2011 Each work is discussed individually in its literary social historical and political context The volume traces the evolution of Sonallah Ibrahim's work in terms both of their themes and of their literary technique and concludes with an attempt at an overall evaluation of the author's contribution to the contemporary Egyptian novel Paul Starkey's account shows how innovative and stylistically rich the Arabic novel has become over a period of some fifty years beyond the better known work of writers such as Naguib Mahfouz and Yusuf Idris As such the volume will serve as an introduction not only to the individual author but also to the development of Egyptian and more generally Arabic literature over the last half century

Exile and Expatriation in Modern American and Palestinian Writing Ahmad Rasmi Qabaha, 2018-05-23 This book examines the distinction between literary expatriation and exile through a contrapuntal reading of modern Palestinian and American writing It argues that exile in the Palestinian case especially is a political catastrophe it is banishment by a colonial power It suggests that unlike expatriation a choice of a foreign land over one's own exile is a political rather than an artistic concept and is forced rather than voluntary while exile can be emancipatory it is always an unwelcome loss In addition to its historical dimension exile also entails a different perception of return to expatriation This book frames expatriates as quintessentially American particularly intellectuals and artists seeking a space of creativity and social dissidence in the experience of living away from home At the heart of both literary discourses however is a preoccupation with home belonging identity language mobility and homecoming

Tunisia's Modern Woman Amy Aisen Kallander, 2021-06-03 Claims over women's liberation vocalized by Tunisia's first president Habib Bourguiba began with legal reforms related to family law in 1956 In this book Amy Aisen Kallander uses this political appropriation of women's rights to look at the importance of women to post colonial state building projects in Tunisia and how this relates to other state feminist projects across the Middle East and during the Cold War Here we see how the notion of modern womanhood was central to a range of issues from economic development via family planning to intellectual life and the growth of Tunisian academia Looking at political discourse the women's press fashion and ideas about love the book traces how this concept was reformulated by women through transnational feminist organizing and in the press in ways that proposed alternatives to the dominant constructions of state feminism
