Performing World Of The Actor:

Chinese Theatre and the Actor in Performance Jo Riley, 1997-06-13 This work gives an inside view of Chinese theatre and the actor in performance for the first time It challenges western theatre artists such as Brecht Grotowski Barba and Schechner who have extracted from Chinese theatre elements which might enrich their own theatres It is based on personal observations of and dialogue with Chinese actors experiences which were impossible before 1980 Riley s study is well illustrated with photographs and diagrams and is accessible to anyone interested in theatre even those with no knowledge of Chinese or Chinese theatre

Performance and Identity in the Classical World Anne Duncan, 2006-01-30 Performance and Identity in the Classical World traces attitudes towards actors in Greek and Roman culture as a means of understanding ancient conceptions of and anxieties about the self Actors were often viewed as frauds and impostors capable of deliberately fabricating their identities Conversely they were sometimes viewed as possessed by the characters that they played or as merely playing themselves onstage Numerous sources reveal an uneasy fascination with actors and acting from the writings of elite intellectuals philosophers orators biographers historians to the abundant theatrical anecdotes that can be read as a body of popular performance theory This text examines these sources along with dramatic texts and addresses the issue of impersonation from the late fifth century BCE to the early Roman Empire

Immersive Theater and Activism Nandita Dinesh, 2018-11-30 Immersive theater calls upon audience members to become participants actors and others It traditionally offers binary roles that of oppressor or that of victim and thereby stands the risk of simplifying complex social situations Challenging such binaries this book articulates theatrical grey zones when addressing juvenile detention wartime interventions and immigration processes It presents scripts and strategies for directors and playwrights who want to create theatrical environments that are immersive and pedagogical aesthetically evocative and politically provocative simple and complex

Acting and Performance in Moving Image Culture Jörg Sternagel, Deborah Levitt, Dieter Mersch, 2014-03-15 This volume offers transdisciplinary perspectives on the study of acting and performance in moving image forms It assembles 26 international scholars from dance theatre film media and cultural studies art history and philosophy to investigate the art of acting and the presence of the human body in analog and digital film animation and video art The volume includes classical case studies and essays devoted to acting history and acting and genres but its particular emphasis is on introducing a wide range of groundbreaking theoretical approaches from continental and analytic philosophy to new media theory and cognitivist research all of which interrogate the fundamental conceptions of act and actor that underwrite both popular and academic notions of performance in moving image culture

World Political Theatre and Performance , 2020-06-22 World Political Theatre and Performance Theories Histories Practices is the second collection of essays to emerge from the Political Performances Working Group at the International Federation for Theatre Research Bringing together scholars and practitioners from multiple locations the book analyses a range of examples historical and contemporary of counter hegemonic theatre and performance Part 1 offers a diachronic view of the relationship between activism and performance Part 2 focuses on the changing nature of what constitutes political theatre today Case studies from Finland to India and from Chile to China are framed by section introductions that underline both commonalities and tensions while the general introduction reflects on what a radical practice can look like in the face of global neoliberalism Contributors Julia Boll Paola Botham Marco Galea Aneta G owacka Puja Ghosh Camila Gonz lez Ortiz B r nice Hamidi Kim Fatine Bahar Karl da Madli Pesti Jos Ram n Prado P rez Trish Reid Mikko Olavi Sepp l Andy Smith Evi Stamatiou Wei Zheyu No and Kyogen in the Contemporary World James R. Brandon,1997-05-01 How do classical highly codified theatre arts retain the interest of today s audiences and how do they grow and respond to their changing circumstances The eight essays presented here examine the contemporary relevance and significance of the classic No and Kyogen theatre to Japan and the West They explore the theatrical experience from many perspectives those of theatre music dance art literature linguistics philosophy religion history and sociology Perceiving and Acting in the Real World: From Neural Activity to Behavior Simona Monaco,Gavin Buckingham,Irene Sperandio,J.Douglas Crawford,2016-12-07 One remarkable ability of the human brain is to process large amounts of information about our surroundings to allow us to interact effectively with them In everyday life the most common way to interact with objects is by reaching grasping lifting and manipulating them Although these may sound like simple tasks the perceptual properties of the target object such as its location size shape and orientation all need to be processed in order to set the movement parameters that allow an accurate reach to grasp to lift movement Several brain areas work in concert to process this outstanding amount of visual information and drive the execution of a motor plan in just a few hundred milliseconds How are these processes orchestrated In developing this type of comprehensive knowledge about the interactions between objects perception and goal directed actions we have a window into the mechanisms underlying the functioning of the visuo motor system With this research topic we aim to further understand the neural mechanisms that mediate our interactions with the world Therefore we particularly encourage submission of papers that attempt to relate such findings to real world situations by investigating behavioural and neural correlates of information processing related to eye hand coordination and visually guided actions including reaching grasping and lifting movements This topic welcomes submissions of original research using any relevant techniques and methods from behavioural kinematics kinetics to neuroimaging and transcranial magnetic stimulation TMS as well as neuropsychological studies Performing Autobiography Jenn Stephenson,2013-01-01 Investigates the use of plays as a form of autobiography looking at how the line between real life and fiction can become blurred Theatre and the World Rustom Bharucha,2003-09-02 In this passionate and controversial work director and critic Rustom Bharucha presents the first major critique of intercultural theatre from a Third World perspective Bharucha questions the assumptions underlying the theatrical visions of some of the twentieth century s most prominent theatre practitioners and theorists including Antonin Artaud Jerzsy Grotowski and Peter

Brook He contends that Indian theatre has been grossly mythologised and taken out of context by Western directors and critics And he presents a detailed dramaturgical analysis of what he describes as an intracultural theatre project providing an alternative vision of the possibilities of true cultural pluralism Theatre and the World bravely challenges much of today's multicultural theatre movement It will be vital reading for anyone interested in the creation or discussion of a truly non Eurocentric world theatre

A Beginner's Guide to Directing Theatre Robert Marsden, 2025-05-29 An accessible guide to the theatre directing process of text based theatre from the choice of the play through to an encounter with an audience Moving from how to choose a play to the opening night A Beginner's Guide to Directing Theatre takes the reader via a step by step approach through various techniques practitioners methodologies and exercises that could be applied to text based theatre Through doing so the reader comes to understand The differences between directing the approach and the director the role how that crosses over and ways to navigate this A range of practices methodologies and techniques for the differing and diverse styles genres playwrights and movements i e the what of directing How to create inclusive safe and diverse practices of casting and rehearsal methods By not providing one single methodology but introducing readers to various methods the author garners an understanding of how different plays genres styles and movements require their own approaches to reach opening night Whilst not concentrating on devised or non text based theatre the book makes explicit how devising experiential and improvisatory techniques can be embraced to inform the types of methodologies a director may embrace whilst approaching text based work From here readers will be able to know which practitioners and directing methodologies they may wish to employ and will understand where to head next
