US Intervention Policy and Army Innovation Richard Lock-Pullan, 2004-08-02

US Intervention Policy and Army Innovation examines how the US Army rebuilt itself after the Vietnam War and how this has affected US intervention policy from the victory of the Gulf War to the failure of Somalia, the Bosnian and Kosovo interventions and the use of force post 9/11. Richard Lock Pullan analyzes the changes in US military intervention strategy by examining two separate issues: the nature of the US Army as it rebuilt itself after the Vietnam War and the attempts by the US to establish criteria for future military interventions. He first argues that US strategy traditionally relied upon national mobilization to coordinate political aims and military means; he subsequently analyzes how this changed to a formula of establishing militarily achievable political objectives prior to the use of force. Drawing on a vast body of material and on strategic culture and military innovation literature, Lock Pullan demonstrates that the strategic lessons were a product of the rebuilding of the Army's identity as it became a professional all-volunteer force and that the Army's new doctrine developed a new way of war for the nation embodied in the AirLand Battle doctrine, which changed the approach to strategy. This book finally gives a practical analysis of how the interventions in Panama and the Gulf War vindicated this approach and brought a revived confidence in the use of force, while more recent campaigns in Somalia, Kosovo and Bosnia exposed its weaknesses and the limiting nature of the Army's thinking. The legacy of the Army's innovation is examined in the new strategic environment post 9/11 with the operations in Afghanistan and Iraq.

Fifth Generation Warfare Armin Krishnan, 2024-03-11

This book outlines the concept of Fifth Generation Warfare (5GW) and demonstrates its relevance for understanding contemporary conflicts. Non-kinetic modes of attack and war waged by groups or non-state actors at the societal level has been termed 5GW. This book discusses the theory of generational warfare and explores the key ideas of 5GW such as secrecy, the manipulation of proxies, the manipulation of identity and culture including disinformation and big data, and the use of psychological warfare. These techniques are used to achieve strategic objectives such as inducing desired behaviour and controlling human terrain without resorting to overt war or overt violence. The text expands the debate on 5GW by exploring emerging technologies and how they could be used for maliciously shaping human society and even for maliciously changing the genetic makeup of a population for the purpose of unprecedented social control. The work closes with comments on the possibility of a Sixth Generation of Warfare which targets technical systems to possibly collapse a society through strategic sabotage. Overall, the book demonstrates the relevance of 5GW for understanding contemporary conflicts from the Arab Spring to the war in Ukraine in terms of the need for dominating the human domain. This book will be of interest to students of security and technology, defence studies and International Relations.

information security with robust degrees of informational privacy also in connection with recent challenges presented by phenomena such as big data and security scandals as well as new legislation initiatives such as those concerning the right to be forgotten and the use of personal data in biomedical research The book seeks to offer analyses and solutions of the new tensions in order to build a fair shareable and sustainable balance in this vital area of human interactions
