Perceptual Assurance The Reality Of:

Perceptual assurance and the reality of the world Errol E. Harris, 1974 On Truth and the Representation of Reality Dan Neshier, 2002 In On Truth and the Representation of Reality Dan Neshier develops a new theory of truth in the framework of pragmatist theory of representation Using the pragmatist theory of perception for the basis of his epistemological explanation of our confrontation with external Reality and how it is represented Neshier shows that in our perceptual operations we quasi prove the truth of our perceptual judgments The Peirce Seminar Papers Michael Shapiro, 2002-12 Philosophers and linguists have come together for this volume to provide a glimpse of current thinking about language in a semiotic mode and of the analyses that result from applying the theory of signs of the American philosopher scientist Charles Sanders Peirce 1839-1914 to subjects that Peirce himself did not explore in any depth Contributors include Victor Friedman Laura Janda Tony Jappy Din s Johansen Dan Neshier Jo o Queiroz Jo lle R thor Michael Shapiro and Nils Thelin

Perceptual Knowledge Georges Dicker, 2012-12-06 This book grew out of the lectures that I prepared for my students in epistemology at SUNY College at Brockport beginning in 1974 The conception of the problem of perception and the interpretation of the sense datum theory and its supporting arguments that are developed in Chapters One through Four originated in these lectures The rest of the manuscript was first written during the 1975-1976 academic year while I held an NEH Fellowship in Residence for College Teachers at Brown University and during the ensuing summer under a SUNY Faculty Research Fellowship I wish to express my sincere gratitude to the National Endowment for the Humanities and to the Research Foundation of the State University of New York for their support of my research I am grateful to many former students colleagues and friends for their stimulating constructive comments and criticisms Among the former students whose reactions and objections were most helpful are Richard Motroni Donald Callen Hilary Porter and Glenn Shaikun Among my colleagues at Brockport I wish to thank Kevin Donaghy and Jack Glickman for their comments and encouragement I am indebted to Eli Hirsch for reading and commenting most helpfully on the entire manuscript to Peter M Brown for a useful correspondence concerning key arguments in Chapters Five and Seven to Keith Lehrer for a criticism of one of my arguments that led me to make some important revisions and to Roderick M The Human Mind James Sully, 1892

The World View of Contemporary Physics Richard F. Kitchener, 1988-07-08 Although early twentieth century physics produced two revolutionary new conceptions of the nature of the physical universe relativity theory and quantum theory more recent developments in the physical sciences have made it imperative for physicists to re-examine the older world view of physics and the assumptions upon which it was based However theorizing about the nature and status of reality has been the province of philosophers for centuries Philosophers trained in metaphysics provided a different perspective for viewing and a unique method for solving some of these problems Ideally therefore both philosophers and physicists should work together in dialogue fashion on this important issue These two groups come together for the first time in this book to examine the questions What is the world view of contemporary physics Does it need a new metaphysics If so what kind of metaphysics does it need Internationally known scholars including Ilya Prigogine and Fritjof Capra who are recognized as experts in this interdisciplinary field address such related topics as the nature of the mind our place in society and the nature of ethics

Works of Henry H. Price: Perception Henry Habberley Price, 1996 Dictionary of Modern American Philosophers John R. Shook, 2005-01-01 The Dictionary of Modern American Philosophers includes both academic and non academic philosophers and a large number of female and minority thinkers whose work has been neglected It includes those intellectuals involved in the development of psychology pedagogy sociology anthropology education theology political science and several other fields before these disciplines came to be considered distinct from philosophy in the late nineteenth century Each entry contains a short biography of the writer an exposition and analysis of his or her doctrines and ideas a bibliography of writings and suggestions for further reading While all the major post Civil War philosophers are present the most valuable feature of this dictionary is its coverage of a huge range of less well known writers including hundreds of presently obscure thinkers In many cases the Dictionary of Modern American Philosophers offers the first scholarly treatment of the life and work of certain writers This book will be an indispensable reference work for scholars working on almost any aspect of modern American thought Philosophies of Nature: The Human Dimension Robert S. Cohen, A.I. Tauber, 2013-04-17

Philosophical understandings of Nature and Human Nature Classical Greek and modern West Christian Buddhist Taoist by 14 authors including Robert Neville Stanley Rosen David Eckel Livia Kohn Tienyu Cao Abner Shimoney Alfred Tauber Krzysztof Michalski Lawrence Cahoon Stephen Scully Alan Olson and Alfred Ferrarin Dedicated to the phenomenological ecology of Erazim Kohák with 10 of his essays and a full bibliography Overall theme on the question of the moral sense of nature Perception Henry Habberley Price, 1932 Truth and the End of Inquiry Cheryl J. Misak, 2004 Cheryl Misak presents a pragmatic account of truth C S Peirce the founder of pragmatism argued that truth is what we would agree upon were inquiry to be pursued as far as it could fruitfully go In the course of the past century pragmatism has remained one of the most significant movements in American philosophy Misak's book is one of the landmark publications in recent pragmatist thought She pays attention both to Peirce's texts and to the requirements for a suitable account of truth This new paperback edition includes a brand new additional chapter along with a new preface and revises The Roles of Representation in Visual Perception Robert French, Berit Brogaard, 2024-05-30 This volume contains new papers addressing a number of new and traditional issues pertaining to the roles of representations in visual perception Among these issues is the one concerning the nature of the perceptual state itself e.g. on the issue of whether the perceptual state like its distal objects is structured for instance by possessing a spatial character Other issues include those of whether at least aspects of the distal object are presented immediately to us visually whether representation plays any interesting role in disjunctivist and naive realist accounts of visual experience and the relationship among visual perception attention and representation The anthology includes a wide variety of positions on the subject of the roles of representations in visual perception which would help to close the literature gap and will be of interest to scholars from all schools and trends of philosophy of mind

Perceptual Assurance and the Reality of the World Errol E. Harris, Derek Gregory, 1974 Theory of Legislation Elijah Jordan, 1927 The Turning Points of the New Phenomenological Era Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-12-06 orbit and far beyond it Indeed the immense painstaking indefatigable and ever improving effort of Husserl to find ever deeper and more reliable foundations for the philosophical enterprise as well as his constant critical rethinking and perfecting of the approach and so called method in order to perform this task and thus cover in this source excavation an ever more far reaching groundwork stands out and maintains itself as an inexhaustible reservoir for philosophical reflection in which all the above mentioned work has either its core or its source In fact in his undertaking to re-think the entire philosophical enterprise as such and to recreate philosophy upon what he sought to be at least a satisfactorily legitimated basis Husserl through his already systematised and authorized work and his courses and later on in his spontaneous reflection which did not find its way into a definitive corpus but was nevertheless sufficiently coherent with his previously established body of thought to be considered a continuation of it uncovers perspectives upon the universe of man and projects their new philosophical thematisation that brings together all the attempts by philosophers e.g. Merleau-Ponty who drew upon this material and found there his own inspiration who succeeded him with foundational intentions it also gives a core of philosophical ideas and insights for the younger generation of philosophers today Berkeley's Idealism Georges Dicker, 2011-06-15 Using the tools of contemporary analytic philosophy Georges Dicker here examines both the destructive and the constructive sides of Berkeley's thought against the background of the mainstream views that he rejected Our Knowledge of God K.J. Clark, 1992-08-31 Natural theology is the project of articulating defending and countering arguments for the existence and nature of God without the aid of special revelation Philosophical theology which employs the rational methods of natural theology is not restricted to premises that are discernible through observation and reason it may rightly employ premises that are knowable through special revelation While the project of natural theology may be construed as an attempt to demonstrate God's existence one cannot ignore the importance of using reason or experience to understand determine or assess attributes One will want to know at the conclusion of a proof in natural God's theology if one has proved the existence of God and not merely the primordial mobilum source of moral obligation or a committee of finite designers while God may be the prime mover and designer of the cosmos none of these attributes alone is sufficient for making a claim to divinity It is therefore difficult to distinguish sharply the project of natural theology from philosophical theology The project of classical natural theology has been the attempt to prove God's existence and nature with arguments that employ premises that all rational creatures are obliged to accept

Hannah Arendt and the Meaning of Politics Craig J. Calhoun, John McGowan, 1997 Is politics really nothing more than power relations competing interests and claims for recognition conflicting assertions of simple truths No thinker has argued more passionately against this narrow view than Hannah Arendt and no one has more to say to those who bring questions of meaning identity value and transcendence to our impoverished public life This volume brings leading figures in philosophy political theory intellectual history and literary theory into a dialogue about Arendt's work and its significance for today's fractious identity politics public ethics and civic life For each essay on the fate of politics in a postmodern post Marxist era on the connection of nonfoundationalist ethics and epistemology to democracy on the conditions conducive to a vital public sphere on the recalcitrant problems of violence and evil the volume includes extended responses and a concluding essay by Martin Jay responding to all the others Ranging from feminism to aesthetics to the discourse of democracy the essays explore how an encounter with Arendt reconfigures disrupts and revitalizes what passes for public debate in our day Together they forcefully demonstrate the power of Arendt's work as a splendid provocation and a living resource
