A vibrant, hand-drawn illustration of a human brain, split vertically. The left hemisphere is labeled 'SCIENCE' in large, bold, black capital letters. It is surrounded by blue-toned icons representing scientific concepts: a microscope, a DNA double helix, a bar graph, a pie chart, a person holding a presentation board, a city skyline, and a chemical structure labeled 'H2O'. The right hemisphere is labeled 'Art' in a large, elegant, black cursive script. It is surrounded by colorful icons representing artistic and creative concepts: musical notes, a saxophone, a camera, a bicycle, a coffee cup, a flower, and a person playing a guitar. The background is a mix of bright colors like yellow, green, and pink, with wavy lines separating the science and art sections.
