Persian Pilgrimages Journeys Across Iran:

Persian Pilgrimages Afshin Molavi, 2002 Persian Pilgrimages Afshin Molavi, 2002 A portrait of Iran seeks to measure the true feelings of its citizens despite government and media profiles chronicling the author's year long journey during which he interviewed people from all walks of life Narrative and Violence Mammad Aidani, 2016-04-22 Narrative and Violence explores philosophical and anthropological ideas surrounding the nature of social suffering its relationship to social historical and political contexts and the manner in which diasporic communities narrate their suffering Against the setting of the adverse relationship between Iran and the West it examines the ways in which suffering shapes identity and belonging in the Diaspora for Iranians living in the West Based on rich empirical information drawn from the UK and Australia this book investigates ways in which the lives of Iranians living in the Diaspora are affected by the understanding of Iran in terms of abjection as that which is beyond or outside of The West Exploring the emotions and feelings of pain and suffering as they are rooted in and shape various categories of experience propounds a view of suffering which is thoroughly grounded in culture history and politics Presenting a new theoretical and cultural understanding of experiences of suffering violence war and displacement this book contributes to critical debates within sociology geography anthropology history and cultural and critical theory Farewell Shiraz Cyrus Kadivar, 2017-06-16 A poignant memoir of pre 1979 Iran and the human drama behind the fall of the last shah In October 1999 during a trip to Cairo Cyrus Kadivar an exiled Iranian living in London visited the tomb of the last shah and opened a Pandora's box Haunted by nostalgia for a bygone era he recalled a protected and idyllic childhood in the fabled city of Shiraz and his coming of age during the 1979 Iranian revolution Back in London he reflected on what had happened to him and his family after their uprooting and decided to conduct his own investigation into why he lost his country He spent the next ten years seeking out witnesses who would shed light on the last days of Pahlavi rule Among those he met were a former empress ex courtiers disaffected revolutionaries and the bereaved relatives of those who perished in the cataclysm In Farewell Shiraz Kadivar tells the story of his family and childhood against the tumultuous backdrop of twentieth century Iran from the 1905 1907 Constitutional Revolution to the fall of Mohammad Reza Shah Pahlavi before presenting accounts of his meetings with key witnesses to the Shah's fall and the rise of Khomeini Each of the people interviewed provides a richly detailed picture of the momentous events that took place and the human drama behind them Combining exquisite vignettes with rare testimonials and first hand interviews Farewell Shiraz draws us into a sweeping yet often intimate account of a vanished world and offers a compelling investigation into a political earthquake whose reverberations still live with us today Domesticity and Consumer Culture in Iran Pamela Karimi, 2013-05-29 Examining Iran's recent history through the double lens of domesticity and consumer culture Domesticity and Consumer Culture in Iran demonstrates that a significant component of the modernization process in Iran advanced beyond political and public spheres On the cusp of Iran's entry into modernity the rules and tenets that had traditionally defined the Iranian home began to vanish and the influx of new household goods gradually led to the substantial physical expansion of the domestic milieu. Subsequently, architects, designers, and commercial advertisers shifted their attention from commercial and public architecture to the new home and its contents. Domesticity and consumer culture also became topics of interest among politicians, Shiite religious scholars, and the Left, who communicated their respective views via the popular media and numerous other means. In the interim, ordinary Iranian families, who were capable of selectively appropriating aspects of their immediate surroundings, demonstrated their resistance toward the officially sanctioned transformations. Through analyzing a series of case studies that elucidate such phenomena and appraising a wide range of objects and archival documents from furnishings, appliances, architectural blueprints, and maps to photographs, films, TV series, novels, artworks, scrapbooks, work logs, personal letters, and reports, this book highlights the significance of private life in social, economic, and political contexts of modern Iran. Tackling the subject of home from a variety of perspectives, Domesticity and Consumer Culture in Iran thus shows the interplay between local aspirations, foreign influences, gender roles, consumer culture, and women's education as they intersect with taste, fashion, domestic architecture, and interior design. Which Path to Persia? Kenneth M.

Pollack, Daniel L. Byman, Martin S. Indyk, 2009-10-01. Crafting a new policy toward Iran is a complicated, uncertain, and perilous challenge. Since it is an extremely complex society with an opaque political system, it is no wonder that the United States has not yet figured out the puzzle that is Iran. With the clock ticking on Iran's pursuit of nuclear capabilities, solving this puzzle is more urgent than ever. In Which Path to Persia, a group of experts with the Saban Center for Middle East Policy at Brookings lays out the courses of action available to the United States. What are the benefits and drawbacks of airstrikes? Can engagement be successful? Is regime change possible? In answering such questions, the authors do not argue for one approach over another. Instead, they present the details of the policies so that readers can understand the complexity of the challenge and decide for themselves which course the United States should take. Historical Dictionary of Arab and Islamic Organizations Sarah Tenney, 2020-10-28. The Historical Dictionary of Arab and Islamic Organizations focuses on international and regional organizations primarily in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region. With more than 300 cross-referenced entries, this volume includes both major and minor organizations. While the emphasis is on intergovernmental institutions, it also covers non-governmental organizations, key countries, movements, and prominent figures in the Arab and Islamic world. Like other dictionaries of this type, it includes an introductory essay, chronology of major events, and a select bibliography for further reading. It provides a solid starting point for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about the subject. Annual Report Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, 2002. Teacher's Guide for Zari, Girl of Ancient Persia Alice Lockmiller, 2010-05-15. Checking Iran's Nuclear Ambitions Henry D. Sokolski, Patrick Clawson, Considering the latest Iranian nuclear developments one might question whether a study now on how best to restrain Tehran is simply one that's come too late To be sure estimates vary as to when Iran could build its first bomb Some believe Tehran could do it before the end of 2005 others think Iran would only be able to do so by the end of the decade In either case though the die seems cast If Iran wants it has all that it needs eventually to build a bomb on its own Certainly trying to deny Iran further nuclear technology in the hopes that this will prevent it from getting nuclear weapons is no longer a credible strategy The questions this edited volume addresses are whether or not any strategy can prevent Iran from going nuclear what the proper goals of such a strategy might be deterring use keeping Tehran from deploying weapons getting it to dismantle its nuclear program etc and what other nonproliferation goals ought to be attempted including trying to dissuade other nations from following Iran's example The answers this volume offers are 1 in the long run Iran will gain little from going nuclear and 2 much can be gained by enforcing the nonproliferation rules Iran agreed to and spelling out the costs to Iran of its continuing acquisition of nuclear weapons related capabilities
