A Minimalist Ontology of the Natural World Michael Esfeld,Dirk-Andre Deckert,2017-10-25 This book seeks to work out which commitments are minimally sufficient to obtain an ontology of the natural world that matches all of today's well established physical theories We propose an ontology of the natural world that is defined only by two axioms 1 There are distance relations that individuate simple objects namely matter points 2 The matter points are permanent with the distances between them changing Everything else comes in as a means to represent the change in the distance relations in a manner that is both as simple and as informative as possible The book works this minimalist ontology out in philosophical as well as mathematical terms and shows how one can understand classical mechanics quantum field theory and relativistic physics on the basis of this ontology Along the way we seek to achieve four subsidiary aims a to make a case for a holistic individuation of the basic objects ontic structural realism b to work out a new version of Humeanism dubbed Super Humeanism that does without natural properties c to set out an ontology of quantum physics that is an alternative to quantum state realism and that avoids any ontological dualism of particles and fields d to vindicate a relationalist ontology based on point objects also in the domain of relativistic physics

Created in honor of the work of Professor Tova Forti this collection considers the natural world in key wisdom books Proverbs Job and Qoheleth Ecclesiastes Ben Sira and Song of Songs Solomon and also examines particular animal and plant imagery in other texts in the Hebrew Bible It crucially involves ancient Near Eastern parallels and like texts from the classical world but also draws on rabbinic tradition and broader interpretative works as well as different textual traditions such as the LXX and Qumran scrolls Whilst the natural world notably plants and animals is a key uniting element the human aspect is also crucial To explore this contributors also treat the wider concerns within wisdom literature on human beings in relation to their social context and in comparison with neighbouring nations They emphasize that the human animal and plant worlds act together in synthesis all enhanced and imbued by the world view of wisdom literature

Everyday Nature: Knowledge of the Natural World in Colonial New York, 2007 In Everyday Nature Sara Gronim shows how scientific advances were received in the early modern world from the time Europeans settled in America until just before the American Revolution Settlers approached a wide range of innovations such as smallpox inoculation maps and surveys Copernican cosmology and Ben Franklin's experiments with electricity with great skepticism New Yorkers in particular were distrustful because of the chronic political and religious factionalism in the colony Those discoveries that could be easily reconciled with existing beliefs about healing the sick agricultural practices and the revolution of the planets were more readily embraced

Faulkner and the Natural World Donald M. Kartiganer, Ann J. Abadie, 1999 Although he belonged to an American generation of writers deeply influenced by the high modernist revolt against nature and against the self imposed limits of realism to a palpable world William Faulkner reveals throughout his work an abiding sensitivity to the natural world He writes of the big woods of animals and of the human body as a ground of being that art and culture can neither transcend nor completely control The eleven essays that make up this volume including a paper written by the acclaimed novelist William Kennedy explore the place of the unbuilt world in Faulkner's fiction They give particular attention to the social mythic and economic significance of nature to the complexity of racial identity and to the inevitable clash of gender and sexuality These essays were presented in 1996 as papers at the Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference held annually at the University of Mississippi Included are the following Lawrence Buell's Faulkner and the Claims of the Natural World Thomas L. McHaney's Oversexing the Natural World Theresa M. Towner's Color Race and Identity in Faulkner's Fiction Jay Watson's The Art of the Literal in Light in August Mary Joanne Dondlinger's The Matter of Race and Gender in Faulkner's Light in August Louise Westling's Sutpen's Marriage to the Dark Body of the Land Myra Jehlen's Faulkner and the Unnatural Diane Roberts's Eula Linda and the Death of Nature David H.
