Price, 2013-06-17 This volume on interdisciplinary work in mountain areas is an excellent compilation of examples as well as lessons learned In effect it provides guidance on how best to approach such work While different in training and backgrounds the authors clearly articulate the global conviction that interdisciplinary work is the only approach This volume of case studies repeats this strong and important message Nikita Lopoukhine Chair of the IUCN World Commission on Protected Areas and former Director General of National Parks Canada Over the past twenty years the rhetoric surrounding the The Torah and the Stoics on humankind and nature J.J. Boersema, 2021-09-06 The environmental problematique is intimately bound up with deep seated human attitudes regarding our relationship with nature Here in the west those attitudes have been shaped to no small degree by the canonical texts of the Bible and the classical philosophers In this book the author re examines some of these seminal texts arguing that what we today know as Christian cosmology is in fact a grafting of classical Greek philosophy onto ancient Israelite thought with certain valuable traditions being all but lost in the process The dietary laws of Leviticus and Deuteronomy in particular still prove surprisingly relevant today Often misread on this point the creation narratives of Genesis can likewise serve as a rich point of departure for examining our attitudes towards the natural world A reappraisal of these sources is necessary and feasible There is no need for an appeal to cosmologies alien to our own culture nor for recourse to New Age beliefs in all their variety
