Love The Animals Meditations And Prayers:

Love the Animals Andrew Linzey, Tom Regan, 1989 All God's Creatures: The Blessing of Animal Companions Debra Farrington, 2012-02-01 All God's Creatures provides a complete Blessing of the Animals liturgy as well as other prayers and rituals for use in church or anywhere that animals are blessed. If you live with a dog, cat, or some other domestic animal, you already know that these treasured creatures are not just pets but members of the family. Debra K. Farrington, who has lived with animals most of her life, explores the spiritual aspects of our relationships with these beloved friends from everyday caring for their needs to marking the extraordinary moments of birth, illness, and death. Full of warmth and wisdom, this essential resource includes chapters on Training and Compassion and how to balance the two. Caring for the Sick, ethical concerns, Rest in Peace rituals, blessings, and more. Tell Me Your Name: discerning the personality of your companion. By viewing companion animals as a gift from God rather than objects that do the will of humans, Debra Farrington helps owners realize a greater sense of responsibility toward their own pets and shows how the humane care and training of their animals leads to a more fulfilling experience for both. Barbara Demarest, canine and feline behavior consultant. On God and Dogs Stephen H. Webb, 1998-01-15 Many of us keep pet animals; we rely on them for companionship and unconditional love. For some people, their closest relationships may be with their pets. In the wake of the animal rights movement, some ethicists have started to re-examine this relationship and to question the rights of humans to own other sentient beings in this way. In this engaging and thought-provoking book, Stephen Webb brings a Christian perspective to bear on the subject of our responsibility to animals, looked at through the lens of our relations with pets, especially dogs. Webb argues that the emotional bond with companion animals should play a central role in the way we think about animals in general and against the more extreme animal liberationists. He defends the intermingling of the human and animal worlds. He tries to imagine what it would be like to treat animals as a gift from God and indeed argues that not only are animals a gift for us but they give to us; we need to attend to their giving and return their gifts appropriately. Throughout the book, he insists that what Christians call grace is present in our relations with animals just as it is with other humans. Grace is the inclusive and expansive power of God's love to create and sustain relationships of real mutuality and reciprocity, and Webb unfolds the implications of the recognition that animals too participate in God's abundant grace. Webb's thesis affirms and persuasively defends many of the things that pet lovers feel instinctively: that their relationships with their companion animals are meaningful and important and that their pets have value and worth in themselves in the eyes of God. His book will appeal to a broad audience of thoughtful Christians and animal lovers. T&T Clark Handbook of Christian Theology and Climate Change Hilda P. Koster, Ernst M. Conradie, 2019-12-12 These essays are critically engaged by respondents situated in other geographic regions, minority communities, non-Christian traditions, or non-theological disciplines. Structured in seven main parts the handbook explores 1 the need for collaboration with disciplines outside of Christian theology to address climate change 2 the need to find common moral ground for such collaboration 3 the difficulties posed by collaborating with other Christian traditions from within 4 the questions that emerge from such collaboration for understanding the story of God's work and 5 God's identity and character 6 the implications of such collaboration for ecclesial praxis and 7 concluding reflections examining whether this volume does justice to issues of race gender class other animals religious diversity geographical divides and carbon mitigation This rich ecumenical cross cultural conversation provides a comprehensive and in depth engagement with the theological and moral challenges raised by anthropogenic climate change The Daily Round.

If you feel how much your animals love you, this book is for you. Our feelings profoundly affect the health of our animals, as well as our own health, physically, emotionally, mentally, and spiritually. When we heal these feelings by feeling the love we already are, tremendous life-changing events occur. Our animals' health is dramatically improved, as is our own. We are tremendously powerful creators of our own reality, and by turning to feeling the love we already are, we can help create health for our animals, for ourselves, for Earth, and for this Universe we all live in together. Ultimately, surrendering to the love we are is the most healing of all, and the most healing for all. Through stories, examples, metaphysical, and spiritual messages and exercises, this book explores how to help heal our animals and ourselves. As free-will beings, we are able, with the help of God, to heal. This is true for our animals, as well as for each of us. In this time of Earth changes and nature's healing, the animals are healing too, as are we all, if we so choose. Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01. There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so. These include a number of recent edited volumes, each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology. The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature, also in South Africa. Prayer and Meditation Through the Holy Spirit Russell Kendall Carter, 2019-07-01. Using Bible readings from the daily office of the Episcopal Church and the topics of Sunday sermons, the meditations, prayers, and poetry in this book are written to encourage others to meditate on the wonder and awe of God's presence in our lives. The topics range from love and faith to the community and society we live in. Today's Prayer and Meditation Phillip C. Reinke, 2017-02-08 Pray without ceasing is more easily said than done Prayer and meditation are a foundational aspect of a Christian walk As we work to make our lives a prayer the depth of our talks with God go further than simple requests to spiritual introspection and reflection looking both inward and outward for answers that help us grow Today's Prayer and Meditation features 365 prayers that dig deep into the pressing questions in one's spiritual walk I have known Phil for many years and can witness to the fact that his daily prayers are exactly the way he lives his life The messages of each prayer to God takes us to higher levels of thought and spiritual understanding Even more important the prayers focus our thoughts to God and His mission and purpose for us As a professor he showed love and concern to all of his students He selflessly helped beyond their studies and mentored and coached many with addictions and severe personal issues As my friend he has been supportive and more important always in prayer for me my family and for those in the world around us I highly recommend joining with what he calls the Prayer Warriors and praying daily Mark Conroy pastor Coastal Church Daytona Beach Florida Blessings of peace Masonic edition: 100 Meditations Inspired by the Writings of Judaism, Christianity and Islam Jonti Marks, With a new introduction which aims to give the book a Masonic context and focus these meditations offer an opportunity to reflect on why we are here what are for and indeed what we really are In a world beset by so many troubles by war famine and flood here is a daily immersion in the possibility of finding sharing living with the great blessings that peace inner and outer can bring
