Art and Praise in Kierkegaard's Works of Love Richard McCombs, 2023-12-19 Since art is essential to the love of one's neighbor as oneself and to love's chief goal of building up one another we cannot understand love without also understanding its art Observing that praise is ubiquitous in Søren Kierkegaard's writings Richard McCombs interprets Kierkegaard's Works of Love as a eulogy of love's arts of forgiveness peace making and building up one's neighbor in maturity and charity Kierkegaard stresses love's ability to achieve results calling love irresistible and almost magical in overcoming obstacles to its purposes living the life of faith and love involves skillful attention to the specificity of the episodes in an individual's life and the creative imagining of new ways of enacting these virtues McCombs argues that Kierkegaard's ideas about the art of love reveal limits or exceptions to his individualism and to his anti consequentialism in ethics Art and Praise in Kierkegaard's Works of Love explores Kierkegaard's distinct praises of love through texts like Works of Love The Brothers Karamazov and Middlemarch to illustrate complement and sometimes correct Kierkegaard's profound account of love's art and wisdom suggesting ways that the art of praise bears on other questions in aesthetics ethics and religion

The Art of Loving Erich Fromm, 1956 The Revolutionary Art of Love Bianca Briciu, 2021-10 The Revolutionary Art of Love From Romantic Love to Global Compassion offers a complex description of love as a personal emotion and as an intersubjective ethical experience of connection Its purpose is to deconstruct cultural myths about love proposing instead a framework for understanding love's contribution to the well being of individuals and social systems The uniqueness of the book lies in its interdisciplinary scope articulating love as a form of connection to the self others and the world in general It examines its role in mental health sexuality emotional intelligence and social responsibility Bianca Briciu s bold new book is an invitation to reclaim the power of the human heart from institutional constraints by redefining love as a complex human capability similar to intelligence or creativity The cultivation of love opens us to the ethics of interconnectedness and responsibility of caring for life Framing love as a revolutionary art articulates the subtleties of different experiences of love as expressions of an insufficiently explored human capability with transformative potential
