Karls,Karin Evon Wandrei,1994 The person in environment PIE classification system allows social workers to classify and codify problems in social functioning With the PIE system clinicians can better understand clients who are experiencing difficulties with their roles self perceptions and expectations in their interactions with others and in the context of their environments      The Changing Face of Health Care Social Work Sophia F. Dziegielewski,2003-11-12 Full of practice oriented tips questions for further study select online resources and professional profiles in such diverse arenas as the emergency room home care case management and hospice      Mental Disorders in the Social Environment Stuart A. Kirk,2005 Social workers provide more mental health services than any other profession yet recent biomedical trends in psychiatry appear to minimize the importance of their traditional concerns which focus on the social environment that accompanies mental disorders and their treatment In twenty four chapters written by distinguished scholars this book not only calls attention to this emerging problem and challenges conventional mental health beliefs and practices but also raises provocative questions Has social work become too closely associated with psychiatry and too quick to adopt a medical approach Has the focus on the therapeutic relationship negated social work s commitment to social reform Is the social worker marginalized by the emphasis in mental health on biochemistry and psychopharmacology This book calls on social workers and other health care professionals to be more skeptical about diagnosis community treatment evidence based practice psychotherapy medications and managed care      Clinical Assessment and Diagnosis in Social Work Practice Jacqueline Corcoran,Joseph Walsh,2010-03-01 This revolutionary user friendly textbook not only guides social workers in developing competence in the DSM system of diagnosis it also assists them in staying attuned during client assessment to social work values and principles a focus on client strengths concern for the worth and dignity of individuals appreciation of environmental influences on behavior and commitment to evidence informed practice The authors seasoned practitioner scholars provide an in depth exploration of fourteen major mental disorders that social workers commonly see in practice including anxiety disorders depression bipolar disorder and schizophrenia They skillfully integrate several perspectives in order to help practitioners meet the challenges they will face in client assessment A risk and resilience framework helps social workers understand environmental influences on the emergence of mental disorders and the strengths that clients already possess Social workers will also learn to apply critical thinking to the DSM when it is inconsistent with social work values and principles Finally the authors catalog the latest evidence based assessment instruments and treatments for each disorder so that social workers can intervene efficiently and effectively using the best resources available Students and practitioners alike will appreciate the wealth of case examples evidence based assessment instruments treatment plans and new social diversity sections that make this an essential guide to the assessment and diagnostic processes in social work practice      Social Work Diagnosis in Contemporary Practice Francis J.

Turner,2005-02-10 The unifying theme of this broad reaching volume is that responsible ethical and effective social work practice rests on the diagnostic skills of the practitioner Social work diagnosis refers to the conscious formulation of an ongoing set of decisions about the client and his or her situation which serve as the basis for intervention decisions for which the practitioner must be prepared to take responsibility Diagnostic skill development is an ongoing process principally enhanced by a continuous commitment to remain at the cutting edge of the profession s body of knowledge but one of the challenges for today s practitioner is keeping abreast of the rapidly expanding body of knowledge contained in some 200 important social work periodicals in circulation Francis J Turner a preeminent clinical scholar brings together in one volume some of the best work published since 2000 each reflecting new insights into understanding psychosocial situations and innovative methods of applying knowledge and skills in an increasingly effective manner Each of the 78 articles in this volume highlights some of the critical dimensions of contemporary social work practice guiding clinicians to address four key aspects in order to craft an accurate diagnosis The first section presents articles covering the developmental spectrum each of which fully explains various ages and stages of development The second section focuses on a range of specific situations helping practitioners and students enrich their understanding of different types of problems they meet in contemporary practice whether they are based in mental illness psychosocial issues or physical ailments The third section addresses the crucial component of diversity demonstrating the complexity and critical importance of truly understanding clients and their lives The last section of the book discusses innovative approaches to practice selected to offer practitioners easy access to the latest interventions for a host of contemporary challenges facing clients and their therapists Broad in scope and tightly focused on the goal of providing the most up to date information necessary for accuracy in the diagnostic process this volume represents some of the best research available to today s social workers

Developing Practice Guidelines for Social Work Intervention Aaron Rosen,Enola K. Proctor,2003-11-26 This book bridges the gap between social work knowledge and empirically based practice Although there is a significant need for the use of empirically tested and verified knowledge in social work practice the empirical basis of support is nearly absent from practitioners considerations as they make clinical decisions in routine practice The authors advocate the development of readily available accessible and professionally sanctioned practice guidelines for use by practitioners a necessity in the age of managed care and demands for greater accountability effectiveness and efficiency in practice This book features a much needed discussion of racial and ethnic differentials in relation to practice guidelines and on the relationship between practice guidelines and different aspects of service delivery

The Social Work of Museums Lois H. Silverman,2009-12-04 Museums may not seem at first glance to be engaged in social work Yet Lois H Silverman brings together here relevant visitor studies trends in international practice and compelling examples that demonstrate how museums everywhere are using their unique resources to benefit human relationships and ultimately to repair the world In this groundbreaking book Silverman forges a framework of key social work perspectives to show how museums are evolving a needs based approach to provide what promises to be universal social service In partnership with social workers social agencies and clients museums are helping people cope and even thrive in circumstances ranging from personal challenges to social injustices The Social Work of Museums provides the first integrative survey of this emerging interdisciplinary practice and an essential foundation on which to build for the future The Social Work of Museums is not only a vital and visionary resource for museum training and practice in the 21st century but also an invaluable tool for social workers creative arts therapists and students seeking to broaden their horizons It will inspire and empower policymakers directors clinicians and evaluators alike to work together toward museums for the next age

Person-Environment Practice Susan P. Kemp, James K. Whittaker, Elizabeth M. Tracy, 2024-11-01 Person Environment Practice addresses a core but long neglected dimension in social work and human services practice accurate environmental assessment and strategic environmental intervention Despite the centrality of person environment as a key construct in direct practice the domain of environmental assessment intervention has received relatively little systematic attention in the practice literature For a variety of reasons the core focus of direct practice assessment and change strategies has centered more on person than environment This book seeks to redress that imbalance Ironically the relative lack of attention to environmentally oriented practice persists even as current demands of practice fall increasingly under the rubric of what we here call environmental intervention defined as both action in the environment and the process of transforming individual and collective perspectives through critical analysis of the impact of environmental conditions The authors argue that the ability to understand environment from the client's perspective and to function effectively in the environmental domain is central to many emergent areas of practice such as practice with extended families and personal networks practice from a strengths perspective and culturally competent practice In Person Environment Practice the authors offer a coherent critique and overview of environmental assessment and intervention congruent with the demands of both newly emerging and established interpersonal helping approaches within social work's domain Robert Halpern of the Erikson Institute for Advanced Studies in Child Development described the book as as clear thoughtful and subtle a discussion of how to consider the environment in interpersonal helping as I have seen in the literature and Anthony Maluccio of Boston College called the book a timely and exciting contribution with appreciation and respect for social work practices and qualities of inspiration as well as intellectual stimulation Susan P Kemp is assistant professor School of Social Work The University of Washington Seattle James K Whittaker is professor School of Social Work The University of Washington Seattle Elizabeth M Tracy is associate professor Mandel School of Applied Social Sciences Case Western Reserve University Cleveland Ohio
