Purohit, 2013 Queueing theory is an essential concept to review in light of tactical wireless communications and networks Wireless communication systems in particular frequency spectrum are expensive and it is imperative that we make optimal use of frequency spectrum Therefore the performance analysis is an important factor in the designing phase of the networks This book addresses the performance evaluation and enhancement of wireless networks examining the channel assignment problem of cellular networks

Performance Evaluation of Communication Networks for Parallel and Distributed Systems, 2006      Resource Management and Performance Analysis of Wireless Communication Networks Shunfu Jin, Wuyi Yue, 2021-03-15 With the diversification of Internet services and the increase in mobile users efficient management of network resources has become an extremely important issue in the field of wireless communication networks WCNs Adaptive resource management is an effective tool for improving the economic efficiency of WCN systems as well as network design and construction especially in view of the surge in mobile device demands This book presents modelling methods based on queueing theory and Markov processes for a wide variety of WCN systems as well as precise and approximate analytical solution methods for the numerical evaluation of the system performance This is the first book to provide an overview of the numerical analyses that can be gleaned by applying queueing theory traffic theory and other analytical methods to various WCN systems It also discusses the recent advances in the resource management of WCNs such as broadband wireless access networks cognitive radio networks and green cloud computing It assumes a basic understanding of computer networks and queueing theory and familiarity with stochastic processes is also recommended The analysis methods presented in this book are useful for first year graduate or senior computer science and communication engineering students Providing information on network design and management performance evaluation queueing theory game theory intelligent optimization and operations research for researchers and engineers the book is also a valuable reference resource for students analysts managers and anyone in the industry interested in WCN system modelling performance analysis and numerical evaluation

NETworks MANETs has attracted great research interest in recent years A Mobile Ad Hoc Network is a self organizing multi hop wireless network where all hosts often called nodes participate in the routing and data forwarding process The dependence on nodes to relay data packets for others makes mobile ad hoc networks extremely susceptible to various malicious and selfish behaviors This point is largely overlooked during the early stage of MANET research Many works simply assume nodes are inherently cooperative and benign However experiences from the wired world manifest that the reverse is usually true and many works [3, 10, 9, 8, 12, 19] have pointed out that the impact of malicious and selfish users must be carefully investigated The goal of this research is to address the cooperation problem and related security issues in wireless ad hoc networks As a rule of thumb it is more desirable to include security mechanisms in the design phase rather than continually patching the system for security breaches As pointed out in [2, 1] there can be both selfish and malicious nodes in a mobile ad hoc network Selfish nodes are most concerned about their energy consumption and intentionally drop packets to save power The purpose of malicious nodes on the other hand is to attack the network using various intrusive techniques In general nodes in an ad hoc network can exhibit Byzantine behaviors

Communication Networks And Computer Systems: A Tribute To Professor Erol Gelenbe Javier A Barria, 2006-06-19 Communication networks and computer systems research is entering a new phase in which many of the established models and techniques of the last twenty years are being challenged The research community is continuing to free itself from past intellectual constraints so that it may fully exploit the convergence of computing and communications Evaluating the performance of emerging communications and computer systems constitutes a huge challenge Thus current research provides a set of heterogeneous tools and techniques embracing the uncertainties of time and space varying environments when the requests for diverse services are made in real time and with very different quality of service expectations These novel techniques will lead to fast and economic service deployment and effective dynamic resource management and hence to new business strategies and infrastructures that will facilitate the emergence of future services and applications This volume contains contributions and presentations made by leading international researchers at a workshop which was held in April 2004 to honour Professor
