Persian Dawns Egyptian Nights:

Persian Dawns, Egyptian Nights, Etc. (Two Storycycles.). James Leslie Mitchell, 1932      Persian Dawns, Egyptian Nights James Leslie Mitchell, 1932      Persian Dawns, Egyptian Nights James Leslie Mitchell, 1998 This collection of short stories by one of Scotland's best loved authors was first published in the 1930s. Now back in print its sense of the fantastic and exotic still holds true.      A Blasphemer & Reformer William K. Malcolm, 1984      Lewis Grassie Gibbon William K. Malcolm, 2020 Anita Brookner was known for writing boring books about lonely single women. Misreading Anita Brookner unlocks the mysteries of the famously depressed Brookner heroine by creating entirely new ways to read six Brookner novels. Drawing on Brookner's legacy as a renowned historian of French Romantic art and on diverse intertextual sources from Charles Baudelaire to Henry James, Renée Vivien and Freud, this book argues that Brookner's solitary twentieth-century women can also be seen as variations of queer nineteenth-century male artist archetypes. Conjuring a cast of Romantic personae including the flâneur, the dandy, the aesthete, the military man, the queer, the analyst and the degenerate, and the storyteller, it illuminates clusters of nineteenth-century behaviours which help decode the lives of Brookner's twentieth-century women. This exploration of Brookner's performative Romanticism exposes new depths within her outsider introverts who are revealed as a subversive blend of the historical, the contemporary, the masculine and the feminine.      Scottish Literature and Postcolonial Literature Michael Gardiner, 2011-06-13 The first full-length study of Scottish literature using a post-devolutionary understanding of postcolonial studies. Using a comparative model and spanning over two hundred years of literary history from the 18th Century to the contemporary, this collection of 19 new essays by some of the leading figures in the field presents a range of perspectives on Scottish and postcolonial writing. The essays explore Scotland's position on both sides of the colonial divide and also its role as instigator of a devolutionary process with potential consequences for British Imperialism.      Sunset Song - Voted 'The Best Scottish Book of All Time' Lewis Grassie Gibbon, 2013-06-15 Faced with the choice between her harsh farming life and the seductive but distant world of books and learning, the spirited Chris Guthrie decides to remain in her rural community. But as the devastation of the First World War leaves her life and community in tatters, she must draw strength from what she loves and endure like the land she loves so intensely. Brutal and beautiful, passionate and powerful, Sunset Song is a moving portrait of a declining way of life and an inspirational celebration of the human spirit. And in Chris Guthrie, Grassie Gibbon has given us one of literature's most unforgettable heroines.

Intersections of Gender, Class, and Race in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond Barbara Leonardi, 2018-12-29 This book explores the intersections of gender with class and race in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and their fluid transformation from the Romantic to the Victorian period and beyond, exposing how these cultural constructions are deeply entangled with the family metaphor. For example, by examining the re-signification of the angel in the house and the deviant woman in the context of unstable or contingent masculinities and across discourses of class and nation the volume contributes to a more nuanced understanding of British cultural constructions in the long nineteenth century The central idea is to unearth the historical roots of the family metaphor in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and to uncover the interests served by its specific discursive formation The book explores both male and female stereotypes enabling a more perceptive comparison enriched with a nuanced reflection on the construction and social function of class
