Maisons de Paris et propriétaires parisiens au XIXe siècle, 1809-1880 Adeline Daumard,1965     Housing the Poor of Paris, 1850-1902 Ann-Louise Shapiro,1985 In the second half of the nineteenth century when Paris became a modern urban center the problem of working class housing emerged as a major issue In this study Ann Louise Shapiro examines the reform activites of philanthropists economist municipal authorities politicians and public hygienists as they together and separately responded to the quesitons of the worker s foyer Shapiro shows that the hgousing cmaign touched all aspects of the the social question providing a rare perspective on the political social and institutional readjustments required by a changing urbgan environment in nineteenth century France Shapiro s work will prove important reading for students and scholars of French history urban society and government and public health issues     Bureaucrats and Bourgeois Society R. Kingston,2012-10-19 Between 1789 and 1848 clerks modified their occupational practices responding to political scrutiny and state administration reforms Ralph Kingston examines the lives and influence of bureaucrats inside and outside the office as they helped define nineteenth century bourgeois social capital ideals of emulation honour and masculinity     The Working People of Paris, 1871-1914 Lenard Berlanstein,2019-08-01 Originally published in 1984 In The Working People of Paris 1871 1914 Lenard Berlanstein examines how technological advances expanding industrialization bureaucratization and urban growth affected the lives of the working poor and near poor of one of the world s most influential cities during an era of intense social and cultural change Berlanstein departs from other historians of the working classes in treating in a parallel manner not only craftsmen and factory laborers but also service workers and lower level white collar employees Avoiding the fallacy of letting the city limits set the boundaries of an urban study he deals also with the industrial suburbs with their considerable concentration of workers to examine the transformation of the work leisure and consumer experiences of the people who did not own property and who lived from one payday to the next during the Second Industrial Revolution The Working People of Paris describes a cycle of adaptation and resistance to the forces of economic maturation For several decades after 1871 Berlanstein argues working people and employees preserved accommodations with management about reciprocal rights in the workplace By the beginning of the twentieth century however these forms of adaptation had broken down under new economic pressures The result was a crisis of discipline in the workplace as wage earners and modest clerks began to challenge managerial authority Berlanstein s study confronts the widely accepted view that during this period workers became better integrated into a society of improving standards of living and mass leisure Instead he documents uneven patterns of material progress and growing conflict over work roles among all sorts of laboring people     La Bourgeoisie parisienne de 1815 à 1848 Adeline Daumard,2014-04-01 Dans les ann es soixante l histoire sociale tant alors en plein essor Adeline Daumard publiait cet ouvrage aujourd hui r dit que Pierre L on a qualifi d oeuvre de pionnier travers donn es quantitatives et statistiques minutes de notaires listes lectorales sans n gliger m moires correspondances pi ces de th

Daunton, 2015-11-19 In the past accounts of housing were dominated by the analysis of the problems of slum property at the bottom of the market and the way in which public housing emerged from attempts to ameliorate the worst conditions in an apparently inevitable process This title questions this perception by focussing on the process of development architectural forms the pattern of ownership property management and control and public policy     Apartment Stories Sharon

Marcus, 2023-11-15 In urban studies the nineteenth century is the age of great cities In feminist studies it is the era of the separate domestic sphere But what of the city's homes In the course of answering this question Apartment Stories provides a singular and radically new framework for understanding the urban and the domestic Turning to an element of the cityscape that is thoroughly familiar yet frequently overlooked Sharon Marcus argues that the apartment house embodied the intersections of city and home public and private and masculine and feminine spheres Moving deftly from novels to architectural treatises legal debates and popular urban observation Marcus compares the representation of the apartment house in Paris and London Along the way she excavates the urban ghost tales that encoded Londoners ambivalence about city dwellings contends that Haussmannization enclosed Paris in a new regime of privacy and locates a female counterpart to the flâneur and the omniscient realist narrator the portier who supervised the apartment building In urban studies the nineteenth century is the age of great cities In feminist studies it is the era of the separate domestic sphere But what of the city's homes In the course of answering this question Apartment Stories provides a singular

The Artisan and the European Town, 1500-1900 Geoffrey Crossick, 2016-12-05 Artisans played a central role in the European town as it developed from the Middle Ages onwards Their workshops were at the heart of productive activity their guilds were often central to the political and legal order of towns and their culture helped shape civic ritual and the urban order These essays which have all been specially written for this collection explore the relationships between artisans and their towns across Europe between the beginning of the early modern period and the end of the 19th century They pay special attention to the processes of economic juridical and political change that have made the 18th and early 19th centuries a period of such significance Written by leading historians of European artisans the essays question the myths about artisans that have long pervaded research in the field The leading myth was that shared by the artisans themselves the myth of decline and the belief in each generation that artisans in the past had inhabited a better age These essays open up for debate the nature of artisanship the way economic change affected craft production the political role of artisans the cultural identification of the artisans with work and masculinity and the way changing urban society and changing urban structure posed threats to which the artisans had to respond     Manifestoes and Transformations in the Early Modernist City Christian Hermansen

Cordua,2016-05-13 The industrialization of the nineteenth century European city facilitated developing conceptions of the model city and allowed for large scale urban transformations The urban discourse in the latter half of the nineteenth century was consequently dominated by a dialectic exchange between the ideal and the practical a debate played out in the formation of the modern metropolis Manifestoes and Transformations is the first work to deal with urban utopias and their relationship with actual urban interventions Bringing together a carefully chosen wide ranging team of experts the book provides a broad contextual exploration of the ideas and urban practices which are the foundations of our conception of the contemporary city As such it is a valuable resource for students interested in the formation of the modernist city     Domestic Space in
