Making Sense Of Movies Filmmaking In The Hollywood Style:

Making Sense of Movies: Filmmaking in the Hollywood Style Robert Stanley, 2002-05-22 Making Sense of Movies is a film appreciation text that focuses on the Hollywood style of moviemaking to examine the aesthetic historical and theoretical aspects of film studies The text focuses on a limited number of significant movies to provide greater depth of knowledge and understanding gradually expanding the number of films with each chapter Making Sense of Cinema CarrieLynn D. Reinhard, Christopher J. Olson, 2017-08-24 Explores a variety of theological and methodological approaches to film spectatorship through a dialogue of international contributions Making Sense of Mind-Game Films Simin Nina Littschwager, 2019-06-27 Mind game films and other complex narratives have been a prominent phenomenon of the cinematic landscape during the period 1990 2010 when films like The Sixth Sense Memento Fight Club and Source Code became critical and commercial successes often acquiring a cult status with audiences With their multiple story lines unreliable narrators ambiguous twist endings and paradoxical worlds these films challenge traditional ways of narrative comprehension and in many cases require and reward multiple viewings But how can we make sense of films that don't always make sense the way we are used to While most scholarship has treated these complex films as narrative puzzles that audiences solve with their cognitive skills Making Sense of Mind Game Films offers a fresh perspective by suggesting that they appeal to the body and the senses in equal measures Mind game films tell stories about crises between body mind and world and about embodied forms of knowing and subjective ways of being in the world Through compelling in depth case studies of popular mind game films the book explores how these complex narratives take their embodied spectators with them into such crises The puzzling effect generated by these films stems from a conflict between what we think and what we experience between what we know and what we feel to be true and between what we see and what we sense The First Few Minutes of Spanish Language Films Richard K. Curry, 2017-02-02 The first few minutes of a film orient the viewer offering cues for a richer more nuanced reading With this premise the author provides many insights into the history of Spanish language film encouraging an enhanced understanding of the Spanish Hispanic canon commonly taught in courses on film The author explores El espíritu de la colmena 1973 La historia oficial 1985 Fresa y chocolate 1994 El crimen del padre Amaro 2002 Abre los ojos 1997 Te doy mis ojos 2003 and Carlos Saura's flamenco trilogy Bodas de sangre 1981 Carmen 1983 and El amor brujo 1986 among others Race and the Revolutionary Impulse in The Spook Who Sat by the Door Michael T. Martin, David C. Wall, Marilyn Yaquinto, 2018-03-01 Ivan Dixon's 1973 film The Spook Who Sat by the Door captures the intensity of social and political upheaval during a volatile period in American history Based on Sam Greenlee's novel by the same name the film is a searing portrayal of an American Black underclass brought to the brink of revolution This series of critical essays situates the film in its social political and cinematic contexts and presents a wealth of related materials including an extensive interview with Sam Greenlee the original United Artists press kit numerous stills from the film and the original screenplay This fascinating examination of a revolutionary work foregrounds issues of race class and social inequality that continue to incite protests and drive political debate Movie History: A Survey Douglas Gomery, Clara Pafort-Overduin, 2011-02-28 Covering everything from Edison to Avatar Gomery and Pafort Overduin have written the clearest best organized and most user friendly film history textbook on the market It masterfully distills the major trends and movements of film history so that the subject can be taught in one semester And each chapter includes a compelling case study that highlights an important moment in movie history and at the same time subtly introduces a methodological approach This book is a pleasure to read and to teach Peter Decherney University of Pennsylvania USA In addition to providing a comprehensive overview of the development of film around the world the book gives us examples of how to do film history including organizing the details and discussing their implications Hugh McCarney Western Connecticut State University USA Douglas Gomery and Clara Pafort Overduin have created an outstanding textbook with an impressive breadth of content covering over 100 years in the evolution of cinema Movie History A Survey is an engaging book that will reward readers with a contemporary perspective of the history of motion pictures and provide a solid foundation for the study of film Matthew Hanson Eastern Michigan University USA How can we understand the history of film Historical facts don't answer the basic questions of film history History as this fascinating book shows is more than the simple accumulation of film titles facts and figures This is a survey of over 100 years of cinema history from its beginnings in 1895 to its current state in the twenty first century An accessible introductory text Movie History A Survey looks at not only the major films filmmakers and cinema institutions throughout the years but also extends to the production distribution exhibition technology and reception of films The textbook is divided chronologically into four sections using the timeline of technological changes Section One looks at the era of silent movies from 1895 to 1927 Section Two starts with the coming of sound and covers 1928 until 1950 Section Three runs from 1951 to 1975 and deals with the coming and development of television and Section Four focuses on the coming of home video and the transition to digital from 1975 to 2010 Key pedagogical features include timelines in each section help students to situate the films within a broader historical context case study boxes with close up analysis of specific film histories and a particular emphasis on film reception lavishly illustrated with over 450 color images to put faces to names and to connect pictures to film titles margin notes add background information and clarity glossary for clear understanding of the key terms described references and further reading at the end of each chapter to enhance further study A supporting website is available at www.routledge.com/textbooks/moviehistory with lots of extra materials useful for the classroom or independent study including additional case studies new in depth and unique to the website international case studies for the Netherlands in Dutch and English timeline A movie history timeline charting key dates in the history of cinema from 1890 to the present day revision flash cards ideal for getting to grips with key terms in film studies related resources on the website you will find every link from the book for ease of use plus access to additional online material

The Coen Brothers and American Roots Music Jesse Gerlach Ulmer,2023-04-25 For more than three decades Joel and Ethan Coen have produced some of the most memorable and influential American roots music soundtracks in film history From Raising Arizona 1987 to O Brother Where Art Thou 2000 to Inside Llewyn Davis 2013 the Coens along with musical archivist and producer T Bone Burnett have curated half forgotten yet unforgettable genres artists and songs from America's cultural past for new audiences This book is the first devoted to giving a full account of this rich cinematic legacy Special Effects and German Silent Film Katharina Loew,2025-10-01 In recent decades special effects have become a major new area of research in cinema studies For the most part they have been examined as spectacles or practical tools In contrast Special Effects and German Silent Film foregrounds their function as an expressive device and their pivotal role in cinema's emergence as a full fledged art Special effects not only shaped the look of iconic films like Nosferatu 1922 or Metropolis 1927 but they are central to a comprehensive understanding of German silent film culture writ large This book examines special effects as the embodiment of a techno romantic paradigm that seeks to harness technology the epitome of modern materialism as a means for accessing a spiritual realm Employed to visualize ideas and emotions in a medium specific way special effects thus paved the way for film art Subjective Realist Cinema Matthew Campora,2014-03-01 Subjective

Realist Cinema looks at the fragmented narratives and multiple realities of a wide range of films that depict subjective experience and employ subjective realist narration including recent examples such as Mulholland Drive Memento and Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind The author proposes that an understanding of the narrative structures of these films particularly their use of mixed and multiple realities enhances viewers enjoyment and comprehension of such films and that such comprehension offers a key to understanding contemporary filmmaking A Companion to Film Theory Toby

Miller,Robert Stam,2004-05-21 This volume of specially commissioned work by experts in the field of film studies provides a comprehensive overview of the field Its international and interdisciplinary approach will have a broad appeal to those interested in this multifaceted subject Provides a major collection of specially commissioned work by experts in the field of film studies Represents material under a variety of headings including class race gender queer theory nation stars ethnography authorship and spectatorship Offers an international approach to the subject including coverage of topics such as genre image sound editing culture industries early cinema classical Hollywood and TV relations and technology Includes concise chapter by chapter accounts of the background and current approaches to each topic followed by a prognostication on the future Considers cinema studies in relation to other forms of knowledge such as critical studies anthropology and literature Australian National Cinema Tom O'Regan,2005-08-10 Situates Australian cinema in its historical and cultural perspective offering detailed critiques of key films from 1970 onwards and using them to illustrate the recent theories on the cinema industries The Women's Companion to International Film Annette Kuhn, Susannah Radstone, 1994-01-01 Includes short entries for actresses genres studios and topics Movies and Methods Bill Nichols, 1976 VOLUME 2 Movies and Methods Volume II captures the developments that have given history and genre studies imaginative new models and indicates how feminist structuralist and psychoanalytic approaches to film have achieved fresh valuable insights In his thoughtful introduction Nichols provides a context for the paradoxes that confront film studies today He shows how shared methods and approaches continue to stimulate much of the best writing about film points to common problems most critics and theorists have tried to resolve and describes the internal contradictions that have restricted the usefulness of post structuralism Mini introductions place each essay in a larger context and suggest its linkages with other essays in the volume A great variety of approaches and methods characterize film writing today and the final part conveys their diversity from statistical style analysis to phenomenology and from gay criticisms to neoformalism This concluding part also shows how the rigorous use of a broad range of approaches has helped remove post structuralist criticism from its position of dominance through most of the seventies and early eighties Publisher description

Impossible Puzzle Films Miklos Kiss, 2017-04-28 Narrative complexity is a trend in contemporary cinema Since the late 1990s there has been a palpable increase in complex storytelling in movies But how and why do complex movies create perplexity and confusion How do we engage with these challenges And what makes complex stories so attractive By blending film studies narrative theory and cognitive sciences Kiss and Wilemsen look into the relation between complex storytelling and the mind Analysing the effects that different complex narratives have on viewers the book addresses how films like Donnie Darko Mulholland Drive and Primer strategically create complexity and confusion using the specific category of the impossible puzzle film to examine movies that use baffling paradoxes impossible loops and unresolved ambiguities in their stories and storytelling By looking at how these films play on our mind's blind spots this innovative book explains their viewing effects in terms of the mental state of cognitive dissonance that they evoke Wildlife Films Derek

Bousé, 2011-11-29 If as many argue movies and television have become Western culture's premier storytelling media so too have they become for most members of society the primary source of encounters with the natural world particularly wild animals The television fare offered nightly by national and cable networks such as PBS and the Discovery Channel provides millions of viewers with their only experience of the wilderness and its inhabitants The very films that so many viewers take as accurate portrayals of wildlife however have evolved primarily as a form of entertainment following the established codes and conventions of narrative exposition The result has been not the representation of nature but its wholesale reconstruction and reconfiguration according to film and television conventions audience expectations and the demands of competition in the media marketplace Wildlife Films traces the genealogy of the nature film from its origins as the animal locomotion studies that mark the very beginnings of motion pictures themselves to the founding of the Animal Planet cable channel that boasts all animals all the time The narrative and thematic elements that unite wildlife films as a genre have their roots not in the documentary film tradition but in the older traditions of oral and written animal fables as reflections of human society Derek Bous contends that classic wildlife films often portray animal protagonists living in families modeled on an ideal of the human nuclear family and working in communities that resemble an ideal of bucolic human society In these stories presented as documentaries animals are motivated by human emotions and conduct relationships according to human customs This imposition of culturally satisfying narrative patterns upon the lives of animals has not only led to the misrepresentation of the natural world it has promoted the notion that our values our moral vision our models of society and family structure derive from nature rather than being cultural formations The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film Paisley Livingston, Carl Plantinga, 2008-10-27 The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film is the first comprehensive volume to explore the main themes topics thinkers and issues in philosophy and film The Companion features sixty specially commissioned chapters from international scholars and is divided into four clear parts issues and concepts authors and trends genres film as philosophy Part one is a comprehensive section examining key concepts including chapters on acting censorship character depiction ethics genre interpretation narrative reception and spectatorship and style Part two covers authors and scholars of film and significant theories Part three examines genres such as documentary experimental cinema horror comedy and tragedy Part four includes chapters on key directors such as Tarkovsky Bergman and Terrence Malick and on particular films including Memento Each chapter includes a section of annotated further reading and is cross referenced to related entries The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film is essential reading for anyone interested in philosophy of film aesthetics and film and cinema studies Reel History Robert Brent Toplin, 2002 The author makes an argument for clemency in judging Hollywood's interpretations of history and thoroughly investigates its serious limitations and opportunities to construe history Stop the Clocks! Helen Powell, 2012-03-30 The clock plays a significant part in our understanding of temporality but while it simplifies regulates and coordinates it fails to reflect and communicate the more experiential dimensions of time As Helen Powell demonstrates in this book cinema has been addressing this issue since its inception Stop the Clocks examines filmmakers relationship to time and its visual manipulation and representation from the birth of the medium to the digital present It engages both with experimentation in narrative construction and with films that take time as their subject matter such as Donnie Darko Interview with a Vampire Lost Highway and Pulp Fiction Helen Powell asks what underpins the enduring appeal of the science fiction genre with filmmakers and audience and how cinematography might inform our conceptualisation of other imagined temporal worlds including the afterlife She examines the role of angels and vampires in contemporary cinema as well as the distinctive time schemes of new media and their implications for rethinking time and the moving image through digitalisation Broad based and accessible Stop the Clocks will appeal to a wide interdisciplinary audience and provides a useful sourcebook on undergraduate and postgraduate courses in film and other arts and media based disciplines Science Fiction Cinema Geoff King, Tanya Krzywinska, 2000 This book charts the dimensions of one of the most popular genres in the cinema From lurid comic book blockbusters to dark dystopian visions science fiction is seen as both a powerful cultural barometer of our times and the product of particular industrial and commercial frameworks The authors outline the major themes of the genre from representations of the mad scientist and computer hacker to the relationship between science fiction and postmodernism exploring issues such as the meaning of special effects and the influence of science fiction cinema on the entertainment media of the digital age Over one hundred films are discussed and the book concludes with an extensive case study of Star Wars I The Phantom Menace Nichols Bill Nichols, 1985
