Jet, 1986-03-24 The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news Jet, 1986-03-24 The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news A Spirit of Dialogue Christopher N. Okonkwo, 2008 A groundbreaking study A Spirit of Dialogue examines through extensive interdisciplinary research theory and close reading the intricate reconstructions extensions and resonances of the West African myth of spirit children the Born to Die in contemporary African American neo slave narratives Arguing that the myth called Ogbaje in Igbo language and b k in Yoruba has had over thirty years of uncharted presence in African American literature Okonkwo advances a compelling case absent in extant scholarship He traces Ogbaje the Born to Die's appearance in African American texts to a convergence of factors They include but are not limited to the impact of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart the 1960s emergence of the contemporary neo slave narrative the 1960s and 1970s black consciousness Black Power movement and the cultural agenda gendered politics and centripetal philosophy of the Black Arts movement's nationalist aesthetic African American identity questions of the post civil rights and the multicultural eras and the thematic shifts as well as the African diaspora orientation of African American fiction of the post nationalist aesthetic period A Spirit of Dialogue focuses on the sometimes neglected and understudied works of four canonical African American writers Octavia E Butler's Wild Seed and Mind of My Mind Tananarive Due's The Between John Edgar Wideman's The Cattle Killing and Toni

Morrison's Sula and Beloved demonstrates persuasively how the mythic spirit child informs the content and form of these novels offering Butler, Due, Wideman, and Morrison a non-occidental code by which to engage collectively with the various issues integral to the history experience of African descended people. The paradigm functions then as the nexus of a life-affirmative dialogue among the six novels as well as between them and other works of African religious and literary imagination particularly Things Fall Apart and Ben Okri's The Famished Road. Jump Shooting to a Higher Degree

Sheldon Anderson, 2021-09 Jump Shooting to a Higher Degree chronicles Sheldon Anderson's basketball career from grade school in small town Moorhead, Minnesota in the 1960s to inner city high school and college ball in Minneapolis to a professional career in West Germany and finally to communist Poland where he did PhD research while on a basketball junket behind the Iron Curtain in the late 1980s. Because he was the only American player in the league at the time and with help from a Polish scholar, Anderson was one of the first Western scholars to gain access to Communist Party documents. He is also likely the only American scholar to have funded his research by playing semi-pro basketball in a communist country. Jump Shooting to a Higher Degree is much more than a basketball story. Anderson provides insights into the everyday lives of people on either side of the Iron Curtain such as the English coach he played for in West Germany, an elderly woman he visited many times in East Germany, and a sailmaker's family he lived with in Warsaw. He reflects on German, Polish, and Cold War history, providing a commentary on the times and the places where he lived and played, and the importance of basketball along the way. Sing, I Ethel Rohan, 2024-04-15

One woman's path to rediscovering herself through music, romance, and a little vigilantism. Inside Half Moon Bay, a sparkling California coastal town, Ester Prynn is dulled and diminished by struggles with work, money, marriage, her senile father, a troubled teenage son, and old guilt she can't assuage. When a masked gunman robs the convenience store where Ester works, he upends her fraught life and propels her toward passions buried like singing, desires discovered like a same-sex infatuation, and wrongs righted like bringing the violent assailant to justice. But as the armed robber commits new crimes and continues to evade capture, the trauma from the holdup climbs, threatening Ester's newfound delights and longings and forcing her to contend with her burning regrets and what-ifs. In the reckoning between Ester and these growing molten upsets, she's faced with enormous choices and must determine what and who can bring her to her best life. THE WALLFLOWER Jan Freed, 2011-07-15

She'll masquerade as a high school senior and try to blend in. But no one can ignore the cool girl from California. Especially not Jack Morgan, her English teacher. Under ordinary circumstances, he would be the perfect man for her. But he'll never look at her as a woman unless she reveals her true identity, and if she does that, she just might wind up dead.
