Proceedings of the First International Symposium : the Wall Paintings of Thera: Text,2000 Cultures in Contact Joan Aruz,Sarah B. Graff,Yelena Rakic,2013 The exhibition Beyond Babylon Art Trade and Diplomacy in the Second Millennium B C held in 2008-2009 at The Metropolitan Museum of Art demonstrated the cultural enrichment that emerged from the intensive interaction of civilizations from western Asia to Egypt and the Aegean in the Middle and Late Bronze Ages During this critical period in human history powerful kingdoms and large territorial states were formed Rising social elites created a demand for copper and tin as well as for precious gold and silver and exotic materials such as lapis lazuli and ivory to create elite objects fashioned in styles that reflected contacts with foreign lands This quest for metals along with the desire for foreign textiles was the driving force that led to the establishment of merchant colonies and a vast trading network throughout central Anatolia during the early second millennium B C Texts from palaces at sites from Hattusa modern Bogazk y in Hittite Anatolia to Amarna in Egypt attest to the volume and variety of interactions that took place some centuries later creating the impetus for the circulation of precious goods stimulating the exchange of ideas and inspiring artistic creativity Perhaps the most dramatic evidence for these far flung connections emerges out of tragedy the wreckage of the oldest known seagoing ship discovered in a treacherous stretch off the southern coast of Turkey near the promontory known as Uluburun Among its extraordinary cargo of copper glass and exotic raw materials and luxury goods is a gilded bronze statuette of a goddess perhaps the patron deity on board who failed in her mission to protect the ship To explore the themes of the exhibition art trade and diplomacy viewed from an international perspective a two day symposium and related scholarly events allowed colleagues to explore many facets of the multicultural societies that developed in the second millennium B C Their insights which dramatically illustrate the incipient phases of our intensely interactive world are presented largely in symposium order beginning with broad regional overviews and examination of particular archeological contexts and then drawing attention to specific artists and literary evidence for interconnections In this introduction however their contributions are viewed from a somewhat more synthetic perspective one that focuses attention on the ways in which ideas in this volume intersect to enrich the ongoing discourse on the themes elucidated in the exhibition Hamish MacCunn

(1868-1916): A Musical Life Jennifer L. Oates, 2016-04-22 Hamish MacCunn's career unfolded amidst the restructuring of British musical culture and the rewriting of the Western European political landscape Having risen to fame in the late 1880s with a string of Scottish works MacCunn further highlighted his Caledonian background by cultivating a Scottish artistic persona that defined him throughout his life His attempts to broaden his appeal ultimately failed This along with his difficult personality and a series of poor professional choices led to the slow demise of what began as a promising career As the first comprehensive study of MacCunn's life the book illustrates how social and cultural situations as well as his personal relationships influenced his career While his fierce loyalty to his friends endeared him to influential people who helped him throughout his career his refusal of his Royal College of Music degree and his failure to complete early commissions assured him a difficult path Drawing upon primary resources Oates traces the development of MacCunn's music chronologically juxtaposing his Scottish and more cosmopolitan compositions within a discussion of his life and other professional activities This picture of MacCunn and his music reveals on the one hand a talented composer who played a role in establishing national identity in British music and on the other a man who unwittingly sabotaged his own career National Trade and Professional Associations of the U. S., 1985 John Russell, Regina Germain, 1985 Seagoing Ships & Seamanship in the Bronze Age Levant Shelley Wachsmann, 1998 This is a comprehensive study of Bronze Age ships and seafaring in the eastern Mediterranean the principal means of contact between different cultures in this period It deals with seagoing ships in the cultures bordering the eastern Mediterranean starting with Egypt and following the trade routes Seven primary aspects of seafaring are dealt with ship construction propulsion anchors navigation sea trade war and piracy and laws of the sea

Surveying and Mapping, 1986 History of Acquisition in the Department of Defense, Volume 1 Elliott V. Converse, 2012-06-12 This volume is a history of the acquisition of major weapon systems by the United States armed forces from 1945 to 1960 the decade and a half that spanned the Truman and Eisenhower administrations following World War II These instruments of warfare aircraft armored vehicles artillery guided missiles naval vessels and supporting electronic systems when combined with nuclear warheads gave the postwar American military unprecedented deterrent and striking power 1 They were also enormously expensive The volume is organized chronologically with individual chapters addressing the roles of OSD the Army Navy and Air Force in two distinct periods The first roughly coinciding with President Truman s tenure covers the years from the end of World War II through the end of the Korean War in 1953 The second spans the two terms of the Eisenhower presidency from 1953 through early 1961 The year 1953 marked a natural breakpoint between the two periods The Korean War had ended President Eisenhower and his defense team began implementing the New Look a policy and strategy based on nuclear weapons which they believed would provide security and make it possible to reduce military spending The New Look s stress on nuclear weapons along with the deployment of the first operational guided missiles and the rapid advances subsequently made in nuclear and missile technology profoundly influenced acquisition in the services throughout the 1950s and the remainder of the century As used in this study the term acquisition encompasses the activities by which the United States obtains weapons and other equipment In surveying the history of acquisition between 1945 and 1960 this study discusses or refers in passing to many of the hundreds of weapon system programs initiated by the services in that period but it is not a weapons encyclopedia Instead it investigates a few major programs in depth in the belief that such detailed examination best reveals the evolution of acquisition policies organizations and processes and the various forces influencing weapons programs

Rearming for the Cold War, 1945-1960 Elliott Vanveltner Converse,2012 Book Description The first publication in a multivolume series on the history of the acquisition of major weapon systems by the Department of Defense author Elliott Converse presents a meticulously researched overview of changes in acquisition policies organizations and processes within the United States military establishment during the decade and a half following World War II Many of the changes that shaped the nature and course of weapons research and development production and contracting through the end of the century were instituted between 1945 and 1960 many of the problems that have repeatedly challenged defense policymakers and acquisition professionals also first surfaced during these years This study is the first to combine the histories of the Office of the Secretary of Defense OSD and the military services into one account The volume is organized chronologically with individual chapters addressing the roles of OSD the Army Navy and Air Force in two distinct periods

Uncovering the Truth About Meriwether Lewis Thomas C. Danisi,2012-02-07 The critically acclaimed biography Meriwether Lewis coauthored by Thomas C Danisi was praised for its meticulous research and for shedding new light on the adventurous life and controversial death of the great explorer who became famous through the Lewis and Clark Expedition Now the author with some help from contributors extends his groundbreaking studies of Meriwether Lewis with this compilation of historical essays that offers new findings based on recently discovered documents tackling such intriguing subjects as The court martial of Meriwether Lewis Danisi s discovery of the astonishing never before published transcript of the entire court martial proceedings affords him the distinction of being the first historian to mine the document for the many insights it offers into the then untested twenty one year old officer who eloquently defended himself and won his case Documentation straight from the medical ledgers of Dr Antoine

Saugrain the physician who treated Governor Lewis which helps to confirm that Lewis suffered from malaria prior to his celebrated trek to the Pacific Ocean with the Corps of Discovery and continuing through his service as governor of the Louisiana Territory Was Lewis's death as reported the result of suicide or was he merely a victim of this episodic and incurable disease Documentation that proves the true nature of the much discussed Gilbert Russell Statement given at the court martial of General James Wilkinson Some historians have argued that Wilkinson orchestrated Lewis's murder but Danisi's research sets the record straight The role of Major James Neely in Lewis's last days This subject has gained much prominence through the History Channel according to which Neely supposedly lied to President Thomas Jefferson about his presence at Meriwether Lewis's burial but Danisi has evidence to the contrary The author presents an abundance of additional material to fill in previous historical gaps regarding the mysteries and controversies surrounding Lewis's life and death In doing so he paints a vivid picture of the brilliant rise of an ambitious young man by virtue of courage talent and political connections and the tragic fall of a conscientious public servant under the weight of chronic illness bureaucratic pettiness and the political intrigue that was rampant throughout America's Wild West This superb contribution to Meriwether Lewis research is a must read for students and scholars of American history and anyone with an interest in one of our nation's most important explorers and public servants The Old War Horse Myron J. Smith, Jr., 2024-02-26 With a unique prewar history as a snagboat and James B Eads noted catamaran salvage vessel the Benton survived a tumultuous government acquisition process and conversion to become flagship of the Union's Civil War Western river navy From Island No 10 through the Vicksburg and Red River campaigns the revolutionary ironclad participated in both combat and administrative activities earning a prominent place in nautical legend and literature This first book length profile of the warship reveals little known details of both her prewar and wartime career and reviews her final disposal The Mariner's Mirror Leonard George Carr Laughton, Roger Charles Anderson, William Gordon Perrin, 2004 Black Athena Writes Back Martin Bernal, 2001-09-20 This book is Bernal's response to criticisms to his 1987 book BLACK ATHENA which argued for an Afro Asiatic origin for Greek civilization
