T&T Clark Companion to the Theology of Kierkegaard, 2019-09-19 This companion explores Søren Kierkegaard's theological importance offering a comprehensive reading of his work through a distinctly theological lens including interpretative concerns his approach to specific doctrines and theological trajectories for thinking beyond his work Beginning with essays on key interpretative factors involved in approaching Kierkegaard's complex corpus there are also historical accounts of his theological development followed by for the first time in a single volume focused expositions of Kierkegaard's approach to particular doctrinal themes from those oft discussed in his work e.g. Christology to those more understated e.g. Pneumatology The book concludes with theological trajectories for Kierkegaard's thought in the twenty first century This volume helps not only to situate Kierkegaard's theology more firmly on the map but to situate Kierkegaard more firmly on the theological map as one who has much to offer both the form and content of the theological task The Future of U.S. Foreign Policy in the Post-Cold War Era United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs, 1992 American Indian Water Rights and the Limits of Law Lloyd Burton, 1991 Burton dissects the irreconcilable conflict of interest within the Interior Department between the Bureau of Reclamation and the Bureau of Indian Affairs He also examines the methods of managing disputes in contemporary cases and offers original policy recommendations that include establishing an Indian Water Rights Commission to help with the paradoxical task now facing the federal government restoring to tribes the water resources it earlier helped give away Peril and Promise Clinton Valley, Elissa Kido, Marilyn Beach, Douglas Herrmann, 2012-08-01 Critical Approaches to Security in Central Asia Edward Lemon, 2020-05-21 Central Asia remains on the periphery both spatially and in people's imaginations When the region does attract international attention it is often related to security issues including terrorism ethnic conflict and drug trafficking This book brings together leading specialists from a range of disciplines including geography anthropology sociology and political science to discuss how citizens and governments within Central Asia think about and practise security The authors explore how governments use fears of instability to bolster their rule and how securitized populations cope with and resist being labelled threats through strategies that are rarely associated with security including marriage and changing their appearance This collection examines a wide range of security issues including Islamic extremism small arms interethnic relations and border regions While coverage of the region often departs from preconceived notions of the region as dangerous obscure and volatile the chapters in this book all place emphasis on the way local people understand security and harmony in their daily lives This book will be of interest to students and researchers of Central Asian Studies as well as Security Studies and Political Science The chapters were originally published in the journal Central Asian Survey Forum for Applied Research and Public Policy, 1993 Proceedings of the ... Bray,2019-12-03 A thorough critique of the redemptive narratives of neoliberalism in US politics and society This is a book about what it would mean to be a bit moody in the midst of being theological and political Its framing assumption is that neoliberal economics relies on narratives in which not being in the right mood means a cursed existence So begins Grave Attending A Political Theology for the Unredeemed which mounts a challenge to neoliberal narratives of redemption Mapping the contemporary state of political theology Karen Bray brings it to bear upon secularism Marxist thought affect theory queer temporality and other critical modes as a way to refuse separating one's personal mood from the political or philosophical Introducing the concept of bipolar time she offers a critique of neoliberal temporality by countering capitalist priorities of efficiency through the experiences of mania and depression And it is here Bray makes her crucial critical turn one that values the power of those who are unredeemed in the eyes of liberal democracy those too slow too mad too depressed to be of productive worth suggesting forms of utopia in the poetics of crip theory and ordinary habit Through performances of what she calls grave attending being brought down by the gravity of what is and listening to the ghosts of what might have been Bray asks readers to choose collective care over individual overcoming Grave Attending brings critical questions of embodiment history and power to the fields of political theology radical theology secular theology and the continental philosophy of religion Scholars interested in addressing the lack of intersectional engagement within these fields will find this work invaluable As the forces of neoliberalism demand we be productive efficient happy and flexible in order to be deemed worthy subjects Grave Attending offers another model for living politically emotionally and theologically Instead of submitting to such a market driven concept of salvation this book insists that we remain mad moody and unredeemed Drawing on theories of affect temporality disability queerness work and race Bray persuades us that embodying more just forms of sociality comes not in spite of irredeemable moods but through them In Grave Attending Bray forges a bold and yet surprisingly gentle theological response to the driving economies of salvation that flow through the bloodstream of US politics and American Christianity Immersed in multiple scholarly discourses Bray manages to expose the significance of theology amongst these as her theological vision insists on countering the pathologizing forces that either numb us or compel us to rise above suffering She catches readers off guard by crafting a lyrical work of theology that claims moods and modes of reflection that are often deemed unsuitable and unworthy Bray's theology claims the damned and damns the redemptive Shelly Rambo Boston University

Philosophy of Education Mason Ross, AI, 2025-02-26 Philosophy of Education explores how philosophical ideas have shaped education from teaching methodologies to curriculum design Understanding these philosophical roots allows educators to assess current practices and adapt to evolving needs The book traces the historical development of educational philosophies from ancient Greece to contemporary debates on social justice demonstrating how major social and political movements have influenced education For example the book will touch on the nature versus nurture debate and proper epistemological methods The book argues that every educational practice is rooted in a philosophical framework It examines how different philosophical ideas have shaped teaching methods curriculum design and educational policies It also analyzes philosophical perspectives on educational equality and the purpose of education in a democratic society The book integrates theoretical analysis with practical application and uses historical examples and case studies to illustrate the impact of philosophical texts while drawing on empirical research Fascism in America Gavriel

D. Rosenfeld, Janet Ward, 2023-09-14 Has fascism arrived in America In this pioneering book Gavriel D Rosenfeld and Janet Ward have gathered experts to survey the history of fascism in the United States Although the US established a staunch anti fascist reputation by defeating the Axis powers in World War II the unsettling truth is that fascist ideas have long been present within American society Since the election of Donald Trump as President in 2016 scholars have debated whether Trumpism should be seen as an outgrowth of American conservatism or of a darker and potentially fascist tradition Fascism in America contributes to this debate by examining the activities of interwar right wing groups like the Silver Shirts the KKK and the America First movement as well as the post war rise of Black antifascism and white vigilantism the representation of American Nazis in popular culture and policy options for combating right wing extremism Democracy and the Claims of Nature Ben A. Minteer, Bob Pepperman Taylor, 2002 In Democracy and the Claims of Nature the leading thinkers in the fields of environmental political and social theory come together to discuss the tensions and sympathies of democratic ideals and environmental values The prominent contributors reflect upon where we stand in our understanding of the relationship between democracy and the claims of nature Democracy and the Claims of Nature bridges the gap between the often competing ideals of the two fields leading to a greater understanding of each for the other Fables and Futures George

Estreich, 2025-05-27 How new biomedical technologies from prenatal testing to gene editing techniques require us to imagine who counts as human and what it means to belong From next generation prenatal tests to virtual children to the genome editing tool CRISPR Cas9 new biotechnologies grant us unprecedented power to predict and shape future people That power implies a question about belonging which people which variations will we welcome How will we square new biotech advances with the real but fragile gains for people with disabilities especially when their voices are all but absent from the conversation This book explores that conversation the troubled territory where biotechnology and disability meet In it George Estreich an award winning poet and memoirist and the father of a young woman with Down syndrome delves into popular representations of cutting edge biotech websites advertising next generation prenatal tests feature articles on three parent IVF a scientist s memoir of constructing a semisynthetic cell and more As Estreich shows each new application of biotechnology is accompanied by a persuasive story one that minimizes downsides and promises enormous benefits In this story people with disabilities are both invisible and essential a key promise of new technologies is that disability will be repaired or prevented In chapters that blend personal narrative and scholarship Estreich restores disability to our narratives of technology He also considers broader themes the place of people with disabilities in a world built for the able the echoes of eugenic history in the genomic present and the equation of intellect and human value Examining the stories we tell ourselves the fables already creating our futures Estreich argues that given biotech that can select and shape who we are we need to imagine as broadly as possible what it means to belong Gospelbound Collin Hansen, Sarah Eekhoff Zylstra, 2021-04-06 A profound exploration of how to hold on to hope when our unchanging faith collides with a changing culture from two respected Christian storytellers and thought leaders Offers neither spin control nor image maintenance for the evangelical tribe but genuine hope Russell Moore president of ERLC As the pressures of health warnings economic turmoil and partisan politics continue to rise the influence of gospel focused Christians seems to be waning In the public square and popular opinion we are losing our voice right when it's needed most for Christ's glory and the common good But there's another story unfolding too if you know where to look In Gospelbound Collin Hansen and Sarah Eekhoff Zylstra counter these growing fears with a robust message of resolute hope for anyone hungry for good news Join them in exploring profound stories of Christians who are quietly changing the world in the name of Jesus from the wild world of digital media to the stories of ancient saints and unsung contemporary activists on the frontiers of justice and mercy Discover how in these dark times the light of Jesus shines even brighter You haven't heard the whole story And that's good news The Human Edge Greg Orme, 2019-11-15 The world is spinning so fast it's difficult to keep up Two hundred and fifty years ago the Industrial Revolution replaced our arms and legs at work The fourth Industrial Revolution is now replacing our brains This technological shift is engulfing organisations and people It's challenging the very essence of what it means to be human Daily news headlines pose existential questions that used to belong in the pages of science fiction Will a machine take my job Are we becoming cyborgs What happens when super computers become self aware If we can't compete with artificial intelligence what's left Innovation guru Greg Orme provides a helpful funny and supportive shove in the right direction He explores the skills you need to survive and thrive in a world of artificial intelligence He urges you to stop competing and instead do things machines can't To become a more human human This is a practical toolkit to master three intrinsically human super powers 1 To ignite your innate CURIOSITY in a world of accelerating change 2 To rediscover your CREATIVITY to produce an avalanche of game changing ideas 3 To develop CONNECTIVITY to kindle the passion persistence and insights to successfully engage fellow humans to turn human creativity into business innovation These career enhancing capabilities have been identified in Orme's work with business managers and organisations across the globe They draw upon the latest psychological and neuroscience research the unique philosophies of successful entrepreneurs the practises of the world's most innovative companies as well as the habits of great artists designers and scientists The full text downloaded to your computer With eBooks you can search for key concepts words and phrases make highlights and notes as you study share your notes with friends eBooks are downloaded to your computer and accessible either offline through the Bookshelf available as a free download available online and also via the iPad and Android apps Upon purchase you'll gain instant access
