Manifest in Words, Written on Paper Christopher M.B. Nugent, 2020-10-26 This study aims to engage the textual realities of medieval literature by shedding light on the material lives of poems during the Tang from their initial oral or written instantiation through their often lengthy and twisted paths of circulation Tang poems exist today in stable written forms assumed to reflect their creators original intent Yet Tang poetic culture was based on hand copied manuscripts and oral performance We have almost no access to this poetry as it was experienced by contemporaries This is no trivial matter the author argues If we do not understand how Tang people composed experienced and transmitted this poetry we miss something fundamental about the roles of memory and copying in the circulation of poetry as well as readers dynamic participation in the creation of texts We learn something different about poems when we examine them not as literary works transcending any particular physical form but as objects with distinct physical attributes visual and sonic The attitudes of the Tang audience toward the stability of texts matter as well Understanding Tang poetry requires acknowledging that Tang literary culture accepted the conscious revision of these works by authors readers and transmitters 2012 Joseph Levenson Book Prize Pre 1900 Category China and Inner Asia Council of the Association for Asian Studies The Illustrated Mount Vernon Record ,1858 The Lords of Night J.C.
