Persian Gulf Images Of A Confl:

Persian gulf ,1991 Conflicting Images Stuart Allan,Tom Allbeson,2024-05-31 In contrast with historical examinations centring the evolving role of the war correspondent Conflicting Images focuses on the contribution of photographers and photojournalists providing an evaluative appraisal of war photography in the news and its development from the nineteenth century to the twenty first century Stuart Allan and Tom Allbeson critically explore diverse genres of war photography across a broad historical sweep encompassing events from the Crimean War 1853-56 and the Civil War in the United States 1861-65 up to and including conflicts unfolding in Syria and Ukraine This book reflects on the relevance of different types of warfare to visual reporting from colonial conquest via trench warfare and aerial bombardment to the ideological dimensions of the Cold War and embedding and winning hearts and minds during the War on Terror and its aftermath In pinpointing illustrative examples the authors examine changing dynamics of production dissemination and public engagement Readers will come to understand how current efforts to rethink the future of war photography in a digital age can benefit from a close and careful consideration of war photography's origins early development and gradual uneven transformation over the years Conflicting Images aims to invigorate ongoing enquires and inspire new alternative trajectories for future research and practice This book is recommended reading for researchers and advanced students of visual journalism and conflict reporting Drones and the Annihilation-Image in Contemporary Warfare Gabriel

F.Caetano,2024-10-26 This book analyses the entanglement between Washington and Hollywood to shed light on the violence inherent in the image as a semiotic material agent in contemporary warfare In the 21st century the weaponized military drone an image centered machine has spearheaded the geopolitical curatorship of the USA in the context of the war on terror Drone violence shares the same characteristics as cinema image and movement However a drone's image is not purely a reflection of the nature of war it is more than representational it is performative Building upon the concept of annihilation image this book argues that the image wields a destructive agency as it transitions from reflection to diffraction Rather than mirroring reality the annihilation image creates a brutal pattern of difference in the world It is a destructive ontology in which seeing and annihilating are in a state of superposition Therefore everything that is framed is potentially dead That is to say by framing bodies and objects in the terrain a state of superpositional violence is created in which one is alive but virtually dead

Monumental Conflicts Derek R. Mallett,2017-11-13 Monumental Conflicts examines 20th century wars from the First World War to the First Gulf War each chapter analyzing how public memory has evolved over time The chapters raise fascinating questions about war and memory Why are wars remembered as they are What factors drive changes in public perception What implications arise from remembering and commemorating a war or particular aspects of a war What does public memory of a war say about us as a society The volume is divided into three sections focusing on political evolution negotiated memories of war and national pride and covers international wars from Afghanistan to Vietnam and German deserter monuments to Vietnamese war tourism Image and Reality of the Israel-Palestine Conflict Norman G. Finkelstein, 2003-05-17 A new edition by the author of the international bestseller The Holocaust Industry Image of the Other and the Self in the American and British press during the Gulf Crisis and War Ingrid

Deweweire, 2024-10-15 The invasion of Kuwait by Iraqi troops on 2 August 1990 triggered a large scale military operation conducted by Washington as well as a huge media campaign This study seeks to compare the American press with the British press during the Gulf Crisis and War The main objective is to examine the journalistic discourse of opinion as developed by newspapers belonging to the so called quality press and deconstruct the ways in which this discourse was developed This raises questions about the language adopted by editorialists and journalists and in particular about the way in which the Other enemy and allies and the Self the USA and the UK were described by the American daily papers the New York Times and the Washington Post and the British daily papers the Times and the Guardian and the Sunday newspapers the Sunday Times and the Observer during the crisis and the war The study is based on a comparative analysis of editorials opinion articles and letters to the editor published in the selected newspapers in order to highlight subjects and themes in connection with the image of the Other and the Self and show the differences and similarities in the processing of information in both the American and British press The Political Communication Reader Ralph Negrine, James Stanyer, 2023-04-28 The
