Reporting The Campaign Election Coverage In Canada:

Media And Voters In Canadian Election Campaigns Frederick J. Fletcher,1991-01-01 Taken together the five studies provide a useful overview of the effectiveness of various forms of campaign communication in informing voters Much of the material presented here is not readily available elsewhere Media, Elections, And Democracy: Royal Commission on Electoral Reform Frederick J. Fletcher,1991-01-01 Media Elections and Democracy examines campaign communication in selected industrial democracies Klaus Schoenbach Karen Siune Doris Graber and a host of authors around the world contribute critical overviews of the systems in their countries The studies deal with a wide range of issues in modern communication including the principles and practices of news and public affairs coverage and the impact of new technologies

Interest Groups and Elections in Canada F. Leslie Seidle, 1991-01-01 The two studies in this book explore the nature and influence of special interest groups They consider different aspects of the question In the context of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms how can the laws intended to secure a fair electoral process be reconciled with freedom of expression Reporting the Campaign Frederick J. Fletcher, Canada. Royal Commission on Electoral Reform and Party Financing, 1991 The objective of the research program was to provide Commissioners with a full account of the factors that have shaped the electoral democracy This document presents discussions on the following topics journalistic practice in covering federal election campaigns in Canada relations between political parties and the media in Ouebec election campaigns free to be responsible the accountability of the print media smaller voices minor parties campaign communication and the news media and the mass media and the reproduction of marginalization Aboriginal Peoples and Electoral Reform in Canada Robert A. Milen, 1991-01-01 This volume features differing views of past present and possible future roles for Aboriginal people in the Canadian political and electoral system The studies address the issues facing Aboriginal people and the efforts to increase their involvement in the federal electoral system Robert Milen examines the development of Aboriginal political consciousness since the 1970s with attention to recent constitutional and electoral initiatives and aspirations Augie Fleras study considers the New Zealand system of guaranteed representation for the Maori and suggests how Canada might follow this example Valerie Alia studies how the media deal with Aboriginal issues basing her recommendations on interviews with Aboriginal people who offered her their views Roger Gibbins critiques the idea of in Canadian Elections Anthony Sayers, 2011-11-01 Political scientists have traditionally examined the democratic process at the macro level With its unique micro level focus Parties Candidates and Constituency Campaigns in Canadian Elections provides the first systematic analysis of the local constituency campaigns that are the basis of elections and democracy in Canada By taking a detailed look at campaigns in seven B C ridings during the 1988 free trade election the last under the old three party system Anthony Sayers develops a typology of candidates and campaigns The dynamics of local associations nominations and campaigns including those of former prime minister Kim Campbell and New Democrat Svend Robinson as well as key strategic events and the role of the media are reconstructed from interviews with candidates campaign managers party strategists volunteers and journalists The 1993 and 1997 elections are then invoked to show that the insights drawn about the nature of constituency politics remain relevant to the new party system This important contribution to the study of Canadian elections forcefully argues that knowledge of the dynamics at the local level is essential to a full understanding of Canadian polity its underlying social basis and the factors that determine successful election campaigns As such Parties Candidates and Constituency Campaigns in Canadian Elections will intrigue not only political scientists and students of Canadian politics but also election candidates and party strategists Election Broadcasting In Canada Frederick J. Fletcher, 1991-01-01 Election Broadcasting in Canada explores the role of media in Canadian politics David R Spencer David Hogarth Catherine M Bolan and others look at the history legal framework and difficulties in election broadcasting as well as the impact of new broadcasting services Ethno-Cultural Groups and Visible Minorities in Canadian Politics Kathy Megyery, 1996-08-08 The studies in this volume examine the nature and extent of their participation in Canadian politics in both political parties and the House of Commons While these groups feel marginalized they believe strongly in the objectives of democracy and want to participate in a Canada that realizes those ideals more successfully Women in Canadian Politics Kathy Megyery, 1991-01-01 The studies in this volume examine women's involvement in political parties both past and Comparative Issues in Party and Election Finance F. Leslie Seidle, 1991-01-01 This book is one of 23 present volumes of research commissioned by the Royal Commission on Electoral Reform and Party Financing and one of five volumes within this series dealing specifically with party and election finance Because the issue of money in elections is as old as democracy the experience of other countries is instructive The studies in this volume offer Canadians information about approaches to funding political parties and elections in the United States and Western Europe The studies by Herbert Alexander and Robert Mutch exmaine how the United States has approached issues such as contribution limits and the disclosure of election finances The latter study provides explicit comparisons to Canada noting the constitutional roleof the Supreme Court in each country Jane Jenson draws on Western European experience to propose and assess reforms for the public funding for party foundations is documented by Michael Pinto Duschinsky The studies approach theirm aterial from a historical perspective noting the uniqueness of the constitutions institutions and traditions of the countries reviewed The authors provide background essential to any consideration of whether foreign experience might serve as a model for Canada

Do Conventions Matter? John Childs Courtney,1995 National leadership conventions in Canada attract widespread public interest but with growing support for direct democracy and universal voting they may soon become a thing of the past In Do Conventions Matter John Courtney a leading authority in the field explores the party leadership selection process in Canada in an age of television dominated politics and assesses its uncertain future Youth in Canadian Politics Kathy Megyery, 2013-12-30 The studies in this volume uncover a wide range of opinion about young people and their involvement in The Handbook of Election News Coverage Around the World Jesper Strömbäck, Lynda Lee Kaid, 2009-09-10 politics The Handbook of Election Coverage Around the World focuses on the news coverage of national elections in democracies around the globe It brings together and compares election news coverage within a single framework offering a systematic consideration of various factors Considering the prominence and power of the press in the election process this volume will offer unique breadth in its global consideration of the topic The volume will appeal to scholars in political communication political science mass media and society and others studying elections and media coverage around the world Reporting the Campaign Canada.
