Natural History Of Nonsense:

The Natural History of Nonsense Bergen Evans, 1960 Readings for A History of Anthropological Theory Paul A. Erickson, Liam Donat Murphy, 2010-01-01 This comprehensive anthology presents 40 readings that are critical to an understanding of anthropological theory and the development of anthropology as an academic discipline The readings have broad anthropological appeal emphasizing social and cultural anthropology The third edition has been completely revised throughout and organized to work more closely alongside the companion overview text A History of Anthropological Theory It includes six new readings as well as two original essays written by contemporary anthropologists on Why Theory Matters These new essays help ground the more abstract readings in the collection The glossary has been significantly expanded and the discussion questions have been revised The result is a volume that offers not only a strong foundation in the history of the discipline but also a good overview of developments in twentieth and twenty first century anthropological theory including feminist anthropology postmodernity medical anthropology globalization postcolonialism and public anthropology The Natural History of Edward Lear, New Edition Robert McCracken Peck, 2021-04-13 Edward Lear is well known as the brilliant writer of nonsense poetry children s books and travel books who popularized the limerick and wrote verses such as The Owl and the Pussycat But few people are aware that Lear was one of the most talented and accomplished painters of natural history subjects in the nineteenth century and worked with British scientists collectors and publishers to make Britain the nexus for scientific investigation and its circulation One of the best ornithological artists of his generation Lear published his first book a monograph on the parrot family at age 18 and established a format that would be followed by decades by such publishers as John Gould with whom he worked closely and often anonymously Over his career Lear produced a multitude of drawings of birds and mammals from around the world for scientific publications public institutions and individual patrons not just of English species but of birds and mammals from Australia New Zealand and the Americas He is also the Lear in the name of the rare species Lear s Macaw In this book Peck has assembled the first comprehensive view of this important part of Lear s career Featuring over 200 illustrations and a foreword by Sir David Attenborough the book also examines the influence Lear had on modern artists such as Walton Ford and Tony Foster This new edition includes a new chapter that addresses Lear s continued fascination with wildlife and the natural world after giving up his career as a scientific illustrator and his fascination with domestic pets from his own beloved cat which he cartooned repeatedly to the portraits of dogs owned by his family and friends alongside thirteen never before published illustrations including fully finished watercolors rough preliminary sketches and whimsical cartoons Why America's Top Pundits Are Wrong Catherine Besteman, Hugh Gusterson, 2005-01-17 This absorbing collection of essays subjects such popular commentators as Thomas Friedman Samuel Huntington Robert Kaplan and Dinesh D Souza to cold hard scrutiny and finds that their writing is often misleadingly simplistic culturally ill informed and politically dangerous Mixing critical reflection with insights from their own fieldwork twelve distinguished anthropologists respond by offering fresh perspectives on globalization ethnic violence social justice and the biological roots of behavior They take on such topics as the collapse of Yugoslavia the consumer practices of the American poor American foreign policy in the Balkans and contemporary debates over race welfare and violence against women In the clear vigorous prose of the pundits themselves these contributors reveal the hollowness of what often passes as prevailing wisdom and passionately demonstrate the need for a humanistically complex and democratic understanding of the contemporary world

Inventing Edward Lear Sara Lodge,2018-11-30 Inventing Edward Lear is an exceptional valuable original study presenting new materials on aspects of Lear s life and work Jenny Uglow author of Mr Lear and The Lunar Men Edward Lear wrote some of the best loved poems in English including The Owl and the Pussycat but the father of nonsense was far more than a poet He was a naturalist a brilliant landscape painter an experimental travel writer and an accomplished composer Sara Lodge presents the fullest account yet of Lear s passionate engagement in the intellectual social and cultural life of his times Lear had a difficult start in life He was epileptic asthmatic and depressive but even as a child a consummate performer who projected himself into others affections He became by John James Audubon s estimate one of the greatest ornithological artists of the age Queen Victoria an admirer chose him to be her painting teacher He popularized the limerick set Tennyson s verse to music and opened fresh doors for children and adults to share fantasies of magical escape Lodge draws on diaries letters and new archival sources to paint a vivid picture of Lear that explores his musical influences his religious nonconformity his relationship with the Pre Raphaelite movement and the connections between his scientific and artistic work He invented himself as a character awkward but funny absurdly sympathetic In Lodge s hands Lear emerges as a dynamic and irreverent polymath whose conversation continues to draw us in Inventing Edward Lear is an original and moving account of one of the most intriguing and creative of all Victorians

The Ideal of a Rational Morality Marcus George Singer,2002 This is a collection of essays by moral philosopher Marcus George Singer in which the guiding theme is the concept of a morality based in reason which is presupposed in ordinary moral contexts and provides an ideal for improving ordinary morality and correcting moral judgements from several critical approaches spectral affective and spatial to provide a new route into these subjects Examining urban and rural landscapes haunted domestic spaces landscapes of trauma and borderlands this collection of essays is designed to cross disciplines and combine seemingly disparate academic approaches under the coherent locus of landscape and haunting Presenting a timely intervention in some of the most pressing scholarly debates of our time Haunted Landscapes offers an attractive array of essays that cover topics from Victorian times to the present Animals, Museum Culture and Children's Literature in Nineteenth-Century Britain Laurence Talairach, 2021-05-27 Animals Museum Culture and Children's Literature in Nineteenth Century Britain Curious Beasties explores the relationship between the zoological and palaeontological specimens brought back from around the world in the long nineteenth century be they alive stuffed or fossilised and the development of children's literature at this time Children's literature emerged as dizzying numbers of new species flooded into Britain with scientific expeditions from giraffes and hippopotami to kangaroos wombats platypuses or sloths As the book argues late Georgian Victorian and Edwardian children's writers took part in the urge for mass education and presented the world and its curious creatures to children often borrowing from their museum culture and its objects to map out that world This original exploration illuminates how children's literature dealt with the new ordering of the world offering a unique viewpoint on the construction of science in the long nineteenth century Miracle Enough William Gray, Peter Winnington, 2014-09-18 To mark the centenary of Mervyn Peake's birth the Sussex Centre for Folklore Fairy Tales and Fantasy University of Chichester organized an international conference in July 2011 entitled Mervyn Peake and the Fantasy Tradition Papers were presented by scholars artists and writers from all over the world and here we have a selection of them No other comparable collection of essays on Peake has ever been published The contributors take a wide variety of approaches to Peake's work Between Generations Victoria Ford Smith, 2017-08-07 Winner of the Children's Literature Association's 2019 Book Award Between Generations is a multidisciplinary volume that reframes children as powerful forces in the production of their own literature and culture by uncovering a tradition of creative collaborative partnerships between adults and children in nineteenth and early twentieth century England The intergenerational collaborations documented here provide the foundations for some of the most popular Victorian literature for children from Margaret Gatty's Aunt Judy's Tales to Robert Louis Stevenson's Treasure Island Examining the publication histories of both canonical and lesser known Golden Age texts reveals that children collaborated with adult authors as active listeners coauthors critics illustrators and even small scale publishers These literary collaborations were part of a growing interest in child agency evident in cultural social and scientific discourses of the time Between Generations puts these creative partnerships in conversation with collaborations in other fields including child study educational policy library history and toy culture Taken together these collaborations illuminate how Victorians used new critical approaches to childhood to theorize young people as viable social actors Smith's work not only recognizes Victorian children as literary collaborators but also interrogates how those creative partnerships reflect and influence adult child relationships in the world beyond books Between Generations breaks the critical impasse that understands children's literature and children themselves as products of adult desire and revises common constructions of childhood that frequently and often errantly resign the young to passivity or powerlessness The Actual Jesus Tina Pippin, 2025-07-29 This book moves away from the traditional historical and theological studies of Jesus to incorporate a variety of theoretical and material approaches across centuries and diverse global cultures Through fiction and film the connections are made with contemporary issues such as borders asylum seekers farmworker activism colonialism violence misogyny civil war and nuclear proliferation with a focus on the appearances of the actual Jesus in these worlds The Jesus in this study is explored in particular connections with the stories of baptism wilderness experience ascension and apocalypse What is found is often confusing challenging surprising and disturbing like the Jesus of the gospels The Academy, 1899 Where Words and Images Meet Ludmilla Jordanova, Florence Grant, 2024-03-07 Bringing together a fascinatingly diverse yet closely related group of subjects Where Words and Images Meet asks us to rethink what we know about words and images and how they interact From 19th century frontispieces to Soviet photo albums from the relationships between portraits and biographies to museum labels the book's richly illustrated chapters open up historically specific connections between word and image to collective examination and fruitful analysis Written by both established and emerging scholars in a range of interrelated fields the chapters deliberately foreground previously overlooked topics as well as unfamiliar disciplinary approaches to offer a stimulating and carefully developed framework for looking at these ubiquitous phenomena afresh Where Words and Images Meet opens up for analysis and reflection the forms of attention practices skills and assumptions that underlie visual interpretation and meaning making in the writing of history By bringing the features of the materials we read and look at into focus we can grasp more effectively the complex interrelationships involved and enhance our practice and understanding Genetics Diagnosis, Inborn Errors of Metabolism and Newborn Screening: An Update, An Issue of Clinics in Perinatology Michael J. Colley, 2016-02-11 What did the 13th Earl of Derby his twenty two year old niece Manchester's Belle Vue Zoo and even some ordinary laborers all have in common All were avid collectors and exhibitors of exotic and frequently unruly specimens In her study of Britain's craze for natural history collecting Ann C Colley makes extensive use of archival materials to examine the challenges preoccupations and disordered circumstances that attended the amassing of specimens from faraway places only vaguely known to the British public As scientific institutions sent collectors to bring back exotic animals and birds for study and classification by anatomists and zoologist it soon became apparent that collecting skins rather than live animals or birds was a relatively more manageable endeavor Colley looks at the collecting exhibiting and portraying of animal skins to show their importance as trophies of empire and representations of identity While a zoo might display skins to promote and glorify Britain s colonial achievements Colley suggests that the reality of collecting was characterized more by chaos than imperial order For example Edward Lear s commissioned illustrations of the Earl of Derby s extensive collection challenge the colonial s or collector s commanding gaze while the Victorian public demonstrated a yearning to connect with their own wildness by touching the skins of animals Colley concludes with a discussion of the metaphorical uses of wild skins by Gerard Manley Hopkins and other writers exploring the idea of skin as a locus of memory and touch where one s past can be traced in the same way that nineteenth century mapmakers charted a landscape Throughout the book Colley calls upon recent theories about the nature and function of skin and touch to structure her discussion of the Victorian fascination with wild animal skins
