Practical Lessons in the Use of English for Grammar Schools, with Supplement Mary Frances Hyde, 1889
From Sleepwear to Sportswear Janine D'Agati, Hannah Schiff, 2024-02-08 How did women begin wearing pants? Prior to the 1920s it was a rarity to see women in pants in the Western world, but as the silk pajama trouser suit moved from the boudoir to the beach in the early 1920s, it cemented the image of the trousered woman. Worn by Jean Harlow and Marlene Dietrich, painted by Raoul Dufy and immortalized in F. Scott Fitzgerald's Tender is the Night, between the two world wars, pajamas came to symbolize much more than sleepwear. This book explores how the pajama phenomenon was not only critical to the careers of designers such as Chanel, Patou, Poiret, and Schiaparelli, but how the versatile garment was also bound to the independence of women and influenced culture more broadly. Through meticulous research and never-before-seen images, the authors position pajama fashion in the context of the Golden Age of Travel, the rise of Hollywood, and the changing political climate of the early 20th century to reveal how the rising trend in sleepwear influenced The American Look, modern sportswear, and the image of the trousered woman.

Thinking the Impossible Gary Gutting,2013-03-07 The late 20th century saw a remarkable flourishing of philosophy in France The work of French philosophers is wide ranging historically informed often reaching out beyond the boundaries of philosophy they are public intellectuals taken seriously as contributors to debates outside the academy Gary Gutting tells the story of the development of a distinctively French philosophy in the last four decades of the 20th century His aim is to arrive at an account of what it was to do philosophy in France what this sort of philosophizing was able to achieve and how it differs from the analytic philosophy dominant in Anglophone countries. His initial focus is on the three most important philosophers who came to prominence in the 1960s: Michel Foucault, Gilles Deleuze, and Jacques Derrida. He sets out the educational and cultural context of their work as a basis for a detailed treatment of how they formulated and began to carry out their philosophical projects in the 1960s and 1970s. He gives a fresh assessment of their responses to the key influences of Hegel and Heidegger and the fraught relationship of the new generation to their father figure Sartre. He concludes that Foucault, Derrida, and Deleuze can all be seen as developing their fundamental philosophical stances out of distinctive readings of Nietzsche. The second part of the book considers topics and philosophers that became prominent in the 1980s and 1990s, such as the revival of ethics in Levinas, Derrida and Foucault's return to phenomenology and its use to revive religious experience as a philosophical topic, and Alain Badiou's new ontology of the event. Finally, Gutting brings to the fore the meta-philosophical theme of the book: that French philosophy since the 1960s has been primarily concerned with thinking the impossible.
