Sockett,2004-01-14 For the last 100 years people have argued vigorously about a vast number of educational issues At the heart of the arguments lies the question What is the purpose of education This conflict of educational purpose has seen rifts between academics educators politicians and parents The authors of this book don t believe the conflicts need to be so hysterical nor that the oppositions are incompatible Rather that it is in the manner in which debate is conducted that is so damaging In this book the authors contend that there are political social moral and civic needs for a new stance to debate the way forward Examining a number of key controversies in educational discourse the book suggests ways in which controversies may be reconciled by looking for interrelations mutual dependencies and links of importance It develops current debate and provides suggestions for developing nurturing and supportive learning communities and so lead to educational change      Contemporary Second- and Third-Person Autobiographical Writing Christina

Schönberger-Stepien,2023-03-31 This book explores 21st century uses of the second and third person perspective in Anglophone autobiographical narratives by canonical male writers Through detailed readings of contemporary autobiographical works by Paul Auster Julian Barnes J M Coetzee and Salman Rushdie the study demonstrates the multiple aesthetic rhetorical and un ethical implications of the choice of narrative perspective as well as the uncommon step of articulating the self from a perspective which is not I Drawing on rhetorical narratology and autobiography theory the book engages with questions and tensions of subjectivity and relationality the interplay of distance and proximity resulting from the narrative perspective and its effects on the relationship between autobiographer text and reader In addition the book traces relevant guiding principles that the authors use to navigate their self narratives in relation to others such as questions of embodiment visuality grief ethics and politics Situating the narratives in their socio political and cultural context the book uncovers to what extent these autobiographical narratives reflect the authors position between self withdrawal and self promotion as well as their response to questions of male agency self stylisation and celebrity status Theology Explained

Mamontov's Private Opera Olga Haldey,2010-06-16 The Moscow Private Opera founded sponsored and directed by Savva Mamontov 1841-1918 was one of Russia's most important theatrical institutions at the dawn of the age of modernism. It presented the Moscow premieres of Lohengrin, La Bohème and Khovanshchina among others, launched the career of Feodor Chaliapin, gave Sergei Rachmaninov his first conducting job, employed Vasily Polenov, Victor Vasnetsov, Valentin Serov, Konstantin Korovin and Mikhail Vrubel as set designers and served as a model for Diaghilev's Ballets Russes. Part commercial enterprise, part experimental studio, Mamontov's company revolutionized opera directing and design and trained a generation of opera singers. Drawing on a wealth of unpublished primary sources and evidence from art and theater history, Olga Haldey paints a fascinating portrait of a railway tycoon turned artiste and his pioneering opera company.

Controversies and Subjectivity Pierluigi Barrotta, Marcelo Dascal, 2005-09-22 This collective volume focuses on two closely connected issues whose common denominator is the embattled notion of the subject. The first concerns the controversies on the nature of the subject and related notions such as the concepts of I and self. From both theoretical and historical viewpoints, several of the contributors show how different and incompatible perspectives on the subject can help us understand today's world, its habits, style, power relations and attitudes. For this purpose, use is made of insights in a broad range of disciplines such as sociology, psychoanalysis, pragmatics, intellectual history and anthropology. This interdisciplinary approach helps to clarify the multifaceted character of the subject and the role it plays nowadays as well as over the centuries. The second issue concerns the subject in interpersonal as well as in intrapersonal controversies. The enquiry here focuses on the ways in which different aspects of the subject and subjective differences affect the conduct, content and rationality of controversies with others as well as within oneself on a variety of topics. Among such aspects, the contributors analyse the subject's emotions, cognitive states, argumentative practices and individual and collective identity. The interaction between the two issues, the controversies on the subject and the subject of controversies, sheds new light on the debate on modernity and its alleged crisis.

South African Autobiography as Subjective History Lena Englund, 2021-09-14 This book examines 21st-century South African autobiographical writing that addresses the nation's socio-political realities both past and present. The texts in focus represent and depict a South Africa caught in the midst of contradictory and competing images of the Rainbow Nation. Arguing that recent memoirs question and criticize the illusion of a united nation, the study shows how these texts reveal the flaws and shortcomings not only of the apartheid past but of contemporary South Africa. It encompasses a broad range of autobiographical works largely published since 2009 that engage with South Africa's past, present and future. At its centre is the quest for space and belonging, and this book investigates who can comfortably belong in South Africa in its post-apartheid, post-Truth and Reconciliation, post-Mbeki and post-Zuma state.

British Autobiography in the Seventeenth Century Paul Delany, 2015-08-14 Originally published in 1969, in the seventeenth century neither the literary genre nor the term autobiography existed, but we see in seventeenth-century literature many kinds of autobiographical writings to which their authors gave such titles as Journal of the Life of Me, Confessions etc. This work is a study of nearly two hundred of these published and unpublished which together represent a very varied group of writings The book begins with an examination of the rise of autobiography as a genre during the Renaissance It discusses seventeenth century autobiographical writings under two main headings religious where the autobiographies are grouped according to the denomination of their writer and secular where a wide variety of writings is examined including accounts of travel and of military and political life as well as more personal accounts Autobiographies by women are treated separately and the author shows that they in general have a deeper revelation of sentiments and more subtle self analyses than is found in comparable works by men Sources and influences are recorded and also the essential historical details of each work This book gives a critical analysis of the autobiographies as literary works and suggests relationships between them and the culture and society of their time Review of the original publication a contribution to cultural history which is of quite exceptional merit Its subject is of great intrinsic interest and manifest importance and Professor Delany has treated it with exemplary thoroughness lucidity and intelligence Lionel Trilling The Military Memoir and Romantic Literary Culture, 1780-1835 Neil Ramsey, 2016-12-05 Examining the memoirs and autobiographies of British soldiers during the Romantic period Neil Ramsey explores the effect of these as cultural forms mediating warfare to the reading public during and immediately after the French Revolutionary and Napoleonic wars Forming a distinct and commercially successful genre that in turn inspired the military and nautical novels that flourished in the 1830s military memoirs profoundly shaped nineteenth century British culture's understanding of war as Romantic adventure establishing images of the nation's middle class soldier heroes that would be of enduring significance through the nineteenth and twentieth centuries As Ramsey shows the military memoir achieved widespread acclaim and commercial success among the reading public of the late Romantic era Ramsey assesses their influence in relation to Romantic culture's wider understanding of war writing autobiography and authorship and to the shifting relationships between the individual the soldier and the nation The memoirs Ramsey argues participated in a sentimental response to the period's wars by transforming earlier impersonal traditions of military memoirs into stories of the soldier's personal suffering While the focus on suffering established in part a lasting strand of anti war writing in memoirs by private soldiers such stories also helped to foster a sympathetic bond between the soldier and the civilian that played an important role in developing ideas of a national war and functioned as a central component in a national commemoration of war The Free Church magazine [ed. by W. M. H.]. W M H, 1851 Controversies in Equal Protection Cases in America Anne Richardson Oakes, 2016-03-03 This collection engages with current issues on equal protection in the USA as seen from the perspectives of leading academics in this area Contributors with a range of perspectives interrogate the legal theoretical and factual assumptions which shape case law and consider the extent to which they satisfactorily address contemporary concerns with social hierarchies and norms Divided into five parts the study focusses on the connections between equal protection jurisprudence discrimination in its contemporary manifestations the implications of identity politics and the moral and political conceptualizations of equality that represent the parameters of debate Drawing on historical analysis and disciplinary insights of the social sciences the book bridges the gap between theory and practice The themes presented and analyses developed are among some of the most contentious currently in America and will be of interest not just to lawyers and legal academics but also to inter disciplinary social science researchers including sociologists economists and political scientists

The Autobiographical Turn in Germanophone Documentary and Experimental Film Robin Curtis, Angelica Fenner, 2014 The essays in this volume examine the parameters shaping the audiovisual self in the Germanophone cultural context across a variety of practices and aesthetic modes from contemporary artists including Hito Steyerl Ming Wong and Kate Herron to Rolf Dieter Brinkmann's multimedia experiments of the 1970s and from Helke Misselwitz's challenges to the documentary tradition in the GDR to Peter Liechti's investigations of Swiss ambivalence toward the nation's iconic landscape The volume thus takes up a number of historically and geographically specific iterations of autobiographical discourse that in each case remain contingent on the space and time in which they are uttered
