Making Sense A Real World Rhetorical Reader:

Making Sense Cheryl Glenn, 2010-02-03 Cheryl Glenn takes the familiar rhetorical reader genre in exciting new directions revealing to students how the nine classic rhetorical methods underlie a surprising range of daily discourse from restaurant menus to online catalogs to campaign speeches as well as the writing they will need to do in college and beyond Making Sense offers many well known selections that have long served as excellent classroom models but it also provides a stimulating choice of new readings visual elements and supporting instruction to show how the rhetorical methods continue to serve the needs of today's writers both inside and outside the classroom including civic and other public contexts

The Real World Reader James S. Miller, 2015 From academic essays to blogs magazine articles to social media posts newspaper editorials to public service announcements and advertisements to emails The Real World Reader brings together a wide collection of formal writing with an equally diverse array of popular writing from everyday life This innovative rhetorical reader for first year composition courses divides the process of rhetorical analysis into logically sequenced steps that focus on five key concepts purpose audience argument voice and credibility Author James Miller encourages students to use this step by step process in order to identify analyze and master the multiple modes of writing that they will encounter at school work and home Features Uses a rhetorical framework to teach writing rather than examining different modes of writing in isolation and reveals what all forms of writing have in common Introduces rhetorical concepts through a variety of informal and formal writing examples showing students how rhetorical patterns intersect Combines step by step writing instruction with a scaffold of sixty seven diverse readings allowing students to critically write and read four distinct types of selections informal formal and academic selections and sample student essays Connects rhetorical analysis to cultural analysis with content that ranges from debates on multiculturalism to discussions of online privacy and from critiques of modern political campaigning to analyses of modern consumerism Focuses on familiar real world writing demonstrating the important role that writing plays in everyday life

Resources for Teaching Making Sense, a Real-world Rhetorical Reader, Second Edition, Cheryl Glenn Jessica Enoch, 2005

Religion and Sport in Japan Zachary T. Smith, Dennis J. Frost, Stephen G. Covell, 2024-09-30 The sports world's attention was focused on Japan for the Tokyo 2020 Summer Olympics and Paralympics The years long buildup to and aftermath of the games occurred in the midst of the global pandemic which delayed the event until 2021 Given all of this there is perhaps no better time to delve into an

often overlooked but critical facet of sport in Japan religion Religion has long been a part of the Japanese sport tradition from Shugend practitioners offering sumo bouts to the gods to soccer players of all ages praying for success at Shint shrines from the use of meditation and ritual in martial arts to gain focus or superhuman abilities to religious organizations sponsoring sporting events and teams and school sports clubs Religion and Sport in Japan brings together historians and sport and religious studies specialists from Japan the US and Europe to address sport s ties to corporate and national identity politics environmentalism ritual and sacred space Major themes discussed include the spiritual geographies of sport sport as invented tradition technologies of self material culture and civil religion The chapters are written so that sport historians with no background in the study of Japan or religious studies scholars who have never before examined the world of sport will find the material accessible To provide further grounding for non field specialists the volume begins with two background chapters that introduce sport studies in Japan and the study of religion and sport The Making Sense of Politics, Media, and Law Gary Watt,2023-04-13 From Trump s make America great again to Johnson s build back better performative politicians use The Making Sense to persuade their public audiences Law makers do it too A courtroom trial is a truth factory in which facts are not found but forged The court of popular opinion is another such factory though its processes are often flawed and its products faulty Where courts of law aim to make civil peace trial by Twitter makes civil strife Even in mainstream media journalists make news for public consumption so that all news is to an extent fake news In a world of making how can we separate craft from craftiness With insights from disciplines including law politics rhetoric media studies psychology sociology marketing and performance studies The Making Sense of Politics Media and Law offers a constructive way to approach controversies from transgender identity to cancel culture This title is also available as open access on Cambridge Core Handbook of Narratology Peter Hühn,Jan Christoph Meister,John Pier,Wolf Schmid,2014-10-10 This handbook provides a systematic overview of the present state of international research in narratology and is now available in a second completely revised and expanded edition Detailed individual studies by internationally renowned narratologists elucidate central terms of narratology present a critical account of the major research positions and their historical development and indicate directions for future research Making Sense Ralf Hertel,2021-07-26 Fiction is fascinating All it provides us with is black letters on white pages yet while we read we do not have the impression that we are merely perceiving abstract characters Instead we see the protagonists before our inner eye and hear their voices Descriptions of sumptuous meals make our mouths water we feel physically repelled by depictions of violence or are aroused by the erotic details of sexual conquests We submerge ourselves in the fictional world that no longer stays on the paper but comes to life in our imagination Reading turns into an out of the body experience or rather an in another body experience for we perceive the portrayed world not only through the protagonist s eyes but also through his ears nose tongue and skin In other words we move through the literary text as if through a virtual reality How does literature achieve this trick How does it turn mere letters into vividly experienced worlds This study argues that techniques of sensuous writing contribute decisively to bringing the text to life in the reader's imagination In detailed interpretations of British novels of the 1980s and 1990s by writers such as John Berger John Banville Salman Rushdie Jeanette Winterson or J M Coetzee it uncovers literary strategies for turning the sensuous experience into words and for conveying it to the reader demonstrating how we make sense in and of literature Both readers interested in the contemporary novel and in the sensuousness of the reading experience will profit from this innovative study that not only analyses the interest of contemporary authors in the senses but also pin points literary entry points for the sensuous force of reading

Revisiting the God-fearer Thesis in the Development of Early Christianity Thomas A. Robinson, 2025-09-04 This volume examines in depth the theory evidence and trail of scholarly work on god fearers Thomas A Robinson argues for substantial revisions in the depiction of the god fearer phenomenon the story of early Christianity and its engagement with both Jews and with the larger Greco Roman population Robinson provides a thorough analysis of the god fearer theory examining scholarly debate and primary literary and inscriptional materials put forward as evidence for the god fearer theory Robinson begins with an exploration of the god fearing community its definition or lack thereof and its role as a bridge to Christianity in the Greco Roman world He then examines the key features of god fearers and the scholarly appeal to circumcision as the primary barrier preventing god fearer conversion to Judaism The volume concludes with an exploration of Luke's Acts and its readers and a thorough investigation of inscriptional and literary evidence supporting god fearer theory

Making Sense of Television Sonia Livingstone, 2013-03-07 Taking the soap opera as a case study this book explores the parasocial interaction people engage in with television programmes It looks at the nature of the active viewer and the role of the text in social psychology It also investigates the existing theoretical models offered by social psychology and other discourses This second edition takes into account recent research work and theoretical developments in fields such as narrative psychology social representation theory and ethnographic work on audiences and look forward to the developing role of audience research It will be an essential study for students and lecturers in social psychology and media studies

Jeff Herman's Guide to Book Publishers, Editors & Literary Agents 2007 Jeff Herman, 2006-12 Presents a guide to the names and specialities of American and Canadian publishers editors and literary agents including information on the acquisition process and on choosing literary agents

Rhetorical Narratology Michael S. Kearns, 1999-01-01 In Rhetorical Narratology Michael Kearns redresses this one sidedness by combining traditional narratology's tools for analyzing texts with rhetoric's tools for analyzing audiences Guiding Kearns's approach is speech act theory which in emphasizing the rule governed context in which any text is produced and received provides the means for describing how the structures of narrative may affect certain audiences in certain ways The central question that rhetorical narratology attempts to answer is how do the various narrative elements isolated by narratologists actually work on readers
