Resource Management Performance: A Sectoral Analysis in the Post-Conflict Kurdistan Region of Iraq Goran M. Muhamad, Nabaz T. Khayyat, 2024-12-23 This book investigates the intricacies of resource management performance across various sectors within the Kurdistan Region of Iraq With 13 in depth studies it examines the region s evolution from an agricultural society to an emerging market since the collapse of the Saddam Hussein regime in 2003 Oil and gas revenue comprising over 85 percent of fiscal revenues has attracted multinational companies and international humanitarian organizations although external factors such as the ISIS conflict and global economic downturns have hindered their performance Additionally conflicts with Baghdad and the fallout of the ISIS war have led to double embargoes and economic crises exacerbated by the region s provision for 2 million refugees and internally displaced persons International entities like the IOM and UNDP have played vital roles in supporting the region s development amid these challenges Despite these obstacles the Kurdistan Region demonstrates significant economic potential By scrutinizing resource management in sectors such as education and electricity this book offers valuable insights and policy recommendations for researchers decision makers and organizations invested in the region s growth and stability

Forty years of community-based forestry Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2016 Since the 1970s and 1980s community based forestry has grown in popularity based on the concept that local communities when granted sufficient property rights over local forest commons can organize autonomously and develop local institutions to regulate the use of natural resources and manage them sustainably. Over time various forms of community based forestry have evolved in different countries but all have at their heart the notion of some level of participation by smallholders and community groups in planning and implementation. This publication is FAO's first comprehensive look at the impact of community based forestry since previous reviews in 1991 and 2001. It considers both collaborative regimes forestry practised on land with formal communal tenure requiring collective action and smallholder forestry on land that is generally privately owned. The publication examines the extent of community based forestry globally and regionally and assesses its effectiveness in delivering on key biophysical and socioeconomic outcomes i.e. moving towards sustainable forest management and improving local livelihoods. The report is targeted at policy makers, practitioners, researchers, communities and civil society.

Application of Threshold Concepts in Natural Resource Decision Making Glenn R. Guntenspergen, 2014-02-07. Natural resource managers face a complex decision making environment characterized by the potential occurrence of rapid and abrupt ecological change. These abrupt changes are poorly accommodated by traditional natural resource planning and decision making processes. As recognition of threshold processes has increased, contemporary models of ecological systems have been modified to better represent a broader range of ecological system dynamics. Key conceptual advances associated with the ideas of non-linear responses, the existence of multiple ecological stable states and critical thresholds are more likely the rule than the exception in ecological systems. Once an ecological threshold is crossed, the ecosystem in question is not likely to return to its previous state. There are many examples and a general consensus that climatic disruptions will drive now stable systems across ecological thresholds. This book provides professional resource managers with a broad general decision framework that illustrates the utility of including ecological threshold concepts in natural resource management. It gives an entry into the literature in this rapidly evolving concept with descriptions and discussion of the promising statistical approaches for threshold detection and demonstrations of the utility of the threshold framework via a series of case studies. Park Science, 2009.

Prospects for Adaptive and Sustainable Livelihoods for the Indigenous Peoples of Africa Costantinos Berhutesfa, 2024-12-20. Beginning in the early 1990s, Africa has been experiencing a major ground swell of social, economic and political changes. An array of declarations and communiqués notwithstanding, the crisis has forced indigenous peoples to become chronically dependent on international charity. This is one of the greatest tragedies of the 21st century. This book is a result of research conducted across Africa beginning in 2003 that was invaluable in understanding the conditions and views of indigenous peoples who are the victims rather than the beneficiaries of land grabbing and infrastructure development. The book highlights the impediments to the livelihoods that indigenous peoples had developed over centuries brought about by political change. It also proposes various local and regional actions to mitigate this, which aim to simultaneously enhance climate resilience productivity and access to adequate stocks goods and services      Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis vegetable production in a modern competitive market requires an understanding of many more factors than the biology of crops and the production techniques involved This major new textbook brings the science and practice of vegetable production right up to date by addressing modern culture techniques and the recent challenges of consumer demand facing producers today It introduces vegetable production from the perspective of producing high quality produce that satisfies the needs of the modern consumer Beginning with the basics of how vegetables are grown using high and low input methods including organic and sustainable production techniques the book goes on to introduce and discuss many topics covered less comprehensively in older texts including Good Agricultural Practices to improve quality reduce biological contamination and secure food safety water management cropping systems plasticulture protected culture and mineral nutrition Vegetable Production and Practices also introduces the use of molecular biology for genetic improvement of crops Issues specific to individual vegetable crops are addressed by family including their diseases harvesting quality attributes and other issues of increasing importance to consumers including the role of vegetables in human health Professor Gregory E Welbaum has a long history of teaching successful courses in horticulture at Virginia Tech and other universities in the US and worldwide Vegetable Production Practices has been specifically designed to accompany courses in vegetable crop production so is ideally suited to inspire students in crop and horticultural sciences as well as provide a useful reference for experienced practitioners
