Reporting Islam Media Representations And British Muslims:

Reporting Islam Elizabeth Poole, 2002-06-21 It is a widely held view that since the end of the Cold War attention has focused on Islam as a central force of disruption within a New World Order Nothing has heightened this more than the assault on the World Trade Center and Pentagon and the reporting of these events Reporting Islam is a timely contribution to this debate which looks at the ways in which Muslims are represented in the British news media Elizabeth Poole examines the claim that Muslims are universally demonized in the British press and comes to some illuminating conclusions Reporting Islam is of great value to students of media cultural studies Islamic studies and politics Islam in British media discourses Laurens de Rooij, 2020-05-09 Media reporting on Islam and Muslims commonly relate stories about terrorism violence or the lack of integration with western values and society Yet there is little research into how non Muslims engage with and are affected by these news reports Inspired by the overtly negative coverage of Islam and Muslims by the mainstream press and the increase in Islamophobia across Europe this book explores the influence of these depictions on the thoughts and actions of non Muslims Building on extensive fieldwork interviews and focus groups Laurens de Rooij argues that individuals negotiate media reports to fit their existing outlook on Islam and Muslims Non Muslim responses to these reports de Rooij argues are not only re productions of local and personal contextuality but are co dependent and co productive to the reports themselves British Muslims and Their Discourses Laurens de Rooij, 2023-12-28 This book highlights the changing dynamics of Muslim identity and integration in Britain focusing on the post 9 11 era Historically Muslims faced discrimination based on ethnicity rather than religion However contemporary discrimination against Muslims is rooted in different reasons with events like the Rushdie affair significantly impacting multicultural relations This study analyzes the evolving multicultural landscape in Britain exploring the shift from predominantly assimilationist policies to a more mutual process of integration It delves into the emergence of interfaith dialogue as well as the complexities surrounding the intersection of race religion gender and identity The research examines two key themes the discursive positioning of Islam beyond integration and terrorism narratives and the operationalization of identity by Muslims in various contexts The study employs empirical methods and cultural studies theories to understand how individual and social practices intersect in this context By doing so it contributes to Islamic studies socio political studies and cultural studies shedding light on the discourses that shape and are shaped by Muslim lives in Britain The analysis encompasses diverse perspectives from macro level societal discourses to micro level individual actions thus providing a comprehensive exploration of the multifaceted experiences of Muslims in Britain Leadership, Authority and Representation in British Muslim Communities

Sophie Gilliat-Ray, Riyaz Timol, 2021-01-26 The contributions explore Muslim religious leadership in multiple forms and settings While traditional authority is usually correlated with theology and piety as in the case of classically trained ulema the public advocacy of Muslim community concerns is often headed by those with professionalized skillsets and civic experience In an increasingly digital world both women and men exercise leadership in novel ways and sites of authority are refracted from traditional loci such as mosques and seminaries to new and unexpected places This collection provides systematic focus on a topic that has hitherto been given rather diffuse consideration It complements historical work on community leadership as well as more contemporary discussion on the training and role of Islamic religious authorities It will be of interest to scholars in Religious Studies Sociology Political Science History and Islamic Studies

Muslims in the Bulgarian and the British Press Desislava Cheshmedzhieva-Stoycheva,2024-09-28 This book compares the ways in which the national media in two different countries construct frame and develop the image of the religious other in this case Muslims in all their variety Although it introduces concepts such as race and racism otherness Orientalism and Islamophobia which may be familiar to the majority of readers in this manuscript they serve the purpose of a comparative analysis which has not been done on the subject to date The manuscript analyzes the thematic distribution of the articles as well as the definitions metaphors and stereotypes used thus presenting a complete and diverse image of Muslims along with the similarities and differences in the thinking patterns employed by Bulgarians and British on the subject and expressed in the respective mainstream media In this respect the manuscript fills a void in the scholarly literature on the ways the media discourses in two very different countries present the image of a religious group Here we can even talk about the existing divide between East and West and the changing perception of the religious Other fostered by the general digitalization and free flow of information As English is an international language it undeniably makes access to information easier however there are not many culture specific studies presenting the current state of a problem or the analyses on that particular topic the image of Muslims in that international medium Therefore the manuscript aims at introducing English speaking scholars students media people and generally everyone interested in the topic to the Bulgarian way of seeing depicting and talking about Muslims As stated above the manuscript draws parallels between the language used by the Bulgarian and the British media thus providing a similar starting point as the majority of the potential readers are probably more familiar with the latter In addition scholars working extensively with other local cultures and or media and resorting to English as a medium for the popularization of their research can use the presented analytical frame to their specific analyses and contribute even further to the enrichment of the global data base on the topic
